Chapter 16 All the Gorgeous Ladies are Mine

Back at the hotel, Poppy did not undress straightaway. Instead, she sat on the side of the bed and watched Anthony solemnly, “You have two options – first, if you promise to help me to secure a contract tomorrow, I will grant you a pleasurable night with me; second, I will give you a year to pursue me. If you are successful, I will be your wife!”

A pleasurable night? Going against the Hammel family? What kind of deal was this? But, they were a rather good deal. Poppy was a very beautiful woman. If he could sleep with someone like her, he would die without regrets. However, with such beauty, how could Anthony be satisfied with just a single night?

“Haha, there’s no need to think. Of course, it is the second option. You are beautiful like a flower, only a handsome man could be a worthy match to you!” Previously, Anthony would not even dare to imagine that he had a chance to be with a beautiful chairman of a company. But now that he had Carnelian vision, he felt that nothing was impossible.

Upon hearing Anthony’s choice, Poppy sighed in relief, “I knew you would choose that. Let me reward you!”

As she spoke, she gently leaned onto Anthony, and they hugged each other tightly. When they separated a while later, Poppy’s clothes were a mess, “You naughty boy. My room is next door. Have a good rest! Tomorrow, I have a meeting to discuss a contract. Once the contract is signed, I will bring you sightseeing in New York City!”

Anthony nodded in agreement. As he had just acquired an incredible ability, he needed time to consider his future. Previously, he planned to come to New York to look for a job. He expected to begin from an entry-level position and work nine to five. However, in just one night, he had suddenly acquired five million and had Carnelian vision. He felt that he needed to plan his future carefully.

Will my special power disappear suddenly? Is there anyone else in this world with my powers?

He stood at the balcony and felt the cool wind brushing against him. As Anthony was thinking, he suddenly noticed that the sky was covered in streaks of golden light. Anthony was excited. Is this the meteor rain? No, I must make a wish quickly. I wish that I will always have unrivaled good looks and be admired by all who see me.

Anthony did not realize that a giant ray of golden light broke off from the sky and entered his body as he was closing his eyes. He felt a sudden warmth and an irresistible desire to sleep. Anthony could not fight his drowsiness. He didn’t bother to take a bath. He plopped down on his bed and fell asleep immediately.

At this moment, in the tallest telecommunication tower in New York, a few men in black attire appeared grave, “Boss, this is not good. Based on the monitor, we had only absorbed half of the Reiki released by the Relic. Someone has absorbed the other half!”

A man in a black windbreaker stood in front of the others. He looked at the city below and sighed, “So, there’s another Awakener in the city. This is not good. You guys have three days to find him. If he doesn’t pledge alliance with us, kill him.”

“Yes, sir!” The men in black answered. Their bodies began to glow, and in a blink of an eye, they disappeared.

Anthony was asleep on his bed. He felt as if he was floating in the ocean, and this made him feel very comfortable. At the same time, he continuously felt something being pulled out from within his body.

The next day morning, Anthony was awakened by an extremely unpleasant stench. He opened his eyes and jumped up, “Goodness, what’s happening?”
