

Warning 1071

Chapter 1071 Tilda's Resignation

Clare's POV:

Zakai would be taken better care of if he was transferred to Kinston Hospital, as they provided better medical care and facilities.

Lennon's proposal was deemed the most suitable option for Zakai and me. Even Stacy and my father had no objections.

"Since everyone has agreed, it's settled then."

Lennon and I chatted with Zakai a little longer and had dinner before heading home.

As usual, Lennon was a man of his word. Sure enough, Zakai and his medical records were transferred to Kinston Hospital the next day.

He seemed so concerned about this matter that he took me to the hospital as well.

"Thank you very much, Mr. Torres. I'll never forget your and your wife's kindness. May God bless you," Stacy gratefully said with tearful eyes.

Chapter 1072 His Affair

Clare's POV:

What Marcel had said caught me off guard. Just as I was about to defend Tilda against such an injustice, he spoke again. "Also, even if Tilda is pregnant, I will never marry her. My love for you outweighed hers. She had been pursuing me for a long time, but I never agreed to be with her. I admit I was devastated when I found out that you were already married. But that's no reason for her to take advantage of my vulnerability. My relationship with her was a mistake, so I don't see why I have to own up to it."

I looked at Marcel in disbelief. I could not believe he would say something like that.

It was not until this moment that I realized I knew so little about Marcel. His shamelessness and cowardice surprised me.

Chapter 1073 Confession

Clare's POV:

My mother's eyes turned red as she roared, "Don't you dare defend your father anymore, Clare! This can't be a misunderstanding. I saw him get in the car with a woman!"

Tears trailed down her cheeks as she spoke. Having known her for so many years, I had never seen her have an emotional breakdown. I felt so bad for her.

"Mom, please don't jump to conclusions," I said as I wiped away her tears. "We have to figure this out first. Why don't you tell Dad to come back and ask him directly? I don't believe he would do such a thing. I'll call him for you, okay?"

At that point, I wanted to stall time and let my mother calm down first before I make an excuse for my father.

Chapter 1074 Worry About Mom

Clare's POV.

I was worried that Dad would say something that would annoy Mom, so I rushed up to him and whispered, "Mom already knows what happened between you and Stacy."

Dad was shocked for a moment but quickly composed himself. He nodded at me and said, "Lennon is awaiting downstairs. You should go home with him now."

I knew he didn't want me to get involved in this matter, but I couldn't help but worry about the two of them.

So I said, "I want to spend the night here."

My father told me, "There's no need to be concerned about us. Go home now. Your mother and I will work it out."

Chapter 1075 Lennon Is So Childish

Clare's POV:

When I was about to ask the receptionist what was wrong, she exclaimed, "I had never known you were Lennon Torres' wife!"

I was a little perplexed. I rarely mentioned my husband to my coworkers. I couldn't figure out how she knew I was Lennon's wife. She even seemed so overjoyed.

"How did you know?" I questioned her.

She then handed me her phone, pointed to the photo on the screen, and asked, "Isn't this you?"

When I saw the photo, I was shocked because it was one of the wedding photos Lennon and I had just taken a few days before.

In the photo, Lennon and I were looking at each other with great affection in our eyes. It looked lovely and romantic.

Chapter 1076 Comfort Mom

Clare's POV:

I wanted to change to another channel, but my mother stopped me before I could do so.

"Don't change it. Let's just watch this one," she said. "It's interesting. TV dramas are inspired by real-life situations. Our family's affairs are even more interesting than some TV dramas."

Upon hearing what she said, I turned off the TV and hugged her. "Mom, I'm so sorry. Please don't be mad. I'm just really afraid of losing you. Will you please forgive me? I only did it for your own good. I didn't want to hurt you."

Even though I tried my best to comfort her, she didn't respond. Eventually, she just sighed and pushed me away before walking back to her room.

Chapter 1077 General Check-ups

Clare's POV:

Immediately, I strode out of the room and greeted my father, who was standing in the living room.

However, as I exited the bedroom, my mother slammed the door shut behind me and the click of the lock echoed in my ears.

My father and I exchanged glances, both showing a helpless expression.

I couldn't help but ask, "Have you had dinner yet?"

My father nodded, replying, "Yes, I have."

With that, he headed into the guest room, closing the door behind him.

Witnessing my father's behavior, my worries for my parents only grew, but I knew there was nothing I could do. If I stayed any longer, they might never come out of their rooms and talk to each other.

Chapter 1078 Marcel Admits Defeat

Clare's POV:

Upon seeing Lennon and I with our hands intertwined, Marcel's expression soured.

To my surprise, Lennon greeted Marcel with a bright smile and a cheerful tone. "Well, well, well, if it isn't Mr. Schneider! What a small world."

Marcel, on the other hand, didn't even glance at Lennon and replied curtly, "Yes, it is."

Marcel turned to leave but Lennon grabbed him by the arm and spoke up again. "Mr. Schneider, there seems to be some misunderstandings between us. Have you caught up on current events lately?"

Chapter 1079 My Father's Inner Heart

Clare's POV:

Marcel's words had lifted the heavy burden off my shoulders and my life returned to normal after that.

A couple of days later, my father rang me up and said, "Clare, if you can spare some time, come to the hospital. Stacy and I want to discuss the timing of Zakai's bone marrow transplant operation with you."

I breathed a sigh of relief at how smoothly things were going.

After work, I called Lennon to let him know I was headed to the hospital and he didn't have to pick me up.

We talked for a short while before hanging up the phone.

Then I drove to the hospital and rushed to the ward. When I got there, Stacy was feeding Zakai.

Chapter 1080 A Bad Mood

Clare's POV:

My father broke the silence with an apologetic tone. "Not yet. I think it might take some time for her to calm down and accept it."

I turned to him, and in an instant, what I saw in the ward just now flashed before my eyes. It made me feel uneasy, but more so, it filled me with anger and disappointment.

In a sarcastic tone, I couldn't resist saying, "You've been coming to the hospital almost every day. Don't you have work?"
