Chapter 1091 Sexual Harassment

Clare's POV:

A few days later, after Kelly sold the house, I asked for a half-day leave so I could send her and Gerard to the airport.

However, I didn't expect to meet Stefan at the airport. I wanted to pretend that I didn't see him and leave as soon as possible, but before I could do so, he took the initiative to greet us—his gaze directly focused on Kelly.

I was afraid that he would do something reckless, so I immediately stood in front of Kelly and frowned. "Why are you here?"

"I didn't follow you here," Stefan hurriedly explained. "I was just about to go on a business trip and happened to meet you guys here."

Then, he looked at his watch. He pretended to be in a hurry as he added, "Let's talk about it another day. I'm in a hurry right now."
