Chapter 1051 His Secret Affair

Clare's POV:

Despite my conscience, I chose to hide what I had seen from my mother. After all, I was yet to ascertain the truth about the matter and the current relationship between my father and the woman involved. I refrained from sharing this baseless information with my mother, fearing that she would not believe it and the matter might cause her great sadness and distrust towards my father.

"I didn't see Dad. Maybe I overlooked him. I'll go to the supermarket to look for him then," I reasoned out.

For fear I would lose control of my emotions, I hung up the call as soon as I finished speaking.

Chapter 1052 Upset

Clare's POV:

Mom returned home after purchasing the mayonnaise. When we were having dinner, mom suddenly said, "Clare, I want your father to change his job."

I thought my mother said this because she discovered that my father had cheated on her with his coworker or something.

But I remained calm and asked her, "Why?"

I was waiting for my mother to take the initiative to tell me about it, but I didn't anticipate her to remark, "Because your father has been working overtime frequently. I'm not sure what is happening at the company. When he receives an unexpected call, he always takes a taxi and leaves immediately. Your father requires time to heal from his injury. His health will deteriorate if he always works overtime."

Chapter 1053 The Dream

Clare's POV:

I didn't know how long I stayed in the bathtub. I hadn't even noticed that the water had already turned cold until Lennon knocked on the bathroom door.

I immediately got up from the bathtub and put on my bathrobe before opening the door.

As soon as he came in, he reached out for my waist and pulled me into an embrace. He looked worried as he asked, "Clare, tell me the truth. Is there something bothering you? You've been in a daze ever since you came back from visiting your parents."

Chapter 1054 Meeting The Lover

Clare's POV:

I felt down over the past few days, so I called my mother every day to check in on her and my father.

My mother must have sensed that something was up, so she asked me what had happened. Not wanting her to worry, I simply said that I missed her.

I was aware it would do no good if I dragged on the situation. Therefore, I mustered all my courage and called my father.

"What's the matter, Clare? Why did you suddenly call?" he asked, a little surprised.

I forced myself to calm down and not let my emotions get the better of me. "Hey, Dad. Can we meet over lunch? I need to talk to you about something."

"Yes, my dear," my father replied with a smile. "But my lunch break is just an hour long. I can't go too far."

Chapter 1055 Confession

Clare's POV:

My father didn't answer my question. It seemed like he even wanted to deny it, but I didn't give him any chances to do so. "Please don't deny it, dad. You didn't work overtime that night when I went back for dinner, right?"

My father's eyes widened in shock. "You misunderstood me, Clare. I don't know where you heard these rumors, but please give me a chance to explain. It's not what you think. I really don't—"

Chapter 1056 Another Child

Clare's POV:

My father fell silent upon hearing my question.

Well, he did not have to answer it. His silence and expression were enough to confirm my guess.

A sinking feeling emerged at the pit of my stomach, but I tried to remain calm and composed.

"This is the first time I've seen your ex-girlfriend. And I admit, Mom may not be as gentle nor as considerate as her. As a man, you must've had a hard time resisting such a woman. But your marriage with Mom has always been fine. You know, I used to boast to my classmates that my parents never argued. I guess I was wrong. Was it only my imagination that you and my mother love each other?"

Chapter 1057 Complain To Lennon

Clare's POV:

Lennon came downstairs to find me after he hung up the phone. He approached and took me in his arms as he worriedly asked, "Why are you suddenly visiting my company? What happened?"

I wanted to cry when he did that, but I didn't want to look stupid in front of other people, so I held it in and said, "I want to tell you something."

"All right, let's go upstairs."

He let go of me, turned to hold my hand, and led me to the exclusive elevator. He said to the receptionist as he passed by the front desk, "This is my wife. If she wants to see me, she should come directly to me from now on."

Chapter 1058 Lennon And Angel Were Photographed

Clare's POV:

Bryce, one of Lennon's assistants, was the one who knocked on the door. He was astounded to see the two of us holding each other. He immediately lowered his head and said, "I'm sorry, Mr. Torres, but I must let you know that everyone who has to attend the meeting this afternoon has already arrived and is waiting for you in the conference room."

Lennon replied, "I'm in the middle of something right now. Tell them that the meeting is postponed."

I didn't want him to delay his work because of me, so I quickly stood up and stopped his assistant. I called out to Bryce, who was about to leave and said, "You don't have to inform them. Just let them wait a moment."

Chapter 1059 Lennon Got Angry

Clare's POV:

After a while, Julie knocked on the door and entered again. She was carrying a slice of cake of my favorite flavor from my favorite cake shop.

I knew why she sent me the cake, so I grinned and stated, "I've seen the photo you mentioned. You don't need to worry about me because I'm not particularly furious."

"This is my treat." Julie heaved a sigh of relief. She smiled and handed me the cake. "You are a wonderful woman. Not every woman can keep her cool when she sees the photo of her husband with an attractive woman entering a hotel."

I looked at her gratefully and replied, "It's nothing. I won't be affected by something so insignificant."

Chapter 1060 Stacy's Promise

Clare's POV:

For a moment, Lennon was stunned. But once he regained his composure, he explained in a serious tone, "Of course. I pushed her away and warned her. But I didn't know someone had already taken photos of it, which led to this."

When I finally got the answer I wanted, I could not help but smile in relief. "I knew it. But still, it's not quite gentlemanly to do that."

Lennon leaned over and kissed me on the lips. "I'm only a gentleman when I'm with my wife."

Just as I was about to kiss him back, my phone rang, interrupting the romantic atmosphere between us. I sat up straight and answered the call.
