Chapter 921 We Will Never Be Apart Again

Helen's POV:

I stayed in the ward for a long time and didn't leave until in the evening, when one of the nurses came in to remind me that the visiting hours were over and I was not allowed to stay there during the night.

George had just finished his work, so he came to the hospital to pick me up. He also arranged another car to drive Platt's parents to the hotel. That car would take them from the hotel to the hospital during their stay in New York. George had also arranged the hotel for them, which was a five-star hotel located right near the hospital.

Chapter 922 Visit Platt

Helen's POV:

After I returned to my desk, Clare came to talk to me. She told me everything that had happened while I was not around and also reported to me about her recent work. While I was on the leave, she had helped a client get compensation. She seemed really happy when she mentioned about her work achievements.

I praised, "You did a good job and you've made great progress in your work. You should continue working hard."

Clare scratched her head in embarrassment and explained, "Actually, Miss Reed helped me a lot with the case, or else I would not have been able to get the compensation for the client."

Chapter 923 Strange Behavior

Helen's POV:

The atmosphere during dinner was lively. Clare said with a sigh, "I had never imagined that the competition among lawyers would be this fierce until I came to New York. I used to think Helen and Ruben were the best lawyers I had ever seen. When I came to Landen Law Firm, it was a major shock. My entire perspective on things collapsed and I realized I had been too small-minded. There were excellent lawyers everywhere, especially here in New York. I honestly don't have the confidence to say I'll be as established as you someday."

Chapter 924 His Reasons

George's POV:

That evening, I invited Wesley out to dinner. I meant to thank him for his help in saving Helen. Kendal joined us. After dinner, we headed out, and I found Helen standing not far away from us. She had a faint smile on her face, even as surprise colored her expression. On any other day, I would have walked straight to her regardless of who I was with. But today was different. I tore my gaze from her after a brief glance, as if my eyes landed on a stranger.

I kept up my conversation with Wesley, but part of my mind was on her. I saw her face fall, my heart dropping as hurt and confusion broke her expression, and then she turned around to leave. Her steps were hurried, and I knew she was holding back her anger. I had to stop myself from chasing after her.

Wesley was a known player. He had no qualms or limits when it came to women. I didn't want him to catch so much as a glance of Helen. Helen was incredibly beautiful, and there were already too many men surrounding her. The last thing I needed was another one.

"Now what? Should we go somewhere for a drink?" Wesley suggested.

Chapter 925 Have I Been Disfigured

Helen's POV:

I inputted the password of the door, and George followed me in.

Upon entering the house, he said to me, "Helen, do you remember what you promised me while we were on the plane back to New York from Washington?"

Due to the putrid odor of cigarettes and alcohol coming from him, he kept his distance from me. Even though I was mad at him, he still cared about my feelings. Just knowing that he cared seemed to extinguish most of the anger I felt for him. I asked him, "What did I promise you? I can't seem to recall it."

Chapter 926 Propose To George

Helen's POV:

Catherine decided not to pay attention to Platt anymore and turned to me. "Helen, I've talked to Platt about this. I want him to be transfer to the hospital in Burlington. Our home is in Burlington after all, so we've never really felt at ease around here. Besides, Platt's condition is becoming more stable by the day. The medical facilities back at Burlington will be enough."

Her words left me stunned. Somehow, I felt conflicted. Even though I was no longer with Platt, I had seen him and Catherine as parts of my family. They were very special to me. I had hardly experienced filial love, and my parents had long passed away. The way they cared for me back in Burlington made me feel the warmth and care that a real family would give.

Hesitantly, I asked, "Can't you leave once you've fully recovered?"

Chapter 927 Helen's Unusual Behavior

George's POV:

Helen had been acting a little strange in the past few days. After work, she would hide from me and go to the study to talk to Lucy over the phone. They would talk for hours, and I was not allowed to listen to their conversation. Whenever I appeared in front of her, she would stop talking at once and wave her hand at me, beckoning me to leave. I could not help but wonder what they were talking about, so I asked her about it one day. Apparently, she was comforting her friend Lucy as she and her husband had had an intense argument.

When I got off work the next day, I happened to meet Dyer in the underground parking area, so I decided to confront him. "Did you and your wife get into an argument again?"

Chapter 928 Will You Marry Me Again

George's POV:

Even after finishing the last meeting this afternoon, it still wasn't time for me to get off work. Chana knocked on my office door again. The moment she came in, Kendal followed her in.

I broke into laughter when I saw what Kendal was wearing. "What has gotten into you today? Why are you dressed so formally?"

Kendal was wearing a luxurious custom-tailored suit, making him look dapper. Contrary to his normally casual outfits, he looked quite formal today. He was used to wearing comfortable outfits and I rarely ever saw him in a suit. Today, he even put products on his hair. It honestly weirded me out a little to see him so put-together.

Chapter 929 Robbery

Clare's POV:

Helen's proposal to George was so romantic that I felt really moved. I had worked with her for several years, and I knew how struggling her life was back in Burlington. From the bottom of my heart, I was glad that she finally found her own happiness.

By the time I got home, it was already eleven in the evening. After I came to New York, my parents had been worried about me because I was living on my own. Not long after, they moved here as well and bought a house. However, the price of real estate in New York was too high, so they couldn't afford a fancy big house. My parents could only buy a small house in a remote area of the city. Thereafter, I moved out from Helen's old apartment in the suburbs, and I was now living with my parents.

Chapter 930 Get Married This Afternoon

Clare's POV:

Kelley's remark reminded me of what happened many years ago. Back then, I was still in a relationship with Marcel. To my dismay, he cheated on me with my best friend Natalia Palmer. I still couldn't forget seeing their naked bodies intertwined. And every time it was mentioned, my heart would still ache.

After taking a deep breath, I told her, "I've already moved on from him. He's not the only guy in the world. Besides, my mom set me up on a blind date with her friend's son tomorrow."

My mother, just like Kelley, hoped that I could find a boyfriend soon. It was as if she was always afraid that I wouldn't be able to get married.
