

Virginity 971

Chapter 971: The deep feeling.

It wasn't important, in fact.

What was more important than that we were together and that two hearts met in the same place?

There was, there was nothing else.

Serena laughed slightly, "Memory is one more thing. If you really want your memory back, I will take you back. I will accompany you on the roads we walked before every day, one day you should remember everything.

-Okay.

Anna and the others waited outside not knowing how much time had passed, there was no noise inside. The people outside were silent.

After a while, Anna pricked her fingers in worry, bit her lower lip as she looked at everyone and held her tongue.

Finally, she could not contain herself and said in a low voice, "What if -- what if something happens to those two inside? What if we were to...go in and see them?

It had been a long time and the two still hadn't come out. Anna was getting very worried.

They were all silent outside as if they couldn't make up their minds.

Anna said again, -Anyway, Serena is pregnant now, I'm afraid once she gets excited....

Having finished saying this, Matthew who had been motionless earlier entered.

Anna.

She really cared about her sister.

But she was not jealous of Serena, she just felt envious.

She would be very happy if Matteo could give her one percent of the concern he was giving Serena.

Just as everyone was preparing to enter, the sound of footsteps came from inside.

Anna stopped the footsteps and saw Serena and Cristian walking out together.

The color of Cristian's face was much better than before, his hand was hugging Serena's waist now, he had removed much of the cold from his eyes.

He saw that everyone was waiting here and it looked like they were about to go inside. Serena chuckled slightly at them and said in a low voice, "You guys are so tired today, let's go home now."

Although she wore a smile on her face, it was obvious to everyone that her eye sockets were red, she had obviously been crying.

Not only that, his lips were also swollen....

Everyone lowered their heads in shame, they clearly knew what had happened after a while.

Anna was taken aback for a moment. She wanted to pounce inside; thank goodness she hadn't.

If she had not insisted earlier and gone inside, wouldn't it have interrupted her well?

Then they all climbed into the cars together, for they had come in two cars, but Cristian and Serena were no longer separated.

Luca was Cristian's assistant, driving for Cristian of course.

In this car, two extra people could not fit after two people were seated.

Therefore Matteo and Anna could only sit in another car.

It was a good chance for Anna, she followed behind Matteo to the side of the car with exultant steps, got into the car with him.

David was standing beside her watching this scene, he had narrowed his eyes and looked at Luke unconsciously. Suddenly he felt a little sorry for him.

Luca was sitting in the driver's seat, but he could not bear to look out the window; he saw Anna and Matthew getting into David's car.

He lowered his eyelids and stopped the emotions in the depths of his eyes.

Something happened to David suddenly, he approached the window with an ugly laugh, leaned forward and handed the key to Luke.

-Brother, don't say I didn't help you. Go away.

Luca took the key thrown by him, his eyes were surprised.

-Come on, take a good chance!

Luca's ears were hot, he looked toward the two people sitting in the back seat of the subconsciousness, -Mr. Cristian, Miss Serena?

Cristian did not want to show his attitude, he hugged Serena playing with her hair. Serena was a little embarrassed and said with a dry laugh, -Luca, leave if you want.

-Oh," David leaned against the window and shook his head at the scene, -If it's not to help my brother, I don't want to get into this car to feel their love.

He hadn't even gotten into the car yet, he was already feeling his love, so what would happen while he was driving? He was going to throw up because of his love.

He felt it, Cristian abruptly looked up and looked at him coldly. Evidently he still hadn't forgotten that he had gone snitching and said coldly, -You can walk back.

Ouch, ouch, ouch.

David shook his head hopelessly, looked away from Serena for help.

This sister-in-law, I see she still scolds me for saying that thing about you. You can tell that-someone is not resigned to what doesn't end today.

Having finished saying this, Cristian had narrowed his eyes dangerously, his eyes full of violence, -

What are you saying?

This bastard had dared to provoke dissension between him and Serena.

Serena could clearly understand Cristian's feeling, she also knew that this friend of theirs did not provoke dissension on purpose, just to make a joke with them.

That is why she was neither angry nor looking for trouble from Cristian, on the contrary, she said

On the contrary, she said with a faint smile.

-What if he doesn't resign? I've heard about this, he can't do it again in the future. Thanks to you today.

If you hadn't handed the position to Luca, we couldn't have even come looking for you here. Be that as it may, the problem has been solved.

Having said that, Serena reached out her hand to pinch Cristian's.

-Are you not happy now, teasing me about what you said then?

Cristian immediately gave up in front of Serena: -Of course not, everything I said then is true, but it doesn't stop me from being upset by this person. Besides, you didn't hear him teasing us a moment before. It's a good excuse to make him walk back.

Having said that, Cristian hugged her waist again with one hand, buried his face between her neck and shoulder, sniffed her scent aggressively like a child, Serena did not feel comfortable being affectionate in front of others. She slapped Cristian's hand and pushed him away for resisting her forehead with her hand, -Sit properly.

Cristian looked at her with a dissatisfied face.

-Get in the car, let's go home.

David looked at Cristian who was suffering backwards, saying, -You're a little sister-in-law, you understand justice, not like someone-||.

He took the key and got in by sitting in the driver's seat, started the car while letting out a sigh.

-I didn't expect even the golden bachelor of those years to get on the right track. I thought you wouldn't marry all your life according to your previous character that saw women as evil. And I thought that if you wanted to marry , maybe it would only be possible with a man.

Having said that, David laughed out loud to himself sincerely.

Cristian's face was dark and embarrassed, -Shut up.

He had no memory of the past, although he longed to know what it was like in the past, when he heard

David's words, it seemed to him that he was shaming him.

David looked at Serena through the rearview mirror: -Dear, he doesn't know because he has no memory, but you understand him deeply, don't you?

Hearing this, Serena was stunned; she remembered the difficult days when she had just entered the unknowingly married Ferrari family. At that time, she lived every day in deep suffering, she let out a big sigh when she remembered it now.

She had a big misunderstanding with Cristian that year, it was really....

He thought about it, then laughed and said, "I understand him very well.

Chapter 972: How ridiculous.

Understand deeply?

Cristian frowned unconsciously when he heard these words. He looked at Serena's eyes and brought a rare emotion more.

David had just said that he took women as evil, she had said that she understood him deeply, perhaps before he treated her....

Yes, Cristian remembered the words Manuel had said to him.

He had said that he had not treated his mother well, in fact very badly.

It seemed that she had really done a lot of things to hurt Serena.

Thinking about this, Cristian clenched his fists tightly, laughed in his heart, perhaps laughed to himself.

-Everything here, it's all in the past, it's not important what happened in the past.

Not important? Cristian stared at Serena's profile, pursed his thin lips, said nothing.

In another car.

Anna followed Matteo into the car, but she didn't dare sit with him in the back unscrupulously, so she could only squeeze into the passenger seat.

It was enough for her to be able to sit with him in the same car.

But she did not expect that the person walking toward them was Luca, Luca sat in the driver's seat, he was in suspense when he saw Anna sitting in the passenger seat, then he looked at Matteo from the corner of his eye with a slight expression.

Matteo was sitting there, his face still indifferent.

He was a little surprised when he saw that Luke was coming, but he remembered his actions these days, perhaps he would guess some in his heart.

Why are you coming with us? Anna's expression was surprised when she saw Luca and asked him, blinking her eyes surprisingly.

Luca lied without getting angry, -David has something to say to Mr. Cristian, that's why he made me come here.

-Ok, I didn't expect him to dare to sit in that car. He just ratted on Mr. Cristian. With Mr. Cristian's terrible appearance, I thought he would at least try to get away from him.

Anna kept her chin thoughtful and said she hadn't completely noticed other clues.

Luca looked at her, he thought it was okay too, thank goodness it was not awkward between them.

The car started up, but suddenly Matteo said lightly, "I have something to tell Serena."

With that said, he opened the door and got out of the car.

Anna saw him get out of the car, a nervous expression appeared on his face. She looked at him as he opened the door, she too began to act unconsciously.

After Matthew got out of the car, Anna also stood outside the car following him and watched him nervously.

Luke who saw this scene felt only a pain in his heart, sat in the driver's seat without moving, looking at the two of them through the mirror.

-You can talk to her after you get home, now Serena must have a lot of things she wants to talk about with Mr. Cristian. Will you disturb them by going there?

Matteo looked at her with an indifferent look and said coldly, -I shouldn't, there is someone else in the car.

Anna was speechless.

She was a little distressed and biting her lower lip, not sure how she was going to convince Matteo to stay. He had just sat in the car, how could he want to go without something having happened? But he couldn't think of any other reason to convince Matteo to come here.

Besides, even if he went now, it might not work out for him.

He could squeeze in a little, but couldn't he squeeze in with Serena behind her? If he had done so, it might have killed him, Mr. Cristian, because of the way he looked.

Just as Anna was wrapping herself around him, Matteo took steps forward. She was anxious and had almost torn the bottom of her clothes.

The car in front suddenly took off like an arrow out of the string, the speed was too high, and it was gone in the blink of an eye.

David let go of the gas pedal, gave a slight sigh, looked at Matthew and the others who were far behind and said with a smile, "I react quickly fortunately, I don't want another person in this car, it will be very interesting to leave the three of them together.

Serena who was behind did not hold back the corners of her mouth twitching after hearing, this David was really a bad person.

But Serena did not expect him to be so sharp. It must have been the first time she had met Matteo and Anna, and she understood the tangle of emotions between the three of them.

Now the three were sitting in the same car, shouldn't something have happened?

She thought about it, Serena looked back worriedly, Cristian's hand wrapped around her, -Don't worry, they will find a way to work it out.

Serena could only nod, she couldn't do anything even though she was worried, she couldn't get into the feelings, could she?

Alas, there they had to do what they wanted.

Luck would be defined by fate.

Matthew who watched the car drive away stayed in the same place for a while, heard a cautious voice coming from the back.

-It's just ... Serena's car has left, do you ... do you still want to stay here?

Matteo moved his lips, but could not say a word. It seemed to him that the person in front of him had done it on purpose. If not ... why had he switched with Luke on purpose, and then driven the car so fast when he got ready to go there.

Heh, he was a smart guy.

It didn't matter, he was going to leave things as they were.

Anyway, it was the same to him as sitting in any car.

Matthew turned to get into the car calmly, not giving her a glance as he drove past Anna.

Anna laughed when he turned around, but she did not wait for him to get directly into the car without looking at her once more.

Anna was devastated, she could no longer hold back her smile, but she quickly normalized anyway and got into the car immediately.

Luca sat in the driver's seat, his expression was normal as if nothing had happened.

-He started the car.

The car started, Anna could not bear to look at Matthew hiding in the back. Sitting here for her meant looking for an opportunity to talk and get along affectionately with him.

But she was shy, sitting in the passenger seat. Besides, Matteo was resting with his eyes closed from the moment he got into the car, he seemed to be very tired.

Anna wanted to talk to him many times, but she could only swallow the words she was about to say when she saw that he had closed his eyes.

Perhaps he had seen that she had bitten her tongue once and could no longer bear to see her. The color of Luke's eyes had darkened and then he had started talking to Anna.

-When do you plan to come back this time?

he asked.

The car was strangely silent, suddenly she heard someone talking, Anna was surprised. then she remembered that there was another person in the car.

She touched her face in shame as she looked at Luca.

-Are you talking to me?

Luca answered her with an indifferent face.

-What do you think?

Having just said this, she hid the ferocity in the corners of her eyes. She did not expect his feeling of existence in her heart to be so low. It was also true, all her attention was on Matthew from the moment she got into the car, how could she pay attention to him driving beside her.

"Luca, Luca, how ridiculous you look like this. "

Chapter 973: Don't be comfortable

"She didn't say she didn't like you, she didn't even pay attention to you."

She had not expected her to like him for so many years, she had realized that he had no place in her heart. There was nothing wrong with her, she was not excellent compared to others, besides, her looks were not bad either.

The others had not placed her in their hearts.

Luca felt tired inside, he could not speak suddenly.

Anna seemed to have found the source to eliminate the awkward situation by talking to him. The pleasant voice entered his ears sentence by sentence.

-I don't know, this time is to bring Manuel here to look for Serena. We worry about her, but we see that she seems to be fine. She should be back on the 15th day of the lunar calendar.

Saying this, Anna looked as if something had happened to her, she added: -But I am looking forward to coming back, the Lantern Festival in the country is more lively.

There were many usual activities for the Lantern Festival in many places. I could go and see and it would be interesting to participate.

She felt she had been very discouraged lately, she needed to attend some vigorous activities to regain her confidence.

Luca had an idea, he looked at her, -Maybe we can get back together.

Get back together? Anna looked at Matthew in the rearview mirror and bit her lower lip, -But....

-But what? You went out with me, I have a responsibility to get you home safely, or I couldn't finish the assignment well if something happened to you on the way.

It was homework again, Anna could not help but exclaim, -Luke, you are really a good and responsible person.

Luca was speechless.

Yes, he really was a good responsible person, it was the first time he was so responsible.

But he did not expect to be given a good person's letter, he did not know whether he should feel happy or sad. Also he had given him the good person card in front of the love rival, if he didn't have strong self-control, maybe he would have already smashed something alas.

Matthew who was resting with his eyes closed could not bear to twist the corners of his mouth at that moment.

He thought he could dismiss all things in the outside world by closing his eyes. But when Anna began to speak, her voice entered his ears tyrannically without warning and occupied his sense of hearing.

From that moment Anna and Luke began to talk. When he heard Anna praising him for being a good person, Matthew could not stand it and winced once. It was the first time he felt poor for Luca.

His feeling for Anna was very obvious, otherwise, David could not have understood him so quickly even for having met them once, and that was why he had helped him create opportunities. Only the thought of Anna was too simple, he felt nothing and also gave him a good person's card.

Perhaps this Luke would have preferred to vomit blood .

At the thought of this, Matthew suddenly turned back shocked, frowning.

What was he thinking?

In the past, when he closed his eyes, he was able to repel all the sounds of the outside world. But now he had not only heard all sounds from outside, he had also started thinking about them.

This problem was much more serious than usual.

He thought about it, Matthew opened his eyes, his sight fell on Anna's cheek.

Anna had made a bun on her cheek, she had put a beautiful Iris hairpin on the side. The cheek was very round and beautiful, it was very vigorous.

Only the black and gray men's jacket on her was not compatible with her current look.

Was it not compatible?

Matthew had moved the tip of his finger, had silently gathered her gaze. But Anna caught his gaze at this moment suddenly and turned her head to look at him pleasantly.

Wake up!

Matthew had just closed his eyes pretending to sleep.

This girl...had she acted so quickly? Had she paid attention to him every minute?

He remembered that she had been rejected by him several times, he had said good and bad words to her, but she still had not given up on his idea. She had continued to admire him vigorously. Matthew seemed a little uncomfortable in his heart.

Why did he feel that way?

It was obvious that they had not spent much time alone together; what was it about him that made him like her?

His appearance?

That was the only reason Matthew could think of.

After thinking that what Anna liked was only his appearance, he no longer felt uncomfortable in his heart.

Now he saw Anna's bright face again, but he laughed coldly in his heart and immediately closed his eyes.

Anna saw that he opened his eyes obviously and greeted him. She thought that he could speak to her, who knew that he would only cast her a glance, pick it up and close his eyes again.

His smile was so stiff.

He had not given her another look, he did not even want to talk to her. Was he, was he really that unfriendly?

For a moment, Anna felt very frustrated; she could only sit with her eyelids down. She was not paying attention to Matthew this time; instead, she was staring out the window.

She did not know that her current expression was entirely reflected in the car window, perhaps only

Luke who was looking out the window, could see the expression on her face.

She glanced at Matteo who was in the back seat, Luca's aura increased violently, he said with cold derision, -When will you return to the country Mr. Matteo?

He had said his name directly, Matteo had moved his eyes just closed and opened them again, he answered lightly.

-There are many things to be done in the company, very soon.

-So,|| Luca laughed, -I see we have no chance of getting back together.

Anna did not want to talk, but she could not bear to ask him now: -Will you be back so soon? When?

It seemed to her that perhaps, if Matteo agreed, she could come back with him right away.

Matteo tightened his thin lips with indifference and said after a while: -In a few days.

Would he leave after a few days? Anna blinked once, she did not find the foreign country interesting all of a sudden, it would be better to go back with Matteo soon. If she had taken the opportunity to get on the same flight with Matteo, maybe she could have sat with him in the same row, and at that time?

Anna had a gray area in the top of her head, after thinking about this in her mind, she had become vigorous again.

Both Matthew and Luke had realized that.

Maybe this had given this girl some hope, she had been able to take advantage of it with efforts, she had also been able to reinvent herself.

Matthew had no choice but to speak no more.

But everyone knew what Anna's intention was in his heart.

After that, an awkward silence again plummeted inside the car, and he drove home like that along the road.

Matthew got out of the car once it stopped. Anna quickly unbuckled her seat belt and followed him very carefully. Luca was sitting in the driver's seat after parking the car. He watched the two drive away with weak eyes.

He was super nervous, Luca started to look for something in his pockets, but he did not find the thing he wanted.

The car window was touched by someone, Luca looked out of the corner of his eye and saw David standing outside the window.

Then he opened the car and sat inside.

-He said, -Hey, brother, aren't you following them right now, and what are you doing sitting here all excited?

-Do you have a cigarette?

Chapter 974: Did he look like he was jealous?

Cigar?

David suddenly laughed at the word.

-Hey, that's fine but are you a coward? That woman went with another man, I tell you if you are a man, get up to follow her right away. You don't care about other things, it's a serious matter that you own what's in front of you.

Own?

Luke only thought it might be funny when he heard this word. However, he was hurting inside, a bitter feeling spread throughout his chest. He could not even laugh.

-Do you have a cigarette?

He asked again.

He was silent for a while, David searched his jacket pocket for a while and finally pulled out a pack of cigars for Luca.

Luca took it and pulled one out, biting it in his mouth.

He waited for a long time and Davide did not give him a lighter.

Luca looked at him with a frown, Davide laughed innocently, -Why are you looking at me? Your Mr.

Cristian found me in a hurry earlier, it's not my fault I forgot to bring the lighter, yes?

-Why the fuck are you carrying cigars if you don't have a lighter?

-Fucking hell, why are you swearing? If you have the ability, say it in front of that girl.

-Get the fuck out of here.

I handed the cigars back, kicking David out without patience. He had not fully mitigated the anguished mood. On the contrary, he had become more irritable for not being able to get what he wanted. But David was different, for he took the cigars with a laughing, mischievous air, then put them away.

-There's no use getting angry with me. In the first place I am not your rival in love, secondly I am not your enemy, and lastly I am the good brother who helped you. Do you reproach me instead of thanking me?

Luke remained silent and tightened his lips.

But David suddenly came together at that moment and looked at him carefully. Luca frowned and realized that he was looking at that scar on his face, the expression immediately became unnatural.

-What are you doing?

He asked coldly and moved his face aside. He hid his hideous scar under the shadow.

Actually this scar was not so important to him.

Before-now it was if a person did not like him.

This scar from the past had never even been a wound to him, perhaps.

But now?

After Luke turned his head, David seemed to know his mindset immediately, laughed: -Did I make a mistake just now? Don't you dare show me your scar. Listen to me brother, don't you dare to confess your feelings to that girl about this scar?

-No, I don't. -Luca denied very quickly.

David narrowed his eyes, the girls turned very quickly, and he laughed, saying after a while, -Don't you know that double denial is that of affirmation?

Luke looked at him, opened the car door and got out of the car, leaving the key with David.

-What, are you angry with me because I said what you think?

Seeing that Luca did not answer him, David reached out to pull down the bottom of his clothes, saying,

-I mean, what's wrong with the wounds on a man's body? Now it is time of peace, if it was the previous time of war, every man had a wound, small or big. Every man like you who is in love, couldn't he marry a girl?

-David, you talk a lot today. There are things that don't concern you, don't get involved in those.

-If it wasn't because you are my brother and you are also suffering for love, do you think I would want to get into that? Okay, okay, I only have time to talk to you today, when you come back to the country in the future, I won't have a chance to talk to you even if I wanted to. Today you treat me like I'm long-winded. But what I tell you is serious, if you want you can discuss it with me.

Having said that, David released Luca's clothes with initiative and tightened two hands on the steering wheel.

-Ok, I'm off. See you in the future.

The car disappeared very quickly from the underground garage.

Luca turned his head and looked for a while at the place where the missing car was parked. Then he closed his eyes in a dazed way.

He may have wanted to be brave, but Anna was deeply in love with Matthew. Would it have been just annoying for her if he confessed his feelings to her now?

After David left, Luke walked quietly in the direction of the elevator.

Passing by the garbage can, he threw the unlit cigarette in his hand into it.

When he returned, since he had no keys, he could only ring the doorbell. It was Anna who opened the door for him, Anna was shocked when she saw him and reacted suddenly.

-Why did you come up now and not come up with us earlier?

It was an innocent and surprised sentence, but it pushed Luke into the depths of hell instantly.

Was it like that?

Did he who had no sense of existence really have a chance in front of her?

Luca did not feel comfortable in his heart, but he could not even make a mean face now, he just nodded his head slightly and said yes.

He didn't know why, Anna felt he didn't have much interest. But she quickly realized what she had said earlier, she quickly explained, -Sorry, I didn't realize you weren't coming upstairs with us, I just....

-All right. -Luca looked at her and then said coldly, -All your attention is on Mr. Matthew, it's normal that you don't notice me.

Anna remained suspended in the same place and tried to understand Luca's words little by little.

She had not finished yet, Luca took off his shoes and entered.

Anna stood there alone for a while and finally understood.

It seemed that Luca was angry.

All your attention was on Lord Matthew, it was normal that you didn't notice me.

Even this sentence sounded strange....

A feeling of jealousy.

Why did it sound like he was jealous?

Jealous? Anna panicked and grabbed her hair unconsciously. It was impossible for Luca to be jealous, she had asked him and he didn't like it at all. He just wanted her to say a few words in his favor for treating her well.

So what was he angry about, maybe she had thought too much?

Anna went back into the house scratching her head.

Only Matthew was sitting on the sofa looking at the papers, Serena and Cristian entered the room. after they returned.

Luke half-closed his lips when he saw Matteo, he immediately wanted to return to the room with cold eyes, but suddenly he remembered that there was no room that belonged to him.

With some despair in his heart, Luca could only choose a place to sit.

The room was quiet; when Anna returned, she saw only Matthew and Luke, hurriedly hiding in his room.

This awkward atmosphere lasted for a long time until everyone got ready to eat. Anna went to the kitchen to prepare the meal.

Luca who had been ignored as a transparent person had seen Anna enter the kitchen and had an idea.

This girl was not really sensible, she had just recovered from illness, why had she entered the kitchen again?

He wanted to get up and persuade her, but Matthew who stood in front of her was as indifferent as if nothing had happened. She could not bear to frown, she wanted to say something but realized that she did not seem to have the right posture. She could only swallow the words again.

Chapter 975: It can be solved with a kiss.

On the other side, Serena had finally put Cristian to sleep.

It was very hard to imagine that a man like him needed to appease himself with sleep one day.

In these days Cristian had not been able to sleep well all the time, it was possible that he had received the spiritual blow and torture, that's why sleeping became difficult, moreover, he would wake up from sleep by himself after falling asleep.

That situation was really serious, if it lasted only a few days, nothing would happen.

But if it lasted for a long time, his mind might have problems.

Serena was really angry and upset facing Cristian like that.

She was angry at what he had done by hiding from her; her spirit was touched by it. It was obvious that her mindset must have been very strong, but eventually she had become that way. That was why she had suffered so much in recent times.

That's why Serena had asked only to appease him, this bastard Cristian could have taken advantage of this opportunity. He rubbed her waist from time to time with his hand, finally said in a rough voice, "I miss you, it can only be solved with a kiss."

He had a great urge to give her a palm and asked when she had become a rogue.

But Serena could not resist when she saw his face and thin white lips. She only lowered her head to kiss him obediently.

At first Serena only wanted to kiss him lightly.

Who knew that he would end up touching her cheeks and red lips with his hands, Cristian reversed the host's position, squeezed her with his big hand directly, opened his mouth and kissed her.

-Em.

Serena looked astonished, not expecting him to be so shameless. Then she pushed him away. But

Cristian groaned, the sound came from his lips and teeth.

-I'm sick now, how can you push me away?

Sick? Serena laughed in her heart.

What sick person had strength as great as he? But his thin lips were a little cold and dry. Moreover,

Serena missed him less at this time, finally obeyed him with a half-agreement.

The two kissed for a while, because there were people outside, also Cristian's strength was not equal to his desires, so they did not do it too much.

But Serena still went to the bathroom to fix her appearance before leaving the room. She heard the kitchen door close on her way out.

-Who went into the kitchen?

She asked and looked at the two people in the living room.

Matthew and Luke.

Well, it was clear who had gone into the kitchen.

Serena remembered that Anna had had a severe fever a few days ago, which was why she had not let her cook these days. She did not expect that she would enter the kitchen again today.

Then Serena went straight there and opened the kitchen door.

-Anna, get out of there.

Anna was frozen: -What's going on?

-Cristian hired a maid, what do you want to do in there, take her job?

Anna was silent for a long time and said with weak eyes: -I can't get used to eating the food made by her, I want to make my own.

-Be that as it may, I haven't had a fever for many days now. I am full of energy, I don't feel bad in my body. I won't have a relapse to cook once, why worry? -Anna came up laughing, "Yes, that's right

Serena, don't you want to eat the food I prepared? If you don't eat it now, you won't be able to eat it in a few when I return to the country.

Serena remembered the conversation she had had with Cristian at the pool at the mention of the word

"Back? ".

He had said he was going back to the country with her.

At the thought, Serena said with a slight smile, "Who says I can't eat it? I can't eat it here, but I can eat it in the country.

-Ah? -Anna had a surprised look on her face,-she did not react for long.

-What are you saying-are you going back to the country, too? And what will happen to Mr. Cristian? Are you going to leave him here?

-Actually? Serena stretched to arch a brow,-I'll have to take him with me if I go back to the country.

- Lord Angelo-will he agree?

From her point of view, that Angel was really difficult to be around. Something that would not have been easy to achieve, the key was that he was dissatisfied with Serena. If Serena brought Cristian back to the country, Anna believed that Angelo would not agree with her character, and might even lock them under house arrest.

Serena's face reached a new sadness when Angelo was mentioned.

It was true, when Cristian had promised him, Serena had already thought of this. She did not think Angelo would agree.

But neither was she a person who would not do one thing to humor another person. She had just remembered that Cristian's grandfather, was also her savior.

If he had not been there, there would have been no Cristian this time.

Why-why was she worrying? He was worrying about leaving the elder in a quandary; he had reached old age anyway. Perhaps what he wanted to do was to accompany his children and grandchildren more.

One could see this gentleman's desire for family affinity and companionship by looking at Angelo's expression and the eyes with which he looked at Beatrice, and even Manuel afterwards.

Perhaps.

An idea came to Serena in her mind, and then slowly took shape.

After a moment, Serena chuckled slightly, -I always find the right way to deal with problems, that day has not come yet, let's spend the day first as what it is.

-Since when do you take your time like this? It's hard to get people used to it.

Serena entered, -I've always been a well-off person, you just didn't know me well before. Okay, if you want to make lunch, I'll help you.

-You're pregnant, aren't you? I'm afraid I'll be killed by Mr. Cristian with my eyes if he knows you're cooking with me.

Even though she had said it that way, Anna still let it pass on her side.

It had been a long time since the two of them had been so close and talked extravagantly.

As they chatted with great interest, Anna told Serena about Luke all of a sudden.

Then she could not bear to tell about him.

-Do you think this person is strange? He asks me to speak well of him for the annual bonus on the one hand, on the other hand he seems to be angry. Are you saying that if this person is very strange, you want me to speak well of him or not?

Serena stopped what she was doing and looked at Anna who was complaining.

"This girl ... didn't have any accouterments? It was a very obvious thing, didn't she get it? "

For a moment, Serena did not know what to say. She only pitied Luca suddenly, she was almost certain that if Luca continued to do this, Anna would never realize that she liked him in her whole life.

Serena rolled her eyes and hesitated to say something to make it a little clearer to Anna.

Anna suddenly raised her hand and held the garlic tightly with the knife when she was hesitating.

-It is also very strange, it seems to me that he is jealous...but I have no proof.

-Serena looked at her, said tentatively, -Maybe he really is jealous?

Chapter 976: Stay!

Anna kept touching the garlic, and then quickly cut it into several pieces.

Looking at the garlic, Serena asked curiously, "Are you going to eat it?"

-would that be a problem? -Anna replied.

-No, of course not, what I meant was, do you like the taste of garlic?

After his words, Anna immediately reacted and said, -You're right, my better half is still here, I shouldn't eat garlic. If I have a chance to talk to him in private, garlic breath will be very bad for him when I open my mouth.

Thinking of this, Anna immediately threw the cut garlic into the garbage.

Then she quickly cleaned the kitchen knife and the table.

-Thank goodness you warned me," Anna murmured.

She looked intensely at Anna, Serena found no sign of dodging her gaze, she seemed to have forgotten all the words between them.

-Doesn't care about them, or out of carelessness? -Serena thought and said, -Well...did you hear what I said?

-On what? -Anna replied.

-Maybe Luke is jealous,|| said Serena.

-That's impossible! -Anna shouted.

-How do you know? You're suspicious, too, aren't you? You're not sure, that's all," Serena replied.

-You're right, I am a little suspicious, but I consider it carefully, I think it's impossible that Luca fell in love with me. We have known each other for a long time, if he liked me he would tell me. However, he denied it when I asked him that day. I really regret asking him for quick impulses, I am so ashamed that

I asked such a question.

-Well, I don't know what I can tell her. I'd better stay out of her business," Serena thought.

And Serena said nothing more; the two people cooked in silence.

At that moment, Cristian fell asleep, so Serena prepared a ration of food for him in advance, when he woke up, it would be more convenient for him to eat.

When Serena got the food in the refrigerator, she heard Matteo Giordano say something.

-Tomorrow I go back to my country," Matteo said.

After his words, the chopsticks that had been in Anna's hand fell to the floor.

It seemed that time had not passed, after a while, Anna lowered her head in embarrassment, and prepared to pick up the chopsticks that had slipped.

But one person acted more nimbly than she did, Luke picked up the chopsticks and put them on the table, then went to the kitchen to get another pair of chopsticks for Anna.

When he received the chopsticks, Anna was uncomfortable and said, -has he...?

-You don't know how to hold chopsticks well, how clumsy," scolded Luke in a low voice.

Immediately Anna opened her eyes furiously.

But she did not feel like paying attention to his insults, Anna turned her gaze to Matthew and asked intensely, -When we got into the car, you said you would stay for a few days, didn't you? Why are you leaving tomorrow? Are you in a hurry, is it easy to book places?

-Chiara Gatti will handle it well," Matteo replied.

Hearing Chiara's name, Anna was silent and thought, "Yes, so many days have passed, it's time for Chiara to start working. She will be able to take care of all the business she has to take care of.

After a while Anna said, "Can I go back with you? Now I'm going to book seats.

After the words, she ate no more, and went to her room to get her cell phone, leaving the bowl and chopsticks on the table.

Everyone remained silent.

Serena cast a furtive glance at Luke, she was in doubt from her normal expressions, there seemed to be no change of mood for Luke. But after thinking for a while, Serena dispelled the suspicion, after all, Luca was working under Cristian Ferrari's direction, for them, his joy and anger were invisible.

-Why are you in such a hurry, Matteo? I didn't know you were leaving tomorrow," Serena asked, and took a bowl of broth for herself.

Matteo turned his gaze to his sister and said in a softer tone, -Something thorny has come up in the company, I have to go back and undo it. I thought I could stay a few more days with you, but the current situation does not allow me to. Be careful, I know it is difficult for you to be in a foreign country alone. If you will have difficulties, don't endure them alone, I am your strongest support.

Saying this, Matthew paused. His lips moved slightly, he seemed to have something on the tip of his tongue.

After a while he said slowly, "Although the Calligaris family is strong, the Giordano family is not shy, you know what I mean?"

Serena was stunned, yes, she understood him well.

Serena thought: -Matteo was afraid that Angelo Calligaris would act against Serena, even with the strength of his family, what it meant to her was that if she needed the Giordano family, he would help her and not back down, no matter what happens.

-I have an older brother like Matteo who is so strong, who is so good, I feel like he could save the world," Serena thought.

Said Serena with tear-filled eyes, -Matteo.

-OK, let's drink the broth," replied Matteo.

Serena drank the broth, lowering her head, but Luca was looking at her at that moment. He did not think Matteo would treat Serena so tenderly.

-But the way he spoke to Anna was so cold.

-Was that the reason Anna was so sad?

-However, I am no one, I am in no position to scold her. Actually, I did not play with Anna's feelings, my attitude is clear.

-If Anna continues to lose herself in her emotions, she will be in trouble,|| Luca thought.

At this thought, Luca's heart ached.

-If Anna continues to fall in love with Matteo, being unrepentant like me, what could happen? -Luca thought.

-Oh, no! Why are there no empty seats for tomorrow? -I didn't think there were no more seats available for tomorrow, why do so many passengers want to return to their country in the morning? It's so strange.

As Anna said this, she stood up next to Matteo, looking at him with a pained look, and said, -Could you stay a few more days, don't you still have enough time to have a nice talk with Serena?

Matteo frowned and replied, -There is an emergency in the company, I have to go out.

Hearing his tone, Anna felt she had no more chance, bit her lip and returned to her seat, lowering her head.

Everyone could see that Anna had lost her spirit.

Everyone was thinking their own thoughts at lunch.

Lunch over, Serena did not take long to return to her room.

Late in the evening, Domenico had come for the Calligaris family's command, and he had invited everyone to dinner at his house.

Thinking that Matteo would be out in the morning, Serena agreed to his request because she had to discuss precisely some business with Angelo.

-Of course, it is not an insignificant thing, I will have to explain it well to Angelo. With Manuel's efforts, I don't know if he will be kinder to me," Serena thought.

Anna was in no mood to do anything about Matteo's departure, and when the others decided to have dinner at Angelo's house, she refused.

Matteo did not feel like going, but she could not ignore him, considering the relationship between them and Serena.

-As a member of the Giordano family, I have to go," Matteo thought.

In the end, what was left was Luca and Anna.

Luke was trying to go with them, but when he left the house, Cristian made a profound gesture to him and said, -Stay!

Chapter 977: Selfishness

Luca did not understand why Cristian said this and asked, -Did I do something wrong, Cristian?

Moving his lips, Cristian thought for a while and said, -You have worked with me for many years, haven't you?

Although he had lost his memory of the past, he could see that Luke understood all his habits well, a perfect cooperation had been found between the two of them.

With a glance or an action, Cristian understood immediately.

-No doubt we have worked together for many years," Cristian thought.

Luca nodded in response, -Yes, Cristian.

-Because it is the truth, because of the relationship between us, I have to do something for you,|| said

Cristian.

Luca said, -Cristian?

-I give you a chance, if you fail, it means you don't have enough ability,|| said Cristian.

After the words, Cristian gave him a deep gesture and walked out.

He had no intention of meddling in her affairs, but at noon, Serena returned to the room and described her story to him, while Cristian was eating, he presented a worried expression.

He scolded Serena that there was no need to worry about other people's messes.

Serena told him that she knew they were other people's problems, but they were her friends; she could not leave them.

And then Cristian learned more details about that story in general.

He was selfish, because Luca worked for him.

Therefore, Cristian was eager to look for an opportunity for him.

As for the outcome, it would depend on Luca's actions.

Luca looked at Cristian's silhouette with displeased eyes.

What Cristian had said was what Luca thought, he also remembered something else, Cristian had also encountered many difficulties in that matter.

-Why did he allude to the fact that I am not able to do it now? -Luke thought.

When the others set out, Luca was lying on the sofa, and Anna left the room.

-Don't you have dinner at his house? -Seeing Luca, Anna said hesitantly.

She thought Luca was always by Cristian's side, but this time he was not, and asked, -You're not going with Cristian?

Meeting Anna's gaze, Luca said slowly, -It's a family reunion, it's not appropriate for me.

-You're right,|| he had declined her invitation for the same reason.

-It's a family meeting, they will discuss many things, strangers would be very embarrassed.

-That's why, I'd better not go.... - Anna thought.

She was trying to find something to eat, and did not know what she would find with Luca, her appearance was a surprise, but at the same time she was a little embarrassed, because it seemed that her words at noon had irritated Luca.

Luca didn't answer her, and the phenomenon was more embarrassing, Anna hesitated for a while and then said, -Well... I didn't want to say it at noon, don't worry, I'll say other good things for you to Serena, even if I don't, no doubt Serena will do me the favor of doing it for you to Cristian.

-All right," Luca replied, noticing her head.

Anna added, "Also, before I return the coat I borrowed during the day, I will clean it. Thank you very much.

-Well, -Luca noticed his head again, his voice was very weak.

It seemed a little strange to him, Luca hardly spoke at all today.

-Are you angry with me? - Anna asked.

Luca looked up and looked at her.

-Why? -Luca replied.

The most mocking thing was that he could not be angry, and what he could do was to be left alone in a heavy mood.

-Because I ignored you, but I didn't do it on purpose, the truth is that Matteo means a lot to me, that's why,|| Anna explained.

-Matthew means a lot to you? -Does his importance mean that he is the only one?

Anna was silent.

She did not know if Matthew was the only one for her.

No one had ever asked her this question, so when Luca asked it, she did not know how to answer him.

She liked Matteo, but she hadn't secretly fallen in love with him, she hadn't thought about the future, it was like looking for her own undoing, when Anna saw him, she was always lost in looking for Matteo's shadow, she never paid attention to his actions.

Everything was covered by her consideration.

Therefore, she did not know whether Matthew was the right one for her.

Noticing his head, Anna quietly said, -I don't know if he is the one for me, but now what I want to do is to be closer to his heart, and to be with him.

Public displays of such moving affection penetrated Luke's heart.

However, the words that existed in his ears were insulting and satirical.

-I stay here that it is not possible to listen to him. No, of course not.

A voice cried out in his heart.

-Go fight, Luke, fight for a chance for yourself. When that man hasn't accepted it yet, steal his heart, do it even if you can only occupy a corner of his heart" The voice was still shouting in his mind, but Luca moved nothing in his body, his lowered eyes had hidden all the strong emotions.

After a long silence in the room, Anna suddenly realized the embarrassing phenomenon, and covered her mouth with her hand.

-My God, what did I say?

-I blurted out all my sincere desires to a man, I caused a problem,|| Anna thought.

-Well, I'm going to get something to eat, do you want to come with me? -he asked.

At that moment, Luca was angry, if she wanted to reject him, it was normal. Therefore, Anna thought that she would not accept his invitation, however, as soon as she had said that, Luca stood up.

-Come on, what shall we eat? - Luca asked.

-Let's see and then decide,|| answered Anna.

Anna returned to the room and grabbed a coat. She was afraid of the winter cold, so she took a hat and a scarf. When she came out, she was like a round mass.

However, standing in front of Luca, she saw nothing vituperative against herself. Leaving the house together, Anna looked everywhere.

Seeing her action, Luca checked the map with his cell phone and said to her, "There is a gourmet alley nearby, do you want to go see?"

After his words, Anna's eyes sparkled with desire.

-Gastronomic alley? Very well, shall we walk? -Anna asked.

-Well, it's a fifteen-minute walk, if it's too far for you,|| said Luke.

-Of course not, if we can find some gastronomic delights even if we walk fifteen minutes, it will be worth it,|| replied Anna.

-What exists in her mind is only food, and nothing else,|| thought Luca.

When the two of them arrived in the alley, Anna started shopping for all kinds of food, in general, she wanted to try everything.

Luca was following her, and a smile appeared on his mouth, seeing that Anna was as cheerful as a sparrow.

-If she could be so cheerful forever, that would be nice,|| thought Luca.

-What a pity! Her smile could only appear now, when we come back, everything will absolutely disappear," Luca thought about this, and put out the fire in his heart.

-Let's eat barbecue and drink beer in that tent, what do you think, Luca? -Anna asked.

When Luca was deep in thought, Anna signaled to him, following his glances, Luca frowned and said, -

Shall we drink beer?

Chapter 978: Don't underestimate me.

-Do you want to drink again?

-He hadn't had enough to drink, so did he want to continue?

-Or was he in a bad mood?

Thinking about this, Luca looked at Anna unconsciously. He found no sign of sadness, no sweet laughter on her face, her eyes shining in the glow of light.

-I just want to drink a little, besides, beer is not the same as alcoholic beverages, it's not that easy to get drunk, don't worry, I won't get you into trouble," Anna said.

Luca closed his mouth slightly and did not answer her.

He wasn't afraid of trouble, he just didn't want to see her say another man's name in front of him when she was drunk.

-Yes or no? -Anna asked with her head bowed, seeing that he didn't say anything; he was very charming and sweet.

When he saw her ape-like gesture, Luca unconsciously nodded his head and swallowed his saliva.

-Thank you! -Luca replied.

With Luca's permission, Anna quickly ran to the address with happiness, Luca looked at her with narrowed eyes.

-Are you cuddling me? -Luca thought.

No doubt Anna had come here to approve the gastronomic delights, she had bought a lot of barbecue and some beers. Anna poured beer into Luca's glass and hers, and then raised their glasses to toast.

-Come on, let's toast us! -said Anna.

But Luca did not quite understand her.

-Although all of Serena's relatives are together, we accompany each other. Even if we are in a foreign country, we can eat and drink here with someone by our side, it's the most beautiful thing for us, isn't it?

-Anna explained.

Luca thought she was right, so he nodded.

Anna raised her head and took the beer in one go, her way of drinking it was very heroic, and poured it into both of their glasses at once.

-Let's go ahead, man, let's not fill up, let's not go back," she said.

-Stop drinking so much, don't forget what you said when you entered the store,|| replied Luke.

-How? -Well, I don't remember what I said, anyway, I won't get drunk, we are walking, and if you are getting drunk, lean on my arm," Anna said.

Luca was speechless and thought, -Support me on your arm? With your body so weak?

Are you convinced you are supporting me with your frail body? I don't want to hurt you if I fall," said Luca laughing.

-It's impossible," Anna explained unsatisfactorily, "don't underestimate me. I am strong, if you get drunk without consciousness, I am able to take you home. If you really fall and throw yourself completely on me, you won't hurt me at all.

-Throw yourself on you? -Thought Luke, reminding him of having sex, the image flashed through his mind quickly, but he pushed it out of his mind immediately, blushing rapidly.

-Aha, we haven't started drinking yet, why are you turning red like a tomato? - Anna asked.

Anna, however, did not know what he was thinking and thought it was all the alcohol's fault, so she teased him: -You are not capable of drinking much, eh?

Luca passed his gaze over her and said, -You don't understand me.

Anna noticed his head carefully and said, -No, I understand you just fine! But, don't worry, I won't divulge it. I know you are sensitive about your reputation, like what happened at noon, I didn't take your feelings into account, and I said something wrong, you are so vindictive.

After the words, Anna began to pour more beer into her glass, at first she toasted Luca symbolically, but every time she did, Luca urged her to drink.

Finally, Anna stopped toasting with him simply, drank alone, and did not want to talk to him.

Without realizing how much time had passed, Anna realized that their faces were hot, and she felt dizzy, supported her head with her hands as she looked at Luca with misty eyes.

-You blush more! -Anna shouted.

Although it was the truth, Luca seemed to sit calmly, and gradually savored the chopstick meals. Under Anna's gaze, the temperature of his face continued to rise.

After a while, Luca raised his head and met her gaze.

-Why are you looking at me, are you already full? -Anna asked.

Looking at the person in front of her, Anna shook her head vigorously, but found two silhouettes, seeing double.

-Aha! There are two Luke,|| said Anna.

And then,she laughed out loud.

Seeing this, Luke put down his chopsticks and thought without remedy: -She told me she would never get drunk, and she was capable of drinking, but the result is this.

-Looks like you're full,|| Luca said, and then went to the cash register. He thought about taking Anna home, but when he paid for his meals, he found that Anna was heading toward the street, stumbling.

Luca's color changed, and he immediately moved forward.

But Anna staggered and about to drop him, Luca raised his hands and A picked him up.

Boom!

Anna's soft cheeks collided against Luca's chest, he lowered his head and found that his face was rippling from the blow, and said desperately, -Why didn't you wait for me sitting down? You are already drunk, how can you think of going home alone and putting both feet out!

Anna mumbled, sounding like she hadn't heard Luke's words, cheered him on and kept walking as she said, -no... don't follow me, I can-I can drink more. Cheers.

Luca stepped forward and squeezed her slender wrist, and scolded her: -collaborate, hey! We'll talk about this later.

-No, I won't go home, there's no one waiting for me at home, I don't want to go,|| Anna cried, her eyes were full of tears, which made her eyes shine brighter, she looked very poor.

-Let's go for a walk to relax, shall we? -he asked.

-A walk? It's so cold, she said she wants to go for a walk now, are you kidding? -Luca thought.

But Luca did not know how to refuse her request, supporting her gently, and said, -No problem, but not now.... It's already very late, we have to go home.

Anna was still insistent with her action, but she was not as strong as Luca, besides, she was drunk, so she was taken home quickly.

When they returned, Luca helped her lie down on the sofa.

This time Anna was not as loud as before, the last time she got drunk she had screamed for a long time. Although she was noisy in the street today, she had been quiet since they had come home.

When Luke helped her back into the room, Anna quickly held on to her coat and quickly ran to her bed.

She was lying on the bed, with some strange sounds coming out of her mouth.

Luca adjusted the temperature of the air conditioner to the most comfortable setting, then tucked her in.

Watching her fall asleep, he left the room.

He washed up in the bathroom, and when he finished, Cristian and Serena had not yet returned.

Luca stayed at Anna's bedroom door for a while, inside it was quiet, and went to the balcony, bored.

Angelo's house.

At that moment, the servants set the table well, Domenico was standing nearby, looked at everyone present and exclaimed, "It seems like it's never been so lively here.

Chapter 979: Controlling emotions well

For so many years, Angelo Calligaris had eaten alone.

Although Domenico accompanied him, they were, after all, two old men, so there were not many topics to talk about between them. How bitter!

Angelo had not been born to be alone; he had enjoyed life with his wife and daughter, and many mistresses. Without his inner fortitude, it was impossible to live life like that for so long.

Now his youngest daughter was with him.

Although his other daughter was not by his side, his grandson had come with his relatives, it was a family of three. Oh no, it was already a family of four.

Matthew had also attended with Serena.

There were eight people present, including Dominic and Angelo.

What a liveliness!

Angelo was smiling, it was a laughter that appeared in his eyes, in his heart and in his face, and

Manuel was sitting next to him, which gave him more pleasure.

Thanks to Manuel, Angelo had more sympathy for Serena than before.

In fact, he had hardly ever sympathized with Serena, with his pride, one could not tell.

However, Manuel's company was like a brainwashing for Angelo; if he had made a liking rating for Serena, it would have been seventy points out of a hundred.

But he was still proud, so he could not express his satisfaction with Serena, leaving his dignity behind.

Fortunately, he had greeted Matteo, and then the two of them had talked for a while.

They were heads of the same group, so they had a lot to talk about.

It did not take long for him to rectify his opinion of Matteo; Angelo considered him a trustworthy person.

During dinner, Manuel often spoke for Serena in front of Angelo.

However, Beatrice Marchetti was distracted, looking at so many people, thoughts raced through her mind, and she was reminded of the past.

At that time, she was very young, her older sister was the one who was kindest to her.

Since she had given birth to Beatrice, her mother had had some health problems, she had spent some years in bed, although she had treated herself with very expensive medicine, she had eventually left this world.

When her mother died, Iris Marchetti became the kindest to Beatrice.

She cared for Beatrice as if she were her own daughter. Angelo was very sad about the woman's death, in fact, he had been sick, and then, overcome by homesickness, because of that, many business matters were postponed.

Then, after putting his wife's affairs in order, Angelo had many things to undo, and he naturally ignored his daughters.

At first his daughters understood him, but gradually the relations between them grew weaker and weaker.

For children, the company of parents is very important.

But the words the two girls heard most were that Angelo would have work commitments, and they would not have to wait for him to have dinner together.

They would see each other less at first, and then they would have no more time to be together.

Beatrice scoffed in her heart at the thought.

-Angelo's only virtue was that he sincerely fell in love with his wife, his mother died very early, her price was already astronomical, many women wanted to be with him, but he ignored them.

-The widower did not marry anyone or flirt with anyone.

-The pity was that he wanted too much to control everything in his hands.

-He persuaded Iris to marry the son of his business partner, and forced Iris and me to leave the family.

-If he hadn't done that, Iris wouldn't have died,|| thought Beatrice.

-Beatrice! -quoted Manuel.

When Beatrice was lost in her thoughts, an immature voice woke her up. She looked up and met Manuel's innocent and curious gaze; he asked, -Why are you crying, Beatrice?

Hearing this, everyone present turned their heads toward Beatrice out of curiosity.

Beatrice was stunned, touched her cheeks with her hand unconsciously, and tears rose to her eyes.

-Am I crying? I hadn't noticed," Beatrice exclaimed in her heart.

It was unexpected for her; what she had done was remember the past, and then she was lost in her thoughts.

She could not get over the flood of memories and cried.

-It's a blunder. There are a lot of people here, besides, most of them are from the younger generation,"

Beatrice thought.

At that moment, Beatrice immediately stood up and showed a laugh, although it was forced, and explained, -It will be because of the spicy dishes, I'm going to wash my face.

After the words, she turned around and went to the bathroom.

The phenomenon had begun to get stranger since that interlude. Although Beatrice kept a laugh on her face, after her departure, everyone was no longer in the mood to talk.

Even Serena was worried about her. After some thought, she put her chopsticks down on the table and said, standing up, "I'm going to take a look.

No one held her back, Cristian said in a low tone, "If you need me, tell me.

-All right," Serena replied.

Serena went to the bathroom, the Calligaris family home was very large, with the help of the servants, eventually, Serena managed to find the bathroom.

What she did not know, however, was that after she had left, Cristian had said to Angelo, who was sitting across from him, "Grandpa, I have something to tell you.

When Serena reached the bathroom, she thanked the servants. They replied that they were not needed with reverence and awe, and then went out.

Serena entered the bathroom, thinking that she would have to look for a while, however, with only a glance, she was able to find that Beatrice was standing there watching, leaning against the sink. There were still traces of tears on her cheeks. She did not seem to be in a hurry to leave, so she had not washed when she entered the bathroom.

Hearing the sound of footsteps, Beatrice turned her eyes in the direction. When she realized it was Serena, she smiled and said, "You come.

Serena stopped her steps and looked at Beatrice confused.

Because she was Cristian's aunt, but, in fact, she was not very close with her. Now seeing her laughing with tears, Serena was very sad.

-In fact, you didn't need to come, I can control my emotions well,|| Beatrice said at that moment.

Serena moved her lips slightly, walked over to her and stood beside her, handed her some napkins.

-Clean them, Beatrice," said Serena.

She looked at the napkins for a while, and took them, Beatrice took one out to wipe away the tears, sniffing, and said: -In fact, I remembered the past, and felt many emotions, they were not of sadness.

-But the tears came spontaneously, if Manuel hadn't remembered me, I wouldn't have noticed,|| thought Beatrice.

-The past...|| murmured Serena.

-Yes, that man... It is his fault, if he had not forced us, we would not have run away from home. If we hadn't run away from the house, we wouldn't have--my older sister, Iris, who is your mother-in-law, wouldn't have died.

Chapter 980: I was bound to meet you

Mother-in-law...

She was Cristian Ferrari's mother, Iris Marchetti.

That person... At first he had told her about Cristian.

When there had been contradictions between Cristian and Leonardo Ferrari, Cristian had told her about Iris, so Serena believed that her unknown mother-in-law was a very chaste and strict woman.

When she found out that her husband was flirting with another woman, she decided to divorce him immediately, and they would not see each other again for the rest of their lives.

Serena envied Iris for her determined and resolute character.

Therefore, Cristian hated Leonardo very much.

But.

-Let's get to the point, actually, these are just my personal opinions, there is no assumption in the world. If there were, many people would not die, nor would this happen. Be that as it may, it is good that we meet today. Said Beatrice with tears, everything is destiny, Iris and I's life was marked by running away from home, Iris met a bad man who was also lucky, it was just that the people of the Ferrari family would bring Cristian home, and he would be destined to meet you.

Serena did not answer her.

-It's all fate's fault," Beatrice murmured, lowering her gaze.

-Serena approached her and patted her lightly on the back.

-Yes, I know,|| Beatrice washed her face in the sink and smiled, -all right, we'll be right back.

-Wait, Beatrice, I have something to tell you," Serena said.

-What? -said Beatrice.

She hesitated for a moment looking at Beatrice, then Serena told her everything she and Cristian had decided.

After the words, Beatrice's expression did not change at all, and she said, -It's okay, it's your business, if you have already decided, it's okay.

Serena was surprised, she did not think Beatrice would agree so easily.

-Beatrice, I have..." Serena wanted to explain.

-Are you afraid Angelo won't accept it? Don't worry, if Angelo continues to be stubborn, I have ideas to wrong him," and then, Beatrice gestured to hit him, -unless he is going to abandon me, I can make decisions for you.

-Actually, I'm afraid Angelo will be angry, he's too old," Serena said.

-Well, I have a good remedy," Beatrice replied.

-What is it? Serena asked.

-Now Angelo gives all his attention to Manuel, if you want, you can leave Manuel by his side," Beatrice explained.

-No way," Serena refused.

Serena shook her head, and shook her head firmly, -No. She could not take advantage of her son to get her way.

She could not take advantage of her son to achieve her goals, which would deprive her of her freedom, she could not do that.

-I knew you would not accept that, and well we can say that and no more. Don't take it seriously. When you return home with Manuel, leave him to me," Beatrice said.

The meaning of these words was that they could do whatever they wanted, and that to stop noticing the outcome, no matter what happened, would help them solve everything.

-He is our guardian angel,|| Serena thought.

When they returned to the party, she realized that the phenomenon was a little strange.

Serena had thought it was all Beatrice's fault, so she did not continue to think about it. When Serena sat down, Angelo's glances met hers, which were like sharp knives, startled Serena to death.

-What had happened?

-Was he going to the bathroom to check on Beatrice who had upset him?

-Or did Angelo not change his mind at all with Manuel's help? -thought

With many doubts in her mind, Serena could not ask her face. She endured their cold stares until the end of dinner, and Angelo snapped at her and said, -Come with me to the study room.

Serena raised her head and assured Angelo's glances, no doubt he would talk to her.

-But why study hall?

-Well, whatever his reasons, I have something to tell him, perfect,|| Serena thought.

So, Serena would answer him.

However, at that moment, Cristian's cold voice suddenly sounded.

-If you have something urgent, tell me, don't make things difficult for Serena,|| said Cristian.

Serena did not understand them well.

Angelo was irritated by her act of protecting Serena, and shouted, -Am I giving her a hard time? I just wanted to say something to her in the study hall, and nothing more. Why do you say that? I know you like Serena, but it's no big deal.

Cristian's gaze was as cold as ice, and he added: -Angelo, I'm making myself understood, on the surface, you want to say something to her, but you will definitely give her a hard time.

-How, you! -Angelo was all trembling with anger and spoke no more.

At the same time, Serena took Cristian's hands, approached Angelo and said in a low voice, -Angelo, I'm coming with you.

Cristian frowned and grabbed her wrist, Serena lightly squeezed his palm to give him the signal to let go and said softly, -Nothing will happen, we will talk and nothing else, he won't attack me, relax.

-Yes, just talk and that's all.

-But I'm afraid Angelo will say something bad that will hurt you, that's why I wanted to protect you and I didn't want you to go,|| Cristian thought.

She was not there, so she did not know what had happened between them, Cristian said, -When you went to look for Beatrice, I told Angelo that we were going back to the country.

After his words, Serena was surprised, and now it was understandable that Angelo's appearance was so terrible, the reason was that he had said everything himself.

Wow...

-Ok, I know,|| Serena nodded, gently clapped Cristian's hands and said, -It won't take long, if you're worried, you can wait for me at the door.

And then Serena entered the study room following Angelo's footsteps. Cristian stood in the doorway, his expression serious. In the distance, Beatrice saw him, came down and said to Manuel, "Look,

Cristian is like a puppy now, isn't he?

Manuel did not answer her.

And Matteo said nothing by his side, no sign of emotion could be found on his face.

But after her words, Matteo moved his lips slightly and looked at her.

-That woman is Cristian's aunt, isn't she?

-Why do you say that? -Matteo thought, unable to believe it without seeing it with his own eyes.

Manuel blinked and said purely, -If you hadn't said that, I wouldn't have noticed.

Matthew also looked at Manuel.

-Well, Beatrice had a new partner to tease Cristian with, and to top it off, it was her son," Matteo thought.

As Serena's older brother, Matteo thought that nothing had happened.

However, as a man, he pitied Cristian a lot.
