Chapter 1095 They Made Peace

Clare's POV:

I returned to the Legalix Law Firm the next day.

On my first day back, I made a point of stopping by Talbot's office to specifically greet him and ask him about the specific situation.

He still refused to share with me the details. He just stated, "I couldn't stop the cancellation of our collaboration with Conrad Construction. Because it has already happened, all you need to do now is do your job well."

He gave me the merge case I had been working on back and said, "I'll leave this to you. I believe in you."

I nodded, went back, and began going through the files.
