

Virginity 701

Chapter 701: Do you feel sorry for him?

She did not know how much she had slept, and the magical sound of Alice Fanelli's curse in her dreams still rang in her ears and disturbed her mind.

Serena quickly opened her eyes and found that it was already morning, and even the heat behind her had disappeared.

Now she was alone in bed.

Her heart was pounding and a cold sweat broke out on her forehead.

Serena blinked and sat up abruptly, staring at the blue seascape outside the plaid window, Serena's eyelids began to twitch again. Unconsciously she reached out her hand to put pressure on the still trembling eyelids, but such action could not stop the eyelids from their trembling. Serena could even feel the eyelid still twitching under the pressure of her index finger.

Why was this happening?

"Was something bad going to happen? The wedding was only a few days away. If something had happened now, would she and Cristian? Would they have taken a road of no return?" She kept brooding in her mind."

No!

Not wanting that, Serena got up and went to get her cell phone.

Sure enough, she saw that Cristian had sent her a text message saying he had left for the airport,

Serena looked at the time. Before her plane took off, she thought about it for a moment and texted him.

Then she called Matteo directly.

Matteo was preparing for a meeting at the company when he received Serena's call.

-What's going on?

-Brother...|| Serena's voice was very strange, she reached out a hand to pinch her aching temples, -

There is something I want to tell you, if I don't tell you, I will always feel uncomfortable."

Matthew noticed the confusion in her tone, just then Clare entered, -Mr. Giordano, down in the conference room...."

Before she could finish speaking, Matteo raised his hand to indicate that he was busy.

Chiara had to be silent, then saw Matteo walk to the French door and said sternly, -What makes you uncomfortable? Are you going to celebrate the wedding? Did it make you feel bad? You don't want to marry him anymore?

Serena. No, it's something else...

-Matteo half-closed his lips and watched the cars come and go under the windows, waiting calmly for her answer.

Then finally Serena slowly told Matteo about seeing Alice and what had happened that day ago; at first she had intended to keep it a secret.

-I thought...she was not capable of stirring up controversy with her current power, but...my eyelids won't stop twitching, I feel uncomfortable, brother....

-So, do you want me to help you?

Although a little embarrassed, Serena nodded her head, "I'm sorry, brother, I know I shouldn't bother you, but--"

-But did you realize that he was too busy and tired for marriage recently, and you feel bad for him?

What he was saying was simple and direct, and she could only nod her head and silently admit it.

Then, she heard Matteo sigh deeply.

-Am I really afraid that if you marry this man the rest of your life will be ruined, Serena? Do you know that you shouldn't let a man do whatever he wants? If he wants to be tired for you, let him be, when he gets used to all this, in the future, he will not complain about what he does. Besides, for a person, the things that are hardest to get when you have them are more valuable, you ...-

-Brother, I know what you mean," Serena interrupted him, "but the relationship is a matter of two people, and the one-sided relationship will not last long. Besides, he and I are going to get married very soon, and I don't want anything unexpected happen before the wedding, so I want you to help me with that.

Suddenly, there was no answer on the other end of the phone. Serena did not know if Matteo was willing to agree to help her, but she waited for his answer in silence. After a while, she finally heard Matteo sigh and say, "Okay, I will help you in this matter, what you need to think about is getting married in peace.

Hearing that he was determined to help her, Serena's worries finally melted away and she was thrilled and happy -Thank you brother.

-You fool, it took me a lot of effort to find you. If you will not be happy, then I, as your brother. I won't really have the dignity to see my mother.

After Matthew promised to settle Alice's affairs for her, Serena felt her heart calm down a lot, but still she did not abandon her previous plan. There was still more than an hour before Cristian's flight was scheduled to take off, so without a second thought she simply packed some clothes and then called her driver to take her to the airport.

As she boarded the bus, Serena pulled out her cell phone to book her plane ticket. Later, Serena could not help but twitch her lips. Fortunately, there was still a seat on this flight.

"Cristian, I'm coming!" she screamed in her mind.

Whatever happened, she would be by Cristian's side abroad, and it was possible that she would be relieved until the end of the marriage.

When Serena arrived at the airport, the driver looked at her with confusion.

-My lady, about your arrival at the airport? Didn't you tell Mr. Ferrari?

Serena shook her head, -Don't tell him, I don't want him to find out.

If Cristian knew, could he still stop us? She wanted to go secretly and then call Cristian when he arrived.

Seeing that the driver hesitated to speak, Serena said only a few words and then walked toward the terminal with her bag over her shoulder.

She had left suddenly this time, so she had brought only two changes of clothes, some cream and some lipstick, and had gone directly to get her ticket from the car.

Because it was the same flight Cristian was taking, but she knew that Cristian must have gone through the VIP corridor, so she went directly to the checkpoint like everyone else, and when she got there, they had already started checking in. So Serena got in line directly to have her ticket checked and then boarded. When she sat in her seat and heard the stewardess' gentle call, Serena had an unreal feeling.

She had actually boarded the plane.

Cristian, she was in business class, wasn't she? She thought that when she got off the plane, she would go straight to him, and when he saw her, she didn't know how he would react.

Would he be surprised, would he be happy? But ... the most likely thing would have been shock.

Serena couldn't help but laugh at the thought of Cristian's expression at that moment, but he looked a little sleepy, so to get a good night's sleep she had to wait for everyone to sit down.

After the crowd sat down, Serena thought she was about to take off. But unexpectedly, there was an exclamation from the front of the crowd. Before Serena realized what was happening, she saw a tall figure walking toward this side.

With one glance, Serena's face moved.

Hadn't it been the same Cristian?

Why was he here in economy class? After being stunned for a few seconds, Serena unconsciously lowered her shoulders and then reached out to lower her hat a little. At this point, the plane had not yet taken off, and Cristian had suddenly arrived here, was he about to kick her off the plane?

Thinking about this, Serena shuddered even more, because she did not want to be discovered by this man, but she was already ready to look for him when she got off the plane.

Chapter 702: She continued to joke.

How she wished the earth had swallowed her at that moment.

Now she didn't dare make a big noise, just sat there with her hat down, trying to make sure no one noticed her.

She did not know why the man sitting next to her had suddenly stood up, Serena did not know what had happened, but soon it seemed that the man had returned and sat down again, and Serena felt relieved.

Because she kept her head down, she did not know what had happened, but she guessed that Cristian must have walked past him, so Serena quietly raised her head to observe what was happening now.

Unexpectedly, she met a pair of deep, dark eyes that were full of coldness.

Staring into each other's eyes.

There was silence...

Serena's pupils dilated a little, and then she reacted, gently lowered her head and continued to curl up in that corner as if she had seen nothing at that moment.

Cristian, who was sitting next to her, saw this scene and could not help but scoff.

-You dare to get on the plane, but you dare not look at me?

His voice was so high-pitched it was frightening, Serena bit her lower lip and slowly raised her head again.

-I told you I would go with you, but you didn't agree, so I had to...come alone. I had to go alone.

Cristian turned up the corners of his mouth and sneered, -Did you sneak onto the plane and get the bright idea to buy economy class?

The gazes of the people around them turned toward them, as if someone had recognized that this couple was the protagonist at the entrance of the North City subway and the rotating billboards on top of the city screen these days, and some people even took out their cell phones to sneak a few photos of them.

Seeing this scene, Serena's face changed slightly, and she quickly lowered her head and then plunged into Cristian's arms.

She suddenly threw herself into his arms, which stunned Cristian, but he immediately saw out of the corner of his eye the cell phone camera next to him.

Cristian narrowed his eyes and looked at the person sternly.

Her aura was strong, and the look in her eyes was full of hostility, so this girl was frightened in an instant, and the phone fell, she was panicked, lowered her head to find the phone.

Cristian turned his head, looked at the little woman hiding in his arms and could not help but want to mock her.

-You weren't afraid when you snuck out, now you're afraid?

Serena did not look up, but asked in a low voice, -Are they still taking pictures of us?

-Will you raise your head and find out?

Serena silently raised her head to look at the girl and found that she was bending over to look for her cell phone, so she covered her chest with her hands and was relieved.

Then she looked at Cristian with a pale face, "Anyway, I'm already here, aren't you going to throw me out of the plane?"

-That would be a good idea.

After speaking, Cristian squeezed Serena's thin white wrist, and she surprised, opened her eyes and tried to pull her hand away.

-Because you weren't afraid when you threatened me a moment ago,|| Cristian approached her with piercing eyes, and the aura that lingered around him grew stronger.

Serena bit her lower lip and simply closed her eyes.

-Well, you can throw me out of the plane. If you're happy to take me out of here and you don't want me to go abroad with you, then we won't go together.

With her stubborn attitude, Serena thought that if Cristian let her off the plane, she would cling to his hands and not let her back on the plane, and neither of them would go abroad.

But after waiting a while, she found that there seemed to be no movement.

Serena opened her eyes again and saw that Cristian's dark black eyes were filled with helplessness, he was still clutching her wrist with one hand but this relieved her strength greatly.

Cristian sighed deeply when he saw her capricious attitude.

-Why are you suddenly acting like a child? Recently ... with more and more stupidity.

When Cristian said this, Serena remembered her recent behavior, as if ... she really was

Not only had she become wayward, but she was also lazy, just wanting to sleep every day and not even wanting to work anymore.

What had happened to her?

Could it be-she was so lazy because she was with Cristian and felt that Cristian could support her?

Thinking about this, Serena suddenly felt sick; she did not want to live so lazily.

In front of Cristian, she naturally wanted to deny this truth, so she withdrew her hand and said through clenched teeth, "What nonsense? I only care about you, that's why I want to go with you. You always disagree, of course it's an airplane trip, but you didn't let me come with you, who is doing the stupid things?"

After speaking, Serena simply turned her head and looked out the window, no longer looking at Cristian.

-All right, stop making trouble, do you know how worried I am about you? If you want, I'll take you with me, but you won't be able to do what you want after you arrive.

Did he agree to that? Serena looked at Cristian suspiciously before nodding her head, "All right, agreed."

The two had reached an agreement in this way. Serena didn't really want to go abroad with him for fun, she just felt her eyelids throbbing and worried about Cristian, so she wanted to stay by his side so she could see him safely every day, she didn't feel safe before the wedding.

It was not long before Serena fell asleep . As she slept on the seat, her head was tilted awkwardly to one side, and Cristian had to pick her up and rest her on his shoulder.

When they arrived, it was the middle of the night.

Cristian woke her up, Serena moved forward leaning against his body, then got into the car to drive to the residence. She had slept the whole way, and Cristian had taken her to the room himself.

Serena slept during that long drive, when her head touched the soft pillow, she unconsciously reached out to hug the blanket and then fell asleep again.

Cristian wanted to wake her up to take a shower, but he did not, looking at Serena in front of him, he always felt strange.

Recently... She seemed to be very sleepy.

Had she slept on the plane, in the car, and had she continued sleeping when they returned to the residence?

But then Cristian did not think much about it believing that she was worried about him and therefore had not slept well.

Serena had a nightmare again. When she woke up, her heartbeat and eyelids were blinking fiercely, and she unconsciously reached out her hand to touch the side of the bed, but there was nothing there.

So she had to get up, she found that she was already in unfamiliar surroundings. Serena remembered what had happened last night and knew that this was the place where Cristian had taken her.

The phone vibrated and then Serena pulled out her phone, just then she saw the video call Anna was making to her.

She answered with her hair in disarray.

-Damn it, Serena... Where did you go? Where did you go? Why did they bring Manuel home so early this morning?

Chapter 703: Are you pregnant?

Serena was speechless.

Manuel had lived with her at the Atlantic mansion during this time. Yesterday, Serena had taken the chance that he was at school, and she had rushed straight to the airport to meet Cristian.

Had she not expected that this Cristian had sent Anna to pick up Manuel?

-Well, I am abroad now and I entrust you with Manuel's care.

-No, I was told to pack and go to the airport with Manuel.

Serena did not know what was happening now.

Anna, who was on the other side of the video, looked up angrily at her, -With that face, have you become more stupid recently?

Serena was very confused, which was scolded by her, -...-....

-If not, why didn't you guess that Manuel and I pack up and go abroad right away? All because you went abroad early. Your wedding date is approaching, the man of your house is worried that you will be bored, so he sent me to finish the job by bringing Manuel to accompany you.

-I understand.

-What happened to you? Have you gotten dumber, because your face is always sleepy? And you've gained a lot of weight.

"Those words kept ringing in her ears.

Unconsciously Serena reached out her hand and touched her face. Had she gained weight?

She felt that she was getting hungrier and hungrier, and that she should have put on a few pounds, but ... How much?

-My God, you are so much fatter than before, don't you still have your wedding dress? If you can't wear it when you try it on, what are you going to do ...

-Let's not talk about it, I'll get my things ready, I'll be there tonight, wait for me!

Soon Anna hung up the phone.

But Cristian did not return for the whole day, and a servant came to greet Serena so that she would come down to eat when it was dinner time. In the evening she still had not seen Manuel and Anna, and Serena, tired of waiting for them and fell asleep.

The next day she received two messages.

One was that Manuel and Anna had arrived, and the other was that the custom-made dress had also arrived.

So the first thing Anna had to do was to take her to try on the wedding dress. Manuel wanted to talk to Serena, so he didn't even get a chance to hug and kiss her.

The style of the wedding dress was very exquisite. It looked very beautiful before she put it on. Anna anxiously wanted her to try it on, Serena was also looking forward to that moment, even though she had worn the wedding dress once five years ago.

But that time ... it was a wedding that made no sense to her.

She had not even paid attention to the appearance of the wedding dress. As for the wedding to Francesco Rossi, she had not even had the chance to wear the wedding dress. At the time of the wedding, she was wearing a Chinese wedding dress.

The moment Serena tried it on, she was stunned to discover that the zipper at the back of the dress could not be closed.

This was a little embarrassing.

Was it true that she had gained a lot of weight? Was the previously measured size no longer needed?

-What can you do if you can't zipper your wedding dress? -Anna said to the sales clerk next to her.

-The sales clerk who had brought the wedding dress was stunned for a moment, and then came over to help her. After a long time trying wearily and sweating profusely, they ended up failing in vain.

Anna was speechless-how much have you eaten recently to put on weight like that? It's not that I want to laugh at you, but you told me before that you are very good at maintaining your figure. Because you plan to have a wedding but you don't know how to control yourself. Do you only know how to eat and sleep every day, like a pregnant woman?

The instant she said it involuntarily, they were both stunned.

Serena stood there in silence, and Anna also looked at her confused. After a while, her lips opened slightly: -Are you really...?

"Are you pregnant?" what she said rang in his ears.

He didn't finish the last sentence, but they both seemed to have it clear in their minds.

Serena, too, felt her eyelids twitch.

Was she pregnant?

Based on the recent situation, it seemed that ... she might actually be pregnant, otherwise how could she want to sleep as well as eat? A while ago, smelling food at home that was very greasy she wanted to vomit ...

Thinking about this, Serena's face became strange, -I ... don't know very well.

-How long had she been missing her period?

When she had mentioned menstruation, Serena's expression had really changed.

-Are you really pregnant?

The three sales clerks beside her could not help but speak: -Congratulations, Mrs. Ferrari, pregnancy is good news!

A long silence later, Serena solemnly asked them, -What am I going to do with the wedding dress? I've put on a lot of weight and I can't zipper it up.

Her words finally made her realize the thorny problems they were facing. One of them immediately said, "I'll call the designer right away."

So she went to call, Anna took Serena's hand and they sat down.

-You're really negligent, no wonder you've become more stupid, but I didn't expect it to turn out that you were pregnant? But are you angry about the pregnancy? I can't imagine you didn't know you were pregnant, because I remember you had been pregnant once before.

Serena's face became ugly because this time she didn't realize she was pregnant. Even though the wedding was about to take place, it seemed that she no longer wanted to have a second child. The love she had given Manuel was not enough, but now she was to give birth to another one....

Would Manuel have felt bad knowing this?

The more she thought about it, the sadder Serena's mood became and she lowered her gaze.

-What's wrong with you, pregnancy is good news, why are you frowning?

Serena raised her head with her eyes full of hesitation, -I don't know if Manuel will accept it.... I'm pregnant all of a sudden, how will I be able to explain it to him?

-Manuel? Anna responded, "Are you worried that Manuel won't accept that I have a younger brother?"

Serena nodded her head.

After all, it had been five years, and she had always had Manuel as an only child, and all of a sudden he would have a younger brother or sister, surely he would not be used to that. Moreover, Manuel had always been a caring and obedient child. He worried that Manuel would not express unhappiness when he was with her, but that she would feel sad in her heart.

This was what worried Serena most.

She hoped that her son might be just like other children, crying, throwing tantrums, and occasionally being rebellious, instead of being so well-behaved that she often ignored him.

-To tell the truth. Manuel is very lonely on his own. If he were to give birth to a younger brother or sister,

I think he would be very happy. After all, he is only five years old now ... If another five years had passed, he might have had a different idea.

The two were talking, and the sales clerk came up to them and said that the design of the wedding dress could be adjusted even if she was pregnant, Serena and Anna were a little surprised.

Could it be adjusted? She was a designer, why hadn't she noticed this problem when she tried it on?

-What does that mean?

-Miss Giordano, as our designer told us, she is also a designer and can solve this problem by looking at life.

Chapter 704: It will be bad luck to see blood.

Hearing her words, Serena checked the wedding dress. After looking at it for a while, she had finally found her beautiful material and could not stop laughing.

-How excellent your designer is! -Please thank him on my behalf, because he helped me a lot with this design.

-You are most welcome, Mrs. Serena,|| said the sales clerk. Her satisfaction is the greatest thanks to us.

After a brief conversation, they left the wedding dress and then the staff left.

Serena had a feeling that she was pregnant, but she could not yet be sure because she had not gone to the hospital for a formal checkup. The wedding day was approaching, so she decided to wait until the wedding was over before going for a checkup.

Within a few days, the wedding venue had been prepared.

-The day after tomorrow is your wedding day, are you nervous? -said Anna kneeling on the bed and rubbing her hands nervously.

-Why are you so nervous,|| Serena asked, -It's my wedding, not yours.

-Because your brother is coming to the wedding the day after tomorrow, and I'm your maid of honor,||

Anna smiled awkwardly and said, -He will definitely see me. I'm so nervous and want to dress well, but I'm afraid I'm prettier than you. What should I do, dear?

-So you are nervous for your own business now.

Then Anna realized that her words had been a little insulting.

-Well, you're going to marry your beloved soon, and I don't have a man to love me yet, so...|| she replied embarrassed.

-So, you wanted to steal my thunder? - Serena asked.

-No! I know the maid of honor can't dress too well, because it's like a supporting role, highlighting the bride's beauty. So never mind, I won't use makeup.

-Ok, I understand that you like Matteo so much. You need to be more confident, I'll ask my makeup artist to help you do your makeup, so pick a nice bridesmaid costume!

-Really? -Anna asked. She was so moved when she had heard Serena's words that she hugged her tightly.

-Serena, I am very grateful to you,|| she continued. Don't worry, I will definitely do my best to make your brother fall in love with me! If I become your sister-in-law, I will treat you very well.

After hearing what he had said, Serena could not help but joke.

You mean if you are not my sister-in-law now, you won't treat me well?

Anna murmured under her breath, not knowing what to say, so she could only wipe her tears with her hands.

-It's okay, don't worry, it's just a joke,|| Serena saw her like this and said, -Don't cry, go pack your things!

The wedding day was approaching, the local custom was that the bride and groom could not meet the day before the wedding. Cristian was due home at that time, and Serena wanted to go with him after finding out, but Matthew stopped her.

-You're getting married, you can't see each other," Matteo told her, "Tomorrow is your wedding day, then you'll see him.

-But can he make it in time? It's a long plane ride.

-He has arranged everything, why don't you believe in his ability to get things done?

What Matthew had said was right. Cristian had put in order what he needed to do recently, but he was responsible for everything himself and did not want Serena to feel tired.

In fact, Serena knew why Cristian wanted to personally organize a big wedding, probably because he felt embarrassed and did not want to be indebted to Serena.

Matteo was very happy with Cristian's gesture, he thought Cristian would rely on others to do the wedding, but he had found out that he was able to organize the wedding himself. This had surprised Matteo.

-Serena, take a break! -You will be very tired at the wedding tomorrow.

-Good," Serena replied.

That night, Serena fell asleep quickly, but Anna, who was by her side, had insomnia. She was worried about disturbing Serena's rest, so she hugged her pillow and went to sleep on the sofa.

Anna did not fall asleep until the wee hours of the morning, and it was not long before there was a knock at the door, she remembered that the bride had to do her makeup and get dressed. Anna immediately got up and then woke up Serena.

When Serena saw that Anna had dark circles under her eyes, she was surprised.

-What's wrong with you? -Serena asked, -Your dark circles are so dark, can you still be beautiful?

Anna was very depressed, she was like an ostrich, she only wanted to run away when something happened.

-Last night she was very nervous and I had insomnia. Maybe it was because I was going to see your brother today.

After saying these words, Anna looked at Serena with envy.

-I think it's great to be pregnant, you sleep really well the day before the wedding," she continued.

Serena did not know what to say. She immediately got up, washed and brushed her teeth. At that moment, she saw a message Cristian had sent her at midnight on his cell phone. He had said that he was already at the airport and would definitely give her a luxurious and grand wedding.

Serena smiled slightly when she saw Cristian's message and then put the phone away.

The stylist was behind her and saw the message Cristian had sent her.

-I really envy you, you will have a happy life after marrying him," she told Serena, Serena felt very shy.

Before doing her makeup, Anna gave Serena something to eat, and she ate some, then she called Cristian Ferrari.

But Serena discovered that Cristian's cell phone was disconnected.

Serena guessed that maybe he was on the plane. She checked his flight information, and the information showed that he would arrive in an hour.

As Serena was about to go to the bathroom, she accidentally touched the glass of water on the table.

-Bang!

The glass fell to the floor and a shard cut a wound in Serena's leg.

The stylist shouted, -Ah, Miss Serena, your feet are bleeding.

-What's wrong with you? -Anna asked.

After hearing the sound of glass falling on the floor and the stylist's shout, Anna immediately ran to Serena and saw a scar on Serena's foot and blood appearing.

-What should we do? -The assistant stylist behind Anna muttered, -Today is her wedding day. It will be bad luck to see the blood."

Anna got a little angry when she heard the assistant's words and looked at Serena.

She noticed that Serena's face and lips had turned pale.

-This is nonsense! -Anna turned her head and looked at her assistant, then immediately approached Serena and said, -Serena, are you okay? Let me take a look at your wound.

The stylist suddenly realized that the assistant had said something rude, immediately looked at the assistant and said, "You are talking nonsense. Hurry up and sweep up these shards of glass."

Serena continued to stand, staring at the broken glass, her eyelids still flickering.

Chapter 705: Why do you have dark circles under your eyes?

Does it hurt to see blood?

Serena didn't believe it before. She had only seen it on television. At the time, she thought it was superstition.

But now she was very worried because her feet were bleeding.

At first she was in a bad mood, but after seeing the glass cut her feet, and then hearing the word bad luck from the attendant, her heart seemed to have stopped, she was very uncomfortable.

This sense...

Anna approached Serena to look at her wound.

Suddenly she was worried about Cristian Ferrari, she was planning to call his cell phone number like crazy.

Her eyelids were still flickering and her heart was beating very fast.

-Don't worry,|| Anna said, -what the assistant said was a joke, don't take it seriously.

Even the assistant realized her mistake; she knew better than to say the word bad luck, especially on this fine day.

He immediately approached Serena and said, "I'm sorry, Miss Serena. Please don't take my words seriously, I'm just talking nonsense.

The stylist also echoed the assistant's words, saying, "Miss Serena, only old people believe in these superstitions. Today is a good day and the wedding is approaching. Don't worry anymore, sit down and let's continue with the makeup.

-Serena, don't worry," Anna persuaded her.

Serena felt very anxious because she could not call her cell phone. But when she saw that others cared so much about her, she felt that she treated small things as if they were big things.

Cristian was still on the plane at the time and it was normal that his cell phone could not make calls before the flight.

Serena looked at the wound on her foot and remembered what the assistant had said. She felt that she had become sensitive because she was pregnant.

To calm herself, she took a deep breath and said, "Don't worry about me, I'm going to the bathroom.

Serena quieted her emotions in the bathroom. When she returned, she found that everyone was looking at her with concern, so she smiled and said, "Don't worry, they can continue to put makeup on me!

Anna came to her side and looked anxiously at her. She asked, "Are you okay?"

Serena replied, "The wedding is coming up. Let's continue."

Because of what had just happened, the atmosphere had become very solemn and the stylist had become more attentive.

And the assistant was afraid to speak because at that moment he had said unpleasant things, just like the others.

Serena became silent and did not continue to sleep.

When everything was ready, family and friends showed up because it was time for the wedding.

The wedding venue was half an hour away, including the shooting time, so the wedding would take place after half an hour.

But before the wedding, the groom would come out to meet his bride with the groom's groomsmen, and the parents of both parties would also show up.

Cristian's parents were dead and Serena's only relative was her brother. So the wedding was very simple: the groom would take the bride directly.

Matteo checked Cristian Ferrari's flight, closed his lips slightly and said, "You should run directly after getting off the plane, because it is very close to here the airport."

Serena had finished putting on her makeup and getting dressed. She was sitting on the wedding bed with flowers in her hand, waiting for Cristian Ferrari.

At the same time, Anna had already done her makeup, put on her bridesmaid dress, and sat next to Serena. At that moment Matteo entered. Because he knew that she had deep dark circles under her eyes, Anna did not dare to look at him.

She wanted to use her best state to face the man she liked. But in fact she had had insomnia the day before, and even the makeup artist had failed to cover her dark circles.

Or maybe because of the insomnia her skin was not good, anyway, she was not satisfied with her current appearance.

Anna could only sit next to Serena, lowering her head to listen to the words of the person she liked.

Serena nodded her head, indicating that she knew.

Matteo looked at her for a moment and saw that she had lost interest. She did not look happy to be a girlfriend.

Suddenly he saw that Anna was there.

Anna also knew that Matteo was looking at her, so she looked at him cautiously. Matteo was really looking at her.

Anna was very nervous. She lowered her head and her heart pounded. She did not know what to do.

She thought to herself, "Is Matteo looking at me? Why, has he found out that I have dark circles under my eyes?"

Anna still did not know why Matteo was suddenly looking at her, so he looked at her again.

At this point, Matteo finally waited for her to look at him, took the opportunity and signaled Anna to come out.

Anna was startled, looked at him with her mouth open and then pointed her index finger at herself in confusion.

Matthew nodded and then walked out.

-Serena, wait for me, I'll be out for a while,|| Anna said, leaned over and whispered to her. She nodded, then Anna followed Matteo.

Matteo was in a quiet corner, and Anna was very nervous. Her heart beat faster, she bit her lip and looked at the tall man.

She asked him cautiously, "Why are you making me come out here? What has happened?"

Since the last time she had communicated with him, Anna did not want to call him Mr. Matthew, because she felt it meant their relationship was strange.

His mood was very complicated. He looked at Anna and noticed the dark circles under her eyes, bit his lip softly and asked, "What's wrong with Serena?"

Anna was stunned for a moment. She had not imagined that he would ask her things that had nothing to do with her.

Her makeup seemed to fade, she asked him, "-Maybe it was because she was worried about Cristian Ferrari, and she was a little apprehensive.

The wedding was about to start, but Cristian had not yet arrived. This was really worrying. Matteo bit his lip and said, "-I see, are you a bridesmaid today? Tell her not to worry about Cristian Ferrari. As for him, I will take care of the matter.

Anna nodded her head stupidly and said, "Good.

Suddenly, the atmosphere became quiet. She looked at Matteo and asked, Is there anything else?

Matteo frowned and asked, "What do you mean?"

Anna did not know what to say for a moment, and she was a little sad.

She thought Matthew would be worried about her, but he just wanted to know something about his sister.

-If there's nothing to say, then I'll go back first,|| Anna said. She had just finished talking and was about to leave, but then Matteo asked her, -Why do you have dark circles under your eyes?

Chapter 706: She believed him.

Anna was very excited to hear this.

Did Matthew care about her? If not, how did he notice her dark circles?

Anna eagerly forgot that her dark circles were already very noticeable. She only knew that Matteo had asked her and that he cared about her.

Thinking about this, she turned quickly and said, "I'm fine, but I didn't get much sleep last night...."

After speaking, she suddenly realized, "Since Matthew asked me, wouldn't my dark circles be big and ugly?"

Anna immediately covered her eyes and asked in a low voice, "Are my dark circles ugly?"

Looking at this irritated woman, Matteo did not know what to say. Seeing that he did not answer, Anna became depressed.

-I'm sorry, bad question, sorry.

Anna ran away without waiting for Matteo to speak.

After running far away, Anna was still very excited, touching her cheeks hot with joy.

Last time, Matteo had given her crow's feet, this time he asked her about the dark circles under her eyes.

So her efforts were not in vain, and Matteo was paying attention to her.

She could have continued her efforts so that Matthew would get used to her existence. Then, of course, they would be together.

At the thought, Anna felt it was a very promising plan.

She rubbed her hands together happily.

However, seeing Serena's depressed look, Anna immediately felt guilty. She could not enjoy happiness alone when Serena was depressed, so she stayed with her.

Several hours passed and the laughter of friends gradually diminished and finally disappeared. Serena sat there, stunned, without moving.

After a while, Serena suddenly looked at Matteo not far away.

-Matteo.

-What?

-Did Cristian's flight arrive at the airport?

Matteo pulled out his cell phone to find out, then closed his thin lips and said, "The flight landed half an hour ago.

-Half an hour ago?

Serena asked.

Matteo tightened his lips and thought for a moment, then turned his head and said to Chiara beside him, -Send someone to the airport immediately to verify the flight information and then contact Cristian.

Chiara understood what had happened, so she didn't dare ask any more questions and quickly nodded.

-Yes, Mr. Matteo, I will go now.

Chiara soon left. At that moment, Serena, who had been sitting still, could no longer bear it. She got up from the wedding bed and Anna hastily helped her.

-Serena.

After Serena got up from the bed, she called Cristian again and again.

But she could only hear the cold female robot voice on the cell phone. She called again and again and listened to the tone over and over again.

Hello, the number you dialed is not in service.

After hearing this cold female voice again and again, Serena directly took the long wedding dress and went out. Everyone was a little surprised; Matteo and Anna stopped her.

-Where are you going?

-To the airport.

-To the airport. There is no point in going to the airport, in case he has already gotten off the plane and is getting ready, he may already be on his way. If you go to the airport, you won't find him.

-But if he has already gotten off the plane, why hasn't he turned on his cell phone? Maybe the flight information is wrong or he is on another flight. I have to go to the airport to make sure.

-Stay home, Chiara has already left. -Matteo stopped her and said softly, -I know you are worried, but Cristian has done so much for you. Even if he shows up later, it will only be because of the flight delay, what are you afraid of?

The last question made Serena tremble uncontrollably.

Yes, what were you afraid of?

Are you worried? Serena lowered her eyes, took a step back as if she had been seen through and bit her lower lip hard.

Didn't she know what she was afraid of?

She remembered very clearly what the woman had said when she had met Alice some time ago.

-Serena, I am having such a hard time because of you, why are you living a happy life? Do you think Cristian really wants to marry you? No! No! He was ashamed of you five years ago and wanted to make up for it! If he really loves you, he would not have broken up with you five years ago. Even if you marry him and become a member of the Ferrari family, you will never be happy in your life! I curse that you can never be together, and you won't be happy even if you are!

These words kept ringing in her ears.

Before the wedding, she and Cristian had had very few opportunities to see each other, and she had always been restless. The wedding was about to start and Cristian had not yet shown up.

Could it be because of what Alice had said?

Could it be that Cristian did not want to marry Serena and did this to make up for his mistake five years ago?

Is it because he suddenly did not want to continue before the wedding and did not show up?

-Matteo saw that she was worried, so he grabbed her shoulders and said, "The wedding hasn't started, calm down, let's wait, maybe he wants to surprise you."

After all, Cristian has done a lot for this marriage and Matteo knew that very well. In any case, there should be no accidents at this point.

But Matteo had become suspicious.

Given the contract Cristian had given him on the eve of the wedding, he had decided, what now?

Cristian knew that this contract would go into effect after he married Serena, so had he not shown up?

It was a possibility!

But Matthew believed that he would come. It was Serena who had chosen this man, so Matteo believed that with Serena's judgment, she would not be fooled twice by the same man.

Serena was very doubtful, but she immediately thought about what she had told Matteo earlier.

She and Cristian had separated five years ago because of mutual distrust.

If she suspected Cristian because of Alice's words, she would fall into that woman's trap.

So she could not do that, she had to believe Cristian and wait for him. If Cristian had not come here, she would have gone to the church to wait for him.

She believed that Cristian would definitely show up!

Chapter 707: Plane crash

-Ok," Serena nodded and let go of her skirt, "So do I stay and wait, or do we go to church?"

Matthew looked at his watch and said in a low voice, "It's not time yet. If he doesn't show up after a while, let's go to church. But..." Matthew paused, hesitating.

Matthew paused, hesitating to say the rest.

-But what?" Serena knew she had something to say, so she looked at Matteo.

Although Matteo was expressionless, his eyes were deep and it was obvious he was in a bad mood.

Serena's question complicated his look and he asked in a low voice, "Are you sure you want to go to church if he doesn't show up on time?"

-Why not?

-More guests in the church, if he doesn't show up there either, then...."

She was trying to say that Serena would feel very humiliated in that case-after all, she was a woman.

-Matteo.

Matteo was interrupted by Serena in a soft voice before he could finish.

Serena looked at him and smiled, her voice calm.

-I said I would trust him completely, and he didn't tell me he wasn't coming, so I will keep waiting for him.

Looking at Serena, Matteo did not know what to say. He could not make too many decisions for her.

Besides, she had already decided, so he had no choice but to accept.

-Since you have decided, I will do as you say.

-Thank you.

Time passed, he was far from the airport, and Clare was too late to get to the airport.

As soon as it was time to go from the hotel to the church, Serena got into the car and called Cristian again and again.

Even though she could only hear the cold female voice, she kept dialing.

Anna, looking at her, felt like crying.

She turned her head to look out the window.

She had always known that Serena was stubborn. If she had said she would trust him, she would.

Being Serena's best friend, she naturally supported her.

But seeing Serena like this, Anna somehow did not want to continue; she would rather Serena lose her temper than get angry like this.

Friends were waiting in the church.

The big wedding had attracted many reporters, including some locals following the couple, to photograph them.

When Serena got out of the car, a myriad of flashing lights followed her.

Matteo asked the assistant, "Has Chiara arrived at the airport?"

The assistant looked at her cell phone and shook her head, "Fifteen minutes ago she told me there was a traffic jam, and I think Mr. Cristian probably didn't show up either because of the traffic.

Matteo thought, "It better not be for any other reason."

He had become serious.

Cristian, you better keep your promise, if you can't do that, then I won't let you see Serena again.

The wedding was about to begin, but the guests did not see the groom, only Serena standing alone in her wedding dress.

Gradually, the media present at the event realized that something was wrong.

-What's going on? Why is the bride alone here? We waited so long and the wedding hasn't started yet?

-They say it's a wedding between the two big families of the North City, Ferrari and Giordano, only the one from the Ferrari group hasn't shown up yet, no wedding?

-No idea... All we know is that there was going to be a wedding here today before we arrived. -

-I heard that the young master of the Ferrari Group in the North City is very handsome, but he hardly ever goes out with women. However, there are many famous women who would like to marry him. This won't be false news spread by the Giordano family, right? -

-No way, it has been in all the newspapers for the past few days. If it was a one-sided message spread by the Giordano family, it is impossible for the Ferrari group not to have denied it.

-What is this then?

Everyone was discussing.

Serena was being chased by many flashing lights, so many people on the scene were not here for her, she just wanted to see Cristian.

She didn't know where he was, was there a traffic jam, was the flight delayed? Or had he not boarded at all?

Her cell phone vibrated and Serena was a little surprised, and she immediately took the call without even looking at the screen.

-Cristian, are you almost here? There's a lot of press here, I'll wait for you at the church, when...?

-Serena, it's me.

However, she heard a soft, clear voice.

Serena's eyes darkened, she reflected for a moment, finally remembering whose voice it was.

-Leonardo?

-Disappointed, huh?

She had not expected Leonardo to call her. She had waited a long time, and had even thought it was a call from Cristian....

So she had answered without even looking.

-I saw the news, the wedding is about to start, right?

-Yes.

-I could not attend your wedding, and since Cristian did not want to see me, I could only call to congratulate you.

-Thank you.

She was in a bad mood and didn't even want to say kind words to Leonardo.

Leonardo knew she did not want to talk to him much, so she smiled bitterly.

-Well, I wish you happiness, then. Goodbye.

As Serena hung up the phone, Matteo's assistant's phone rang.

-Chiara?

-What? I knew it!

The assistant hung up the phone and immediately said to Matteo, -Mr. Matteo, Chiara says there was an accident on Mr. Cristian's flight!

Chapter 708: Take Miss Serena into the living room.

-What did you say? -Matteo narrowed his eyes and said with sudden seriousness, "Accident? Really?"

The frightened and incoherent assistant trembled and pulled out her cell phone to check the news, then handed it to Matteo.

-Sir, check the latest news.

Matthew anxiously picked up the phone, and indeed saw the news of the plane crash. And it was the flight Cristian was on.

Seeing this news, Matteo almost fainted.

He immediately thought of his sister Serena.

He too was having a hard time accepting the news, let alone Serena. She would have been even more devastated.

After hearing this news, Matteo's expression suddenly turned cold.

He looked at the assistant, -Keep quiet for now.

-But how will we do about the wedding,|| even the assistant had become very nervous at the news. The chance of such an accident is 1 in 1000, and she had witnessed it.

A big wedding.

Such a big wedding, so many spectators, so many media with cameras.

But the groom had had an accident.

How could there be a wedding if the groom didn't show up?

If he keeps it a secret, others will not know that the groom had an accident. They will only know that the groom did not show up, which is equivalent to telling everyone that the bride was abandoned.

The assistant could not make up his mind, so he had to look at Matteo.

-Well, Mr. Matteo, what should I do? Clare.

Matteo looked at her.

-As an assistant, you should think of something.

The assistant thought, -What? I may be an assistant, but I'm not incredibly smart."

-Mr. Matteo, I'm stupid, I can't think of anything. I'll call Chiara.

Matteo looked at her coldly, as if he were looking at a piece of trash. In fact, the assistant had understood Matteo's situation. The plane had crashed and he needed to placate his sister. But this was an extraordinary and grand wedding, and they were in a church!

She was just an insignificant assistant; she could not have turned the situation around.

He decided to call Clare. Without looking at Matthew, he pulled out his cell phone and called Chiara directly.

When Chiara answered the phone, the assistant asked her.

-Chiara, Mr. Matteo said we cannot tell Miss Serena and asked me to find a solution, help me.

Chiara, who was on her way to the wedding, -It's really a challenge.

Such a grand wedding, with so many guests. And to make matters worse, there was a lot of media from home and abroad.

If the groom had not shown up, the media would have sent very exaggerated reports.

It was really hard not to let Miss Serena know about this serious incident.

Chiara thought for a while but could not think of a good solution, she said, -I can't think of a solution either, stabilize the guests first, I will take care of other things when I arrive, take Miss Serena to the living room first, tell her that I am still investigating Mr. Cristian's situation. By the way, try not to let her look at her cell phone, you can leave told Anna.

The assistant nodded immediately after hearing this.

As a secretary who had worked for Mr. Matteo for a long time, Chiara had an extremely meticulous mind.

Even though she knew she could not change the outcome, she still tried to find a way to maintain the situation.

-I'll get right to work.

After the assistant hung up the phone, and went to implement Clare's suggestion.

But he was immediately thwarted.

Serena did not want to go to the living room, but insisted on waiting in the church.

A myriad of flashes and cameras were aimed at her, and the assistant was so anxious that she had to wink at Anna.

Although Anna did not know what was going on, she understood what the assistant meant and went to help Serena.

-Your hair is a little messy, let's go backstage and fix it. -

Hearing this, Serena unconsciously touched her head.

-Disordered?

-Maybe the stylist didn't do it right. -

-How? -She looked at Anna, her sincere eyes made Anna a little embarrassed, she had to say, -Really, and you have a lipstick mark on your chin.

After speaking, he applied his lipstick to Serena's mouth while she paid no attention.

He pretended to wipe Serena's chin, but actually applied lipstick from his finger to Serena's chin.

-Look.

Then Anna turned on the camera of her cell phone.

-Maybe you didn't notice.

Serena looked at the cell phone screen and did not speak.

After a while she nodded, -Okay, let's go backstage and touch up the makeup.

Seeing that she finally agreed, Anna breathed a sigh of relief, grabbed Serena's skirt to walk in the other direction and said, "Be careful.

The assistant was finally relieved when she saw them leave and moved on to take care of other things.

Anna helped Serena and said, "You can rest there for a while, I'll go find the stylist.

-No need," Serena declined, "it's just a lipstick mark, I can handle it."

-But... - Anna hesitated a little -Really? Well, it's your wedding...

-So I can't leave for a long time, even if I take a short time, what if Cristian comes and doesn't find me?

Anna didn't know what else to say, so he helped her backstage. As Serena was finishing her makeup, Anna walked out of the room and saw the assistant nervously waving at her from a little distance away.

Anna did not know what was going on, so she headed toward her.

-What is it? Why did you ask me to bring Serena here? Has something happened?

It was at that moment that Anna realized that something was wrong.

The assistant said helplessly, -Chiara told me to do this, there was an accident on Mr. Cristian's flight, and Chiara is coming.

Chapter 709: Why are your hands shaking?

Plane crash?

Anna was shocked by the news and froze for a moment.

-What, a plane crash?

The assistant knew everything to Anna, so he told her what Clare had said, and when he saw that she still didn't understand, he said directly, -If you don't understand, look at the news on your cell phone.

He didn't feel like doing anything else, so he took out his cell phone and started reading the news.

Something had indeed happened to the plane Cristian was on.

-How could this happen, why, how was it possible? -Anna could not accept this fact.

How had such a tragedy happened on a holiday?

Anna suddenly remembered the crystal glass Serena had broken during makeup. And that the stylist's assistant had said,

Blood, it will bring bad luck.

At that moment, Anna felt that this assistant didn't know what to say and was a bit annoying.

But it was a warning.

Anna froze, her mind was blank.

She thought about Serena.

What would happen if the bride found out?

Anna's hands trembled at the thought.

-Maybe Mr. Cristian was not on that plane?

The assistant shook her head, "I don't know, Chiara is already on her way...."

In mid-sentence, the assistant suddenly stopped talking, his face pale as he looked behind Anna, his lips trembling.

Anna understood immediately, and before she could turn her head, Serena asked.

-What is it?

Anna, almost unconsciously, turned and asked, -What are you doing here?

-Why can't I?

-Well, are you getting ready? I want you to help us find a stylist.

-I said I don't need a stylist. -Serena rubbed her chin, "I wiped off my lipstick and touched up my makeup, let's go.

Hearing this, Anna and the assistant looked at each other helplessly.

Seeing that Serena was really about to leave, the assistant hurriedly pushed Anna and ordered her to stop Serena. Anna thought about it and suddenly exclaimed, "Wait!

She surprised Serena. She stopped abruptly to look at Anna and frowned.

-Anna, what's wrong with you?

-Anna nervously bit her lower lip and scratched her head with her left hand, -You still need to touch up your makeup, the foundation there on your chin is not even enough, did you use a different foundation?

Unconsciously, she rubbed her chin once more.

A different shade? She hadn't noticed, she had used foundation on her dressing table and hadn't noticed any difference when she looked in the mirror.

-Even with a different foundation, there is no difference in color, I looked in the mirror.

After saying this, Serena turned and carried her skirt, -Come on, let's not keep everyone waiting.

-Wait! -Anna gave another shout, then took Serena's skirt and held it with her other hand, -It's really different, let's touch up the makeup.

Serena was even more puzzled as she stared at Anna, as if she wanted to see something on her face.

Anna weakened a little and avoided his gaze.

-Come on, please...

Serena followed her to fix her makeup. The assistant looked at the two with relief and called Chiara.

-Chiara, hurry up, we can't hide it from you anymore, Miss Serena....

-Ok, don't rush me, I'll be there.

When she hung up the phone, the assistant turned quickly in her seat.

No one knew this was going to happen, and besides, no one could find Matteo...

Inside the locker room

Anna bent down and carefully applied Serena's makeup, and just as she was about to finish, Anna's hand trembled and rubbed foundation on Serena's lips, ruining her lipstick.

-Ah, my hand was shaking...|| Anna said awkwardly, then quickly pulled out the cotton makeup remover, -I'll reapply your lipstick. -

Serena looked at Anna's hand and noticed that the tips of her white fingers were shaking.

After removing the lipstick, Serena looked at her, "Are you hiding something from me?"

Anna was so startled that she threw the cotton makeup remover in her hand to the ground. She squatted down with a pale face to pick it up, threw it in the trash, then turned around and rummaged in the dresser for the lipstick.

-Serena... Are you kidding? What can I hide from you?

Despite the ease with which she said it, emotion betrayed her movements.

-If you're not hiding anything from me, why are you shaking? -Serena said softly, and although her tone was calm, Anna was becoming nervous.

Anna paused and picked up the lipstick she had found and smiled reluctantly.

-Maybe because I am not familiar with makeup?

After saying this, she was about to approach Serena with the lipstick.

Serena half-closed her lips and stared at her hand without speaking.

-What's wrong? -Anna was a little startled.

-It's the blush,|| said Serena.

Anna took one look, in her hand is really the blush, she immediately got angry, -Well...I made a mistake, wait, I'll go look for it.

She went back to look for the lipstick.

Anna's abnormality made Serena even more uncomfortable.

She half-closed her pale lips and stood up slowly, holding up her skirt.

-No need.

-Serena, wait, I'll find him soon.

Serena ignored her, turned and walked out, Anna was quick to stop her with an exclamation.

-Serena, I haven't put lipstick on you yet, you can't go out.

Looking at Anna in front of her, Serena gritted her teeth and said, -Let me go."

Chapter 710: Do you also want to stop me?

Anna shook her head, -I said....

-Anna, if you still consider me a friend, don't try to slow me down and stop me anymore.

Her voice and eyes suddenly became cold. Anna was an employee of Cristian's company, and Serena's eyes at that moment were simply the same as hers.

She felt a little helpless, but thinking about Cristian's plane crash, she had to keep explaining, "How can I not consider you a 'friend? It is because you are my friend that I cannot let you go out like this.

Serena, don't be in a hurry, okay? Let me do your makeup, you are the bride.

Serena's face was grim.

-Am I really the bride in a wedding without a groom?

-Is there something wrong? -Serena asked.

Her eyes were as hard as knives. Anna had always known that some of Serena and Cristian's behaviors were similar, but she had never thought these two could be so alike.

She had the same look as Cristian.

She shyly lowered her shoulders and shook her head, -No, nothing happened...But...

-But... -Serena took a deep breath to calm herself, - "I'm not going to force you, but I'm telling you for the last time, if you don't let me through, I'm going to get angry."

Anna raised her head and looked at Serena apprehensively.

-Serena.

Serena looked very cold.

Based on Serena's expression and eyes, Anna knew that this was non-negotiable, and if she did not let it go, they might not even be friends.

Anna had to slowly withdraw to the side.

Finally.

Serena stepped out with her skirt in hand when a tall man stopped her.

-Matteo?

Matteo looked at her darkly, his expression was cold.

-Don't come out.

Serena, -You want to stop me too?

Matteo did not answer and Serena smiled bitterly, -It's my wedding, why don't you let me out, can you tell me why?

Matteo and Anna had complicated expressions, but neither of them answered the question.

Serena felt even more uncomfortable, she burst out forcefully and said, -If you don't want to talk about it, then I'll go out by myself, Cristian will come soon, if he can't see me...."

The hand holding her skirt was squeezed violently by Matthew.

Serena wanted to leave, but could not move.

-Let me go.

-Don't go.

Matteo's tone gradually became somber.

Anna also noticed the difference in Matteo's tone, and unconsciously shook her shoulders, tears in her eyes.

-Why? Please give me a reason to stop. -

Matteo turned and looked coldly at Serena.

-What reason do you want?

Serena was very disappointed, and the originally calm woman burst into a rage at this instant as she shook Matteo's hand with great force.

Then she ran away with her skirt in her hand in spite of everything.

-Serena!

Seeing this, Anna hurried to follow her.

However, Matteo stopped her and Anna shouted, -Let me go, Serena is outside, let me go....

-Let her go," Matteo said in a low voice, "We can't hide it from her anyway. She will find out sooner or later.

-But..." Anna finally lost control and cried.

-She would be devastated if she knew the truth.

Matthew half-closed his lips, his face was horrible, but he did nothing.

No matter what happens now, it is useless.

Serena went out and found chaos outside.

When a media outlet had seen the news and revealed the flight Cristian was on, people who had been waiting for the groom for a long time had been stunned, had published the news, and had been frantically circling the place.

When Serena appeared, someone shouted, "Look, it's the bride.

All the media rushed to Serena, with countless cameras and flashing lights.

-Miss Serena, is it true that the groom did not show up because the plane he was on had an accident?

Do you know anything about that?

-Miss Serena, if something happens to Mr. Cristian, will the wedding take place?

-Mrs. Serena, how long have you been waiting? Are you sad because your husband had an accident?

Countless questions pierced Serena's heart like cold, sharp knives.

She knew nothing!

Anna took her to the locker room and stopped her at the exit.

She wanted to get out and wait for Cristian to see her when she arrived.

But what was going on, why was everyone asking that question?

An accident on the plane Cristian was on?

How could she not know?

Serena was confused, the flashes were blinding her, she had no lipstick, she was pale from the press questions, and she was wearing a white wedding dress.

She was like a glass girl shattering at the slightest touch.

Despite this, the media kept pointing their cameras at her as they frantically moved forward to ask her.

-Mrs. Serena, I suppose you already know, why are you still here? Aren't you worried that your husband has had an accident?

-Will you marry Mr. Cristian for the sake of the family?

-Miss Serena... Miss Serena...

-Miss Serena....

Serena seemed unable to continue listening to what the media around her were saying, the camera hit her head and she stepped back in pain, but these people thought she wanted to leave and mingled again.

In the confusion, someone pushed her and Serena and she fell on the cold ground.

No, no.

How could Cristian have had an accident?

Impossible...

She thought, "He promised to surprise me, and he promised to take care of me and Manuel for the rest of my life."

Impossible!
