Chapter 1081 In Hospital

Clare's POV:

When the doctors had finished deliberating, they scheduled Zakai's bone marrow transplant for the following week.

The doctors would try to maintain Zakai's physical condition stable throughout this time, and I would need to stay in the hospital for five days in advance. I would also get an injection and use medication to reactivate the stem cells in my body so that the eventual operation would be convenient.

I immediately requested a leave from the law firm after learning of the surgery day. When Talbot found out I had requested a long leave, he called me and asked, "Why did you request such a long leave?"

Chapter 1082 Mom Is Jealous

Clare's POV:

I slept well that night. When I awoke the next morning, Lennon was still sleeping next to me, which made me quite happy.

I missed him so much after being apart from him for so long. I wished I could spend every day with him.

With a smile, Lennon kissed me on the forehead. "It's time to get up now."

I put my arms around his waist and behaved like a spoiled brat. "But I don't want to get out of bed. I haven't slept so well in days. Can I spend the entire day in bed? You can stay with me and work here."

While grinning, Lennon kissed my ear. "That's fine by me, but the nutritionist will be here shortly. Do you want to be seen lying in bed like this?"

Chapter 1083 The Operation

Clare's POV:

I received a message from Kelley as Lennon was helping my mother out of the ward. She told me she was in love again and living a happy life, and I didn't have to worry about her anymore.

I really thought that she would steer clear of romance for at least a few years, considering what Stefan had done to her. I found it incredible that she had fallen in love again shortly after she moved away.

I was happy for Kelley, of course. Stefan's atrocities had been a huge blow to her, and I genuinely worried that she might never recover. It was a good thing that she was able to start a new relationship.

Lennon came back to the ward a few moments later. Our eyes met, and he smiled. He leaned over me and asked, "What are you smiling about, hmm? You look so happy!"

Chapter 1084 Stacy's Invitation

Clare's POV:

It was already dark when I awoke. From the looks of it, I had slept for hours on end.

When I opened my eyes, the first thing I saw was Lennon's handsome face, staring at me with concern in his eyes.

He held my hand and kissed it. "You're finally awake. Does it hurt anywhere?"

I smiled reassuringly and shook my head in response. "No."

In all honesty, there was still pain, but it was bearable and not a cause for concern.

Upon noticing that he was the only person in the ward accompanying me, I could not help but ask, "Where's Mom?"

Chapter 1085 How Mom Felt

Clare's POV:

Mom was not comforted by my explanation. Instead, she was more hurt. Her eyes were red, but she wasn't as hysterical as she had been. She complained to me. "I'm that heartless in your eyes? So far, you've been speaking on behalf of your father. Have you ever thought about how I might react if I heard these words? Why are you persuading me from his perspective? I am the victim in this situation. Shouldn't you side with me?"

When I heard what Mom said, I realized my mistake. I was frightened that mom might divorce dad, so I kept saying nice things about dad in front of her, but I never considered whether it was what she wanted to hear.

Chapter 1086 A Secret From Marcel

Clare's POV:

Tilda was silent for a moment, presumably deliberating whether to answer my question or not. At last, she smiled and admitted, "That's right. I do get pregnant, and I'd planned to get an abortion. But after an examination, the doctor said that I was in a bad shape. I was told that if I got rid of the baby, it might be difficult for me to get pregnant again. And so, I decided to keep the child."

This surprised me even more. "Don't you have any plans to tell Marcel about this? He is the child's father, after all."

Chapter 1087 Kelley's News

Clare's POV:

Later, as I was about to clock off work, I received a call from Kelley. She greeted me in a cheerful voice and said, "Honey, I'm back in New York! Are you free tonight? Let's have dinner together!"

"Of course, I'm free!" I immediately said, just as excited as she was. "We haven't seen each other in three months, the longest we've been separated, if I'm not mistaken. I missed you so! Book a restaurant and send me the address. I'll head over right away."

I was over the moon.

In all the years I had known Kelley, we had never been apart for more than just a few days. She was practically family. If I had my way, I would love nothing more than to keep her within reach at all times.

We hung up and she sent me a message with the restaurant details.

Chapter 1088 Jealous Lennon

Clare's POV:

I decided to change the subject. "Are you sure about selling the house, though?"

As far as I could remember, she had taken a huge loan in order to buy that house, and had to cut down her lifestyle and live frugally afterward in order to pay the mortgage.

Fortunately, real estate prices had been rising steadily over the past few years, and people became more interested in renting rather than owning. Soon after getting her first tenant, Kelley switched to paying the loan from the rent she was earning, and her life slowly got better.

Chapter 1089 Kelly's New Boyfriend

Clare's POV:

Lately, whenever I went into the tearoom, I would always catch my colleagues gossiping. This day was no different. I was just about to step inside when I heard a female employee say, "Has anyone else noticed? Ever since Mr. Fairclough joined the company, Mr. Schneider has been less involved in making executive decisions."

A familiar male voice replied, "Well, it's only expected! Mr. Fairclough is engaged to the daughter of the chairman. Anyone with eyes can see that he's here to kick Mr. Schneider out of the company."
