

Warrior Princess Chapter 26

Kasens POV

We had strayed from the others during our run. It was refreshing and after letting Atlas take control to spend time with Akira, I felt his happiness. It was great to feel. After Akira had marked Atlas in wolf form, I asked him if he would like to return the favor. He gave me a wolfy smirk to me.

“My mate.” he purred out.

He repeated the scenting process and made sure to go extra slow with it. Torturing them. Akira growled in anticipation and Atlas huffed. Pleased that his mate wanted him as much as we wanted each other. Without a second thought, he marked Akira and she howled a beautiful song.

After mating Atlas and Akira laid by the lake. After about an hour of them cuddling, nipping, licking they gave us back control.

Samantha stood up and shook out her Grey fur and jumped into the lake. She came back up and shook herself spraying me with the water. Before I could even stand up, I was tackled.

I look up and see Josh’s brown wolf smirking at me. The group had caught up with us. I and Josh continue to wrestle. His wolf is big but not as big as mine. As were sparing were both splashed by a big wave. I looked to see and was amused when I saw Prince Theos Bear floating in the water. Smug bastard

I trudge into the water and stand with Sam watching as our friends and family play around and have a good time. My parents are sparing. Watching my dad let my mom win always amuses me.

Jake and Gemma are in their puppy love phase, and Sam’s parents are laying down and relaxing together Marcus is the odd one out without a mate, but he is having fun just the same sparing with Duke. I look around and see everyone happy. I can't help but think that this will be one of the last times that we are all together and happy before this war starts. I pray to the goddess that we can all come out unscathed, but I know things don't always happen the way I want them to.

"What are you thinking about mate?" Sam comes up. She paws at my shoulder.

"Just thinking about family and friends, worrying about this war." I link her back.

"Yes, love I am worried too. But we are all here. Let's live in the moment now. We are all family here. You are my family now too." She boops my snout with her paw and I can't help but laugh at her goofiness.

We get back to the palace and I take sam up to my apartment. "Our apartment." Atlas growled out.

"Yes, buddy. Our apartment." pain in the a*s.

Samantha grabs my hand, "Kasen?" I hum at her.

"Do you think, maybe I could um. Maybe I could sleep with you tonight? I don't want to be alone after having such a wonderful evening..." she looks down and bites her lip as her cheeks flush.

"You never have to ask me, baby. My room is your room!" I pick her up and she wraps her legs around my waist, and I carry her to the room.

Kicking the door shut, I plop her on the mattress. I lay next to her and rub my hand up and down her body. We never got dressed after shifting back and I have to say my mate is absolutely gorgeous.

"Your tattoos are beautiful." I outline all of her art with my finger leaving a trail of goosebumps wherever I touch.

"So I know we have marked and accepted each other but what do you see for our future?" sam asked me.

“Well, I see us winning this war. Implementing your idea of an election system, I see us ruling this kingdom side by side for years to come as equals. I see us having pups. That is if you want them. But I do. I see us annoying each other till the day we join the goddess and beyond then. Everything I see requires you being by my side mate.” I look at her and she has tears running down her face. I’m about to ask her if I’ve said something wrong when she blurts out.

“You want kids? With me?” I hum.

“Yes, Mate. I do. I have always wanted kids, but meeting you makes me want a family. I want all of that with you.” I cup her face and lean down to kiss her. she moans into the kiss. I climb on top of her and she wraps her legs around my waist. I move my kisses to her neck and make sure to nip at her mark. I want to take my time with my mate. I pull back and look at her.

“Stop me now mate or I won’t be able to stop later.” I say giving her an opportunity to wait. She just wrapped her arms around me and pulled me closer.

Our lips met and the sparts that I love graced my skin. I was melting into her just from a simple kiss. I decided that I needed more. More taste, more touch, more of everything.

I moved down and took one ne into my mouth and rubbed the other one with my hand. She gasped in surprise and ran her fingers in to my hair, giving it a light pull. I looked up at her while I had her n e between my teeth and her eyes were closed but her mouth was open while she was gasping in pleasure. I continued my journey down her body making sure to take extra care of her curves. She truly was a goddess herself.

I reached her most intimate area and rubbed my fingers over her. She was writhing just from a touch of my finger. I could hear her moans and she bucked her hips trying to feel more friction and movement. I decided to hold her hips down.

“Patience, love. We have all night.” And with that I lowered my mouth and took a taste. If I thought she just smelled good then her taste combined was enough to make me want to c*m without doing anything. I couldn’t get enough from her and lapped her up like a true wolf.

She had her fingers intertwined in my hair. I could feel her getting closer and closer to her o****m. I sucked on her clit and decided to stick a finger in as well. The combined feeling was enough for sam to let go! It was decided then that I was addicted to every inch of her body.

I trailed up her body and his lips met hers. I thrustured his tongue into her mouth so she could taste herself on his tongue. She moaned and it was so erotic. He decided he couldn’t wait any longer. I lined himself up with her and slowly entered. She was so wet, and so tight. I waited for her to adjust to my size when she shouted.

“Kasen, MOVE!”

I didn’t need to be told twice. Without a second thought I plunged all the way in and started moving hard and fast. “Oh f**k baby girl” I gritted out. She gasped and he smirked at her.

Setting a steady pace, I attacked her neck while he moved. She dug her claws down his back. I was sure that would leave a mark. He flipped them over, so she was on top and grabbed her hips and pulled her down hard onto his dk while he thrustured up. She screamed out and gripped her own breasts. Pinching her n***s between her fingers.

“Oh yes! Kasen, oh God!” she moaned out.

A sheet of sweat covered their bodied. After a few more thrusts and Samantha grinding her hips on my d**k I felt that familiar pull all the way to my toes and my balls tighten up. I knew I was getting close. I could tell by her erratic movements and her walls tightening on me that she was close too.

I decided to sit up and wrap my arms around her while she rode me. I plunged my canines into her neck, and it drew out her o****m. As soon as she came, she bit down hard on my mark and I came so hard I was seeing stars. I had never had an o****m that hard before. It was like fireworks on the fourth of July.

We slowed our movements, and I rested my forehead on hers. Panting heavily trying to catch my breath I realized that I couldn't have asked for anything better. I felt whole, and at home.

"I love you, Kasen." She whispered to me. I kissed her lips gently.

"I love you too, woman. That was amazing." I say and she blushes.

"I have had s*x before, but nothing like that!" I growl at the fact that she's slept with other people, but I have no right to be mad when I haven't waited either. She gave me a pointed look.

"I'm yours, Kasen. Only yours." Atlas purred and for once I purred with him. I might as well be deemed part cat!

After getting cleaned up I laid down with Sam. I rubbed her back until she fell asleep and for once I fell asleep without a care in the world. I was happy again.

I woke up the next morning and saw that Sam was still asleep. She looked so peaceful I didn't want to wake her. I carefully got out of bed and went to the bathroom and turned on the shower. Steam filled the bathroom and I stood under the water.

We received word yesterday that some of the alphas and warriors from other packs would be arriving in the pack today. We had set up housing and accommodations for everyone.

As I was thinking about today's events, I felt hands snake around my waste. The familiar sparks told me it was my mate and I smiled. She took her hands and rubbed them up and down my chest and stomach. Feeling each ridge and trench of my muscles. I turned around and kissed her passionately.

“Morning pretty lady.” She hums and smiles. What surprised me though is she took my soap and started washing my body. It was a level of intimacy I had never had before, and I loved it.

She took her time and rubbed the suds all over my skin before rinsing me off. She then took my shampoo and washed my hair. I have never once had a woman wash me like that. She had a look of love in her eyes and I just watched her. When she was done, I kissed her nose.

“My turn.” I smirked.

I took the loofah and loaded it with her Vanilla body wash. Rubbing it all over her front I squatted down and slowly ran it over each leg. I made sure to kiss the inside of her knees and gave her precious mound a kiss and lick before attending to the other leg.

She looked at me with hooded eyes and I turned her around and started rubbing the soap on her back. I pulled her body to me crushing her back to my chest. I cupped her breasts with one hand while the other slowly ran down her stomach and in between her legs. She laid her head back on my shoulder and blew out a shaky breath.

“Please, Kasen.” I chuckle.

“What love. Tell me what you want?”

Warrior Princess Chapter 27

Samanthas POV

“Tell me what you want?” he said. I was so hot and bothered by this man. This big, beautiful man. Every touch he gave me sent me into overdrive.

“I want to feel your f!ngers inside of me. Touch me. Please. F!ngers slid through my lower l!ps. Oh god, it felt so good.

He pinched one of my n*s while he stuck one f!nger inside pumping it in and out. I moaned out while I reached behind me and took his hard member in my hands. I matched my strokes with him and he moaned into my ear, biting my ear lobe while he did. The faster he went the faster I went.

When he added a second f!nger, I about lost it. I tightened my grip on him and he thrust his h!ps forward into my hand. Before I could even think he withdrew his f!ngers from me. Before I could protest at the loss of contact, he pushed me up against the shower tile. The coldness of the tile and the steam of the shower felt amazing.

“I need to be in you, baby girl,” he said as he pushed his c**k into me from behind. His pace was calculated and deep. He stuck his f!ngers into my mouth, and I could taste the nectar on his hands.

“Taste how sweet you are, love.” I moaned around his f!ngers and svcked them deep into my mouth. Bracing myself against the wall, he grabbed my h!ps and pounded into me like a madman.

“YES, baby!” I screamed out.

“I’m so closes, Kasen.” and I truthfully was. His movements became slopy and I knew he was close too. After a few more pumps he came with a growl just as I reached my cl!max! He groaned feeling me tighten around him milking him for all he is worth.

“Waking up like this every day is something I could get used to!” he whispered into my neck. I agree. It certainly is.

After getting out of the shower Kasen said he would meet me downstairs. The Alphas should be arriving soon with their warriors, and he wanted to make sure everything was ready for them.

I got dressed and started blow drying my hair. I’m not trying to impress anybody by any means but I may want to tease my mate just a tad. I chuckle just thinking about it. After my hair and makeup are done, I head out of our apartment and search for Kasen.

“Hey, Sam! You look amazing!” Gemma said linking arms with me.

“You do as well. So When are you and Jake going to mark each other? You’re already my sister but this would just make it even more official!” we slow our walk, and she looks at me for a second before looking at her feet.

“I don’t know. I’m just scared. I know everything that happened he had no control over, but I’m terrified that he’s going to decide that he doesn’t want me.” I place my hand on her shoulder and make her look at me.

“Gemma, you are bright, beautiful, talented, smart, an all-around firecracker. He would be an i***t to walk away from you. I don’t think he will but if he does, I will be here to help pick up the pieces. Jake has that special look in his eyes when he sees you. I saw it yesterday. But you need to talk to him. Tell him how you’re feeling. Communication is key. He doesn’t know what’s wrong and how to fix it if you won’t tell him.” She nods.

“I guess you’re right. I know I need to talk to him, and I know I am overthinking it. I just don’t want to be hurt again.”

I smile. “Sometimes you just have to take that chance. You know your brother was going to reject me. I was so terrified that he would. But it was a reaction to him not wanting to get hurt and potentially hurt me. We talked about everything before we accepted each other. I told him what I expected and him the same. Was I scared he would still leave me or reject me? You bet your furry a*s I was. But I took the chance. You will never know unless you try. But if it helps. If he hurts you ill kick his a*s.” She giggles and she looks ten times lighter.

“Thank you, Samantha.”

We walk around the corner and I See Kasen standing there.

“Were you spying on us, your majesty?” I ask in a sly tone. He smirks.

“Maybe. You’ll never know. Gemma, I would like you to be there with us when our allies come. Today the Alphas are arriving, tomorrow the witches should be coming.” She nods and walks off to wait for everyone.

“You really are a natural at this. You were upfront with her and yet comforting at the same time. I am proud of you. And just so you know, I will never leave you. I realized my mistakes and I know I couldn’t ever live without you.” he takes my hand and kisses it.

“Let’s go you big sap.” I say and kiss his cheek.

We received word from the guards at the border that a few Alphas had arrived and would be at the palace in 10 minutes. Me, Kasen, Gemma, Andrew, Rosaline, Marcus, Josh, Jake, and my parents were all outside waiting to greet them.

I saw 10 Black SUV’s driving up the pathway. Each Alpha and their warriors have 2 cars, so we have about 5 packs here so far. I greet everyone with a smile and a handshake. I get a lot of bows, so many that it’s uncomfortable, but that’s part of the job I guess. Everyone here looks like they are trained well. We will see.

“Thank you everyone, I am going to give you all the day to get settled in. My beta, Gamma, and my Mates Beta and Beta Female will show you all to your quarters. Tomorrow morning, we will Train together. I want us to get on the same page and I want to go over the information with all the alphas and their Gammas once they arrive. Afterwards you can relay the information to your warriors. If there is anything you need or if you have any requests, please let someone know.” Everyone nods and they get led to their living quarters.

“Oh, we will be serving lunch here in the next couple of hours. I would love for you all to join us!” I say.

“Yes, my Queen.” a few of the alphas say.

“Mom, Rosaline would you all like to help me? I wanted to give the Omegas a day off and prepare lunch myself. Lord knows they work hard enough” they nod and smile.

“Of Course, What were you thinking of cooking?”

“I was thinking for lunch we could do either Burgers or something. And For dinner, I want to do a bonfire BBQ. We have all of the Alphas and their warriors there. It would be a good way to get everyone to let loose, get to know one another, and we have plenty of food, music, and dancing. I think it would definitely be a morale boost.” They get excited. Werewolves are pack animals. We love anything having to do with getting together.

“I will get right on that, then ill join you and your mom in the kitchen!”

We have about 50 extra warriors and 5 Alphas joining us for lunch. This is the Largest meal I’ve ever cooked, but it does smell amazing!

I give the trays of food to some of our helpers and we take them to the dining room. As soon as I walk in a see Josh and Marcus arm wrestling and people crowding around placing bets, making jokes, and having fun. Men. I roll my eyes.

“Lunch is ready!” I don’t think I’ve ever seen grown men run so fast to their seats. I’m glad I made extra because as soon as the trays were set down hands were reaching in. I chuckle and Kasen pulls me into his lap.

“Smells amazing, my queen. Sit with me?” I hum in response and take a burger and bring it to his lips. He takes a bite and winks at me.

“So, Alpha John tell me what it’s like living in Alaska!” I ask one of the alphas.

“Colder than you can imagine but it is beautiful. We don’t have many humans there, so we don’t run into a lot of issues.” Sounds amazing. I’ve always loved the cold.

“We should take a trip. I’ve always loved the cold!” Kasen squeezes my thigh and he smiles. The conversations go on for about an hour before we were notified of another group of alphas joining us.

“If you’ll excuse us, we have more guests arriving. Please make yourselves at home!” I stand. Kasen intertwines our fingers, and we walk outside, letting everyone else finish their lunch.

About 3 hours later we are waiting on the last couple of packs to arrive. Some alphas had brought their lunas and some opted to leave theirs at home. One of them being my old pack. I will admit I am a little nervous meeting them again. I wonder who all Carson has brought with them. Alpha Aaron had gone to the airport to pick them up, but he didn’t say who all was joining them. Kasen can see I am getting nervous.

“It’s alright, love. No one can hurt you; no one can make you feel inferior. You are strong, beautiful, smart, you are their queen. Show them who’s boss.” I smile and give him a quick kiss.

“You’re right. I am just nervous. I hope Carson isn’t bringing anyone bad from my past, but you never know. Did Jake even tell him that I am your mate? That I am their queen?” Kasen smiles and shakes his head.

“Oh, this will be glorious. They will think I’m just some warrior. I hope none of them say anything to set Atlas off.” He chuckles.

“That is my point of not telling them. I want to see their reactions. See how wolves in my kingdom treat others. They shouldn’t treat you well just because you’re the queen. They should treat you well because you deserve it.” I blush. As he finishes talking, we spot The Blue Ridge pack approaching. Josh, Marcus, Jake, and Gemma, and my parents join us.

Alpha Aaron is the first to get out the the vehicle. He holds his hand out for his Mate Marie. She has always been so nice. Next, I see Carson getting out and he is holding her out and a beautiful girl steps out. She has fire engine red hair and bright green eyes. She must be Carson’s mate.

“Hello everyone. Your Majesty.” Carson and his mate both bow at Kasen. However, they don’t bow at me. They simply give me a nod and a short greeting. I growl a bit at the disrespect they didn’t know they just dished out. Kasen grabs my hand to calm me down.

“It’s okay love remember they don’t know yet. They’ll find out when we address everyone before the cookout tonight.” He linked me. I push Akira back and calm down.

The warriors get out and I freeze. All of them are the ones that were there when Jake messed up. They were the ones who said I was a fat, ugly, cow. They are the ones that said I was a waste of space; they are the ones who tormented me for years. This is going to be tense.

Kasen senses my body stiffening and looks at me. I guess the look on my face tells him everything I need to know. I don’t think they would be stupid enough to do anything with him here, but you never know.

They bow for Kasen, give Jake a hug, whistle at Gemma, literally greet everyone but me. It’s almost like I didn’t exist despite a few dirty looks. Jake growls at them and they look shocked. From what I know Jake has never stood up to people in the pack for me before. I guess this is one of the things he changed. I guess they got the message because they all greeted me with a short hey and they all went to get settled into their rooms.

“Alpha King Kasen, thank you for having me. This is my mate Cindy. Is there perhaps a doctor here we can see? My mate is pregnant and after the long journey, I would like to have her looked at.”

I speak up. “Yes, there is I can take you all there if you like” they look shocked that I spoke for Kasen. They’ll find out later. They look at each other and nod.

“Sure, it’s good to see you, Samantha. I wanted to apologize for everything that happened before. I should have done better, been better. Cindy here has changed me for the better. I hope there is no bad blood between us.” He says.

“So long as your warriors don’t f**k with me, well be good. Not that I’m concerned, but I don’t want to have any fights outside of training.” He nods.

“So you’re a warrior here?” Cindy asks.

“It’s hard to explain. We’ll talk about that later,” I smirk. We walk towards the hospital and I mindlink the Doctor to have a room ready.

“Hey Doc, I need a room available.” I hear him sigh in the link.

“Samantha, what did you do this time...?” I chuckle.

“Not for me for once. For a visiting alpha and his Luna. She is pregnant and would like a checkup.” I wait a few minutes and finally hear him say.

“Oh, thank god. I was going to say. You need to stay out of my hospital beds! You’ve spent more time here than with your mate.” he chuckled. He’s not wrong though.

After dropping Carson and his mate off at the hospital I walk back towards the clearing where we’re having the BBQ. I see the boys have set up the bonfire.

There are about 400 warriors, Alphas, Gammas, and Lunas here. It always makes me nervous having that many alphas in one place, but everyone seems to be getting along. I have purposefully hidden my Aura, so my old pack can’t pinpoint that I am the queen. Gemma and I are standing by the fire watching the boys spar playfully.

“I swear they are children.” Gemma giggles. A few of the other Lunas have joined us and were all making great conversations. I had to use the bathroom, so I left the group and headed towards the castle.

“So, you think that since you’re a warrior in the royal pack you’re so great.” one of the warriors from my pack spits out. I think his name is Peirce. I choose not to answer.

“Hey mutt, don’t ignore me!” he grabs my arm and yanks me back.

Warrior Princess Chapter 28

Samanthas POV

“I suggest you take your hand off of me now.” I say lowly. He laughs.

“What are you going to do about it, huh? No one is here to protect you.” I feel Akira wanting to come out.

“Take. Your. Hand. Off. Me. NOW!” I say fighting Akira down. I don’t want to shift here.

“No.” is all he says. I look around and people have stopped and started watching. Seeing how I will handle the situation.

“So you’re refusing to take your hand off of me? I suggest you change your mind. The last person that touched me without my permission is now dead.” He looks at me with wide eyes but refuses to let go. Kasen has come over, but I told him to stay back. That I would handle this. The rest of my old pack has come over including Carson and his mate.

“You can’t hurt me. You’re just a simple pack warrior. You are nothing.” I growl loudly and decide to let my Aura show through. It’s strong enough to have Every wolf here except my mate bows before me. Kasen looks proud of me.

“Now I said to LET GO, are you going to submit?” I ask. He released my arm and bowed down.

“How... how are you able to make every alpha here bow?!” all of the pack members Carson brought asked. Carson looks like he’s figured it out and looks between Kasen and me cautiously.

“My queen, are you alright?” Kasen takes that moment to come up to me and kiss my neck. I don’t think there wasn’t a single jaw that wasn’t touching the ground.

“You’re, you, the king, what?” Peirce stuttered.

“Why didn’t you say anything when we arrived?” Carson asked.

“I wanted to see how you would treat my mate and your queen without my influence.” Kasen responded then looked at the poor wolf in front of me.

“Now, the first time ANY wolf asks you to let go of them; you should fg LET GO! No means no, Let go means, LET THE f*k GO! I don’t care who it is from the lowest omega, or to my mate, your queen. Don’t let this happen again. Am I clear?” Kasen roars out. His Aura is enough to make me want to bow, but I won’t. I can only imagine how everyone else here feels.

“Yes, I am truly sorry.” He says and they all bow lowly.

“Never thought your sister would end up my queen Jake. I’m guessing that’s why you’re staying and stepping down as Beta?” Carson asked.

“Yes, well Partially. The main reason is that my mate is Kasen’s sister. Gemma. We are the Royal Beta couple along with Beta Josh.” Carson looks sad at losing his friend but bows in understanding. Kasen takes my hand, and we walk to the stage that we had assembled before the cookout.

Time to address everyone here. Time to let everyone know what we are truly up against.

Kasens POV

Sam handled that well. I was ready to rip that fuckers head off, but I knew she needed to do this. She needed to stand up for herself.

“Thank you everyone for joining us.” I say as soon as we get to the platform. “I know we gave vague details of an upcoming war but I wanted to inform you all of what is truly happening here and give you all a rundown of what’s going to take place over the foreseeable future.”

There is silence.

“We are declaring War on the Bear Kingdom and the Supernatural Council. The bear Kingdom has already attacked and killed several other supernaturals and royals. The Faes were completely wiped out or driven into hiding. We have other allies coming. The supernatural council is aware of the bear shifter’s actions and is supporting and funding all crimes they commit. We will be declaring war on them as well. We do have some Bear shifters who are allies in this and have been detrimental to our society and my family. I know you have heard some rumors, but I am here to tell you they are all false. I will not go into detail at this point in time. I would like to call a meeting with All Alphas and their Gammas, and All information will be provided then and will be dispersed per your alpha. This war will be tough. It will not be overnight. It is going to take us ALL coming together no matter your age, race, gender, ethnicity, and supernatural ability. War doesn’t Discriminate, and neither will I here for the Werewolf Kingdom. My Mate and I are working tirelessly on plans of action for this war and what to do with the council. Until then please take this Event as a time to get to know one another, and settle any differences you may have. These people you have with you will be your comrades in battle. We need to be able to rely on one another. Any questions for the moment?” I say. It is quiet like crickets chirping.

After a couple of minutes, I hear cheers and applause. Everyone is in agreement.

“I know it is hard to get along with people who you don’t know and have past problems with. But if you have any issues please come to me or my mate. That is what we are here for.”

“I would also like to say those who don’t want to fight are welcome as well. We could always use help with the hospital, medics, care for the elders, mothers, and young children who are unable to fight, and hospitality. If you feel your strengths are best in one of those areas please come see me and we will assign you to your roles.” Samantha speaks up. I didn’t even think of those options

“She is perfect. Love Mate.”

Atlas says. “Yes, buddy I love our mate too.”

Before I forget, I need to mention. “Alphas and Gammas, the meeting will be held tomorrow after breakfast. Lunas are welcome to attend as well.” I grab Samantha’s hand, kiss it, and lead her off the stage to enjoy the remainder of the night.

The light of the fire is glowing bright and we are all gathered round. Josh and Marcus break out their guitars and start playing. They start with Senorita by Sean Mendes but in a slower pace. I take Sam’s hand and lead her out and place her hands on my neck.

“Follow my lead love.” she smiles and nods. A series of intricate twirls and dips followed by hips swaying. People looked on in awe. I had no idea Sam could move like this. It is so intimate and erotic. After people take notice, they join us in dance. I don’t notice them. I have tunnel vision for my mate. The sparks dancing on my skin and the way her body feels pressed against mine.

“I love you.” I whisper as I press my lips to hers. I swipe my tongue against her lips begging for a chance to enter and taste her. She caves in and I don’t even hesitate. We pull apart to catch our breath and I press my forehead to hers and Josh and Marcus switch up to Someone you Loved by Lewis Capaldi and Sam starts singing along. So, she is a great queen, a great mate, can fight against the best, can dance, and has the pipes of an angel?

“You truly are a goddess.” I say as I spin her around. I pull her to me with her back pressed to my chest and sway to the music while she sings.

I take a moment to look at my kingdom. Everyone is smiling, everyone looks happy. My parents are dancing, Gemma and Jake are Dancing, Sam’s Parents are dancing. Everyone seems at peace tonight. We will get back to this. Sam leans her head back against my shoulder.

“I can’t wait to finally start our family together. If every night could be like this, I will forever be happy.”

I kiss her cheek and rest my head in her neck taking in her scent. I can't help but think of what she would look like with her belly round with our pups. She will be a great mother.

All of a sudden Sam tenses. She sniffs the air and I do as well. s**t. We look at each other and say "Rogues" at the same time.

Everyone freezes and looks at us. Sam and I Shift into our Black and Silver wolves and everyone stares. We look like a Yin and Yang sign. People are probably in awe over the size of sams wolf and the fact that her grey coat practically glows silver in the moonlight.

We trot to the other side of the lake where we picked up the scent. I see one rogue in human form in front of what looks to be about 200 other rogues mixed between human and wolf forms. He looks to be mid 30's sandy brown hair, piercing green eyes, roughly 6'0 tall. I shift back while sam stays on her paws keeping guard.

"We don't want a fight." this strange wolf says holding his hands high.

"What are you doing on my land then?" he bows his head.

"Your majesty, we have heard of the coming war. The goddess came to me in a dream asking me to recruit those who are lost to packs. She sent me here. We are here to serve the Werewolf Kingdom and fight for all of us in this war if you will have us."

I sense the power radiating off of him. He was an alpha in a previous time. I look to Sam. The goddess did say she would be able to tell those who have true intentions. She did say those who wish to align with us were sent by her.

She looks to be analyzing him closely. She looks to me and nods her wolfy head and I run my fingers through her fur and scratch behind her ears.

“Your intentions are true. If you and your following are willing to fight for the entire supernatural world we would love to have you. We have rules though that need to be abided by.” I mention and he nods.

“Yes. Each wolf with me is one Selene personally sent to me to bring to you. We will abide by every rule you have and will not fight with other allies here. We are simply here to help.” I nod and shake his hand.

“You will be a tremendous help. We have 31 alphas here not including myself and my father. And each has brought their Gammas and about 10 warriors each. With you and your numbers, we are totalling 500 warriors to fight this war. We will make accommodations for those who would like to stay within the pack boundaries and those who wish to train with us as well are welcome.” He nods and bows to me.

“Thank you, your majesty. My name is Rowan. I am the Rogue Alpha.”

Sam Shifts and gasps. “Uncle Rowan?”

What? Sam is of Beta blood.

“Sam, this is your uncle?”

She looks at me. “I’m not sure. I never met him. All I know is my father has a half brother that we never met. We were told stories of how they grew up and everything we were shown pictures. Is that you? Are you my uncle Rowan?” she asks and now that I look at them, they look similar. Same green eyes, same high cheek bones, Brown hair though Sams is Darker.

“Who is your father?” Rowan asked.

“David Layne.” she said. All of a sudden Rowan is tackled into a bear hug.

“I have missed you, brother!” David said.

I guess it is true. Her uncle is the Rogue Alpha.

Warrior Princess Chapter 29

I shifted back and walked up to my dad and this Rogue alpha cautiously.

“Dad, is this our Uncle Rowan?” I asked.

Mom and Jake had joined us. Mom went up and hugged this strange man and Jake stayed by me. We were always shown pictures of our uncle. This man looks similar, just a bit older, more rugged, more hair. He could use a good shave.

“It’s nice to finally meet you, your highness.” He said as he bowed to me.

“If you are family, then there is no need for you to bow to me. How come we have never met you? Dad has only ever shown us pictures of you when he was younger. Also, how is it you’re an Alpha when dad, Jake, and I were born betas?” He nodded and looked between Jake and me. He looked at my dad and ushered him to continue.

“You’re not betas. You’re alphas.” Dad looks sheepishly at us and mom just looks down. “Your mother is of Beta blood. I am of Alpha blood. My brother was to take the pack where I was born, since he is older. I met your mother and found out she was my mate. Alpha Aarons pack needed a Beta. Since your mother was beta born, she was going to be it, but once she was mated with me, they offered me the position. Normally two alphas in the same pack would cause problems, but we got along well. It was the goddess’s plan. When you all were born, to avoid confusion, we told everyone you were of Beta blood.” I nodded, but Jake interrupted.

“That still doesn’t answer the question of how he’s the rogue’s alpha or how come we never met him.” They look sad. I can feel their sadness rolling off of them.

“Up until 20 minutes ago, I thought he was dead.” My dad spoke.

“I became the alpha of my pack; everything was going well. When your Dad mated with your mother, I decided to select a new beta. Unfortunately, the beta I chose double crossed the pack and me. They slaughtered all but 30 of us. Out of 250 pack members, only 30 survived. All for greed.” Rowan said as his nostrils flared.

“We decided not to form a new pack and become travelers. We wanted to help the rogues that had nowhere to go but were not lost souls yet. Therefore, I became the Rogue Alpha. We only take in those who are pure of heart and sound of mind. We travel around helping those in need. The goddess told me I needed to come here. I didn’t expect to find my niece and nephew and my brother.”

“You’re from the Silver Star pack! My father said he heard the word of the slaughter and went to investigate. By the time he got there, everyone was gone. He said that Every pack member had been buried but no signs of who did it.” Kasen said, and Rowan nodded.

“But why didn’t you contact us or try to find dad? If you had survived?” he looked down in shame.

“I wanted to. I was going to. I got to your pack’s borders and I froze. I was afraid for my people. I knew they wouldn’t be taken in by the pack. They needed me. After that, I just watched from afar. I know I messed up. I should have sent a letter, a phone call or something. But my line of work is also dangerous. We’ve had our fair share of run ins with the wrong kind of folk. I thought I was doing a favor for you all.”

My dad just hugged him. “I would have supported you no matter what. You’re my older brother. No matter now, you’re here.”

Andrew and Rosaline approached. “Whatever happened after the ambush? As soon as we heard of what happened, we left for the Silver Star pack immediately. They were one of our closest packs. It was said they were one of the first packs formed after the goddess created us, along with the royal pack.” Andrew said. That makes sense. We originated from blood lines of that pack.

“So that’s how I am of royal blood? Our lineage comes from that pack?” I asked and everyone nodded. Jake gripped my hand. I felt a surge of power like I always do when we touch.

“After the ambush, we cornered all of those who conspired against us. Those wolves are no longer here to tell the tale. I lost good friends, a mate, she was pregnant. I lost so many good people.” I walked up to him and hugged him. He looked shocked that I did. I mean, I am a queen after all, but he is my uncle and he lost everything.

“If you wouldn’t mind meeting with me later. I would like to go over some things regarding that night, for our records. We are waging war on the council and the bear kingdom, so I don’t trust that they didn’t have anything to do with it.” He nodded.

“I was wondering why there was a Bear shifter here. He’s not a threat is he?” Kasen stepped forward.

“No, he is my brother’s mate. He is one of the Royal Bear Princes. He is going against the bear kingdom. We will go over more details in private. We are hosting an Alphas meeting tomorrow to go over all the details. Alphas and their Gammas are welcome. Since you seem to have brought your whole pack, you are welcome to bring a beta too, if you have one.” Kasen said. Theo Gripped Duke’s hand and everyone calmed down.

“Well, that’s enough serious talk for now. We are having a BBQ to get to know one another, and settle in. You and your pack are more than welcome to join us. There is plenty for everyone.” I said with a smile.

Getting back to the BBQ, everyone looked apprehensive. A pack of rogues was here on royal territory and there was no fighting. Alphas and their Gammas were Tense, but amazing things happened. People found their mates. I lost track of how many people found their mates during this event.

“The goddess was right. You are a good judge of character. Look at all the good you have done tonight, love.” I looked around, and Kasen came up behind me and wrapped his arms around me. Marcus stepped out of the castle and froze. He looked at the group of Rogues and his pupils dilated, his nostrils flared.

“I think our Gamma may have just found his mate.” I say with a chuckle.

We watched him sift through the crowd and stopped at a petite shewolf. She had fire red hair pulled back in a Dutch braid. She was a short thing but adorable.

“She looks like she has spunk.” Akira said. I agreed.

“Now we just need to find Josh mate.” I said and Kasen stopped swaying to the music.

“Did he ever tell you what happened in his past?” I shook my head no.

“Josh was mated before. Her name was Sarah. She died about a year ago. He was heartbroken. We don’t know what happened. All we know is that she was battling depression. She didn’t talk to Josh about a lot of it. We were worried they weren’t actually mates due to how closed off she was from him. She came from a bad background. Anyways he came home one day and found her hanging in their room. Ever since then, he has been closed off from love. You were the first shewolf he actually took a liking to. But he has always cherished mates. Mainly for her. That’s why he was so mad at me for how I acted before. He has always thought that if he had the opportunity to love her properly and help her, then she would still be alive. I pray that the goddess gives him a second chance mate.” Kasen said.

The story broke my heart. Poor Josh. He always has a smile on his face, but how much is he truly holding back, how much is he struggling on the inside?

“I’ll make a mental note to talk to him and see how he’s doing. Make sure he knows he’s appreciated.”

Kasen smiled. “I think hell like that very much love.”

Kasens POV

The next morning, we had the Meeting. I was in the dining room, waiting for Sam to come down. I smelled her scent before I saw her and looked up. She was absolutely stunning. I still can’t believe that I was ever going to let her go. She was wearing a Grey sweater knit dress with knee-high boots. Her long brown hair was wavy and shining like silk. I scoot back and pat my thigh and have her sit in my lap.

“Morning, love.” I mumble to her. She’s not a morning person at all and it shows. Despite how radiant her smile is, she will always prefer to sleep in.

“Why didn’t you wake me up?”

I chuckle. “You looked so peaceful. That and I know how you get when you’re woken up early.” She glares at me.

“He’s right you know. You’re like Satan’s spawn when you are woken up early.” Jake said and Sam threw a piece of toast at him.

One by one, the Alphas and Gammas filed into the room, my parents, and Sam’s parents, Alpha Rowan, Marcus, and Josh all piled into the formal dining room. The Omegas brought out a few platters of Bacon, Waffles, Eggs, and Coffee. I piled enough on my plate for the both of us. I took the fork and scooped up some food and fed my mate while listening to everyone at the table. Sam looks at me and bites on the fork seductively.

“Love, if you keep teasing me, I will take you right here right now in front of everyone.” I whisper to her. She blushed, but we all know she is the queen of playing games. I rub her thighs and slowly inch my hand higher. I feel her tense up and I can sense her arousal.

“Two can play at that game love.” I smirk at her and slowly glide my finger over her panties, they are already wet. Waiting for me.

“Alright, alright, truce for now!” she grits out. I squeeze her thigh and start to rub her back in affection.

“Josh, if it is alright with you would you be willing to meet with me later? I want to take some time to get to know both you and Marcus since you both are so close with Kasen?” he looked at Sam and then at me to see if I was okay with it. I nod at him knowing that I trust both of them.

“Sure, my queen.” Sam smiles. Poor Josh doesn’t know what he just signed up for!

After breakfast, Sam and I went to the Conference room to prepare for the meeting. Getting the Projector set up and making sure we have all documents needed. My dad and David are here helping with the wiring and making sure each alpha has a pamphlet of information.

Josh and Jake are going to be bringing people in while Marcus runs the pack for a couple of hours. Gemma is working with My mom, and Lucy to take care of all the pack members and the visiting members.

“Do you want to speak first, or would you like me to hold off?” Sam asked me.

“I will lead the meeting; you are welcome to join in any time you feel you have anything to say or if I forget anything. Have the omegas bring in Water, Coffee, and anything we may need. We will be here for a while. Also, the Witches should be arriving this evening along with some of the Vampires we have allied. This week is going to be stressful, love. I am going to do my best to make it go smoothly.” I tell her. She places her hand on my forearm.

“I am here to help too. Rely on me. I am your mate. I will help you with this. I don’t want everything on just your shoulders.” I smile and nod at her.

“She’s right. It is a joint effort, son. Your mother was my saving grace. I would have been drowning in work if it weren’t for her.” dad mentions.

“I agree. Even though I was only in a Beta position, Lucy helped a lot. Even if it was reducing my stress, helping with workload, or just being there in support.” David brought up.

“You’re all right. Having a mate is new for me and I’m still getting used to it. I am used to doing the work by myself, so it is hard for me to pass the reigns sometimes.” I look at my watch and notice that it is 5 minutes to 10AM. The meeting should start soon. Josh peeks his head through the door.

“We have some of the alphas ready to join you. Are you ready for them?” he asked.

Warrior Princess Chapter 30

Kasens POV

I nod and I and Sam make our way to our seats at the head of the table. My dad sits next to me and Sam sits on my left. Josh and Jake stand behind us. Sam's dad stands behind my dad and Rowan sits next to him. One by one the alphas file in and find their seats with their Gammas standing behind them.

“Thank you all for joining us. There is water and refreshments here if needed. If anyone needs or wants something specific, please let me know and I will make it happen.” Sam says and then looks to me to start this meeting.

“As you were all made aware briefly, we are waging war on the Bear kingdom. What I didn't mention was that we are also waging war on the Supernatural Council as well. I asked you to be discreet in coming here for this reason. I do ask that you hold all questions until the end. You have a copy of this whole meeting in the pamphlets. I will try to keep it short and sweet, but there is a lot of information that this may take a while.” I saw Samantha squeeze my hand for support. I look to her, raise her hand and kiss it.

“Shortly after my mate arrived here, she was fighting with a bear. It wasn't just any bear. It was one of the Royal bear Shifters.” I said and I linked Duke to join us and bring Theo in. I wanted him brought in separately to show he is on our side. They stepped through the doors and I heard gasps.

“I am sure you are all aware of the rumors surrounding Prince Theo. But I am here to tell you they are false. False stories spread by the bear king and council because he decided to go against them. The bear kingdom has been attacking other supernatural kingdoms and royal families. Either wiping them out or forcing them into hiding. I gave him a lie detector test and truth serum. We also have the Goddesses Testament that he is an ally. After he was taken down for fighting my mate and we discovered he was no threat we continued questioning him. He informed us of the attacks and informed us that we were next. The bear king is planning to wipe out the werewolf population, and he is doing it with the Councils help. They are funding him, supplying troops, and giving out trade secrets and top-secret information. It was also brought to my attention that my Ex-Fiancé has a family member high up in the council ranks. She was feeding him information from me without my knowledge and was planning to kill me after she took the throne.” I said and I heard numerous growls.

“Luckily, circumstances happened, and the engagement was broken off years ago. She still stuck around and snuck as much information as she could. Our troops, our pack lands, how many packs are under our protection, where they’re located. Everyone in this room has a pack and family that is now in danger.” The growls got even louder.

“Settle down.” I command, and the room quietens. Sam takes a moment to speak up.

“This is why we asked for your support and help. We don’t want it to even come close to that. We want to attack while they think we are still in the dark. We want to bring the fight to them. The Faes were wiped out, and the witches and vampire numbers are dwindling. We have witches and vampire allies coming tonight. We will all work together. We all have a common enemy. The council and the Bear king.” She says and everyone nods.

“We are going to train, everyone together. All packs, All alphas, All Gammas, Everyone. Even the witches and Vampires will join in the training. We need to be a unified front. We need to work together. From the information we have and the steady flow of information we have coming from the bear kingdom allies we have they are planning to attack at the beginning of summer. That gives us four months to prepare and attack. We need to keep the council unaware of what were doing. Being inconspicuous is key here. As for the council after the bear kingdom, we plan to overthrow them all. Any questions?” A few hands go up. I nod to Alpha Carson and his dad Alpha Aaron.

“What are we going to do once we overthrow the council?” They ask. I look to sam.

“It was your idea, love. You take the lead here.” Everyone looks shocked. Most lunas stick to being a mother to the pack. But my mate is a warrior at heart. She is a warrior princess.

“We plan to implement an election system. Every Supernatural kingdom will hold elections for candidates and the people of that kingdom will vote for who they want representing them. We will limit terms for Council members to every 3 to 5 years and on the 5th year, we will host a new election. That way it is people that are chosen by the kingdoms to represent them and there is a fresh face every year. I feel that giving the people a voice to speak will help all the kingdoms live together peacefully. If anyone else has any ideas, they would be welcome.” she says.

Carson nods and speaks up. “I think that’s a great idea, but how do we go about picking candidates?”

Sam spoke up and said, “Well, after the war, we will send out kingdom wide notices of the upcoming elections. We will have people who want to run for our campaign and give the people reasons to vote for them. Much like the humans hold elections for their political systems.” I see nods around the room.

“I’m in favor. As for the Bear king, what are we going to do? Wipe them out or place a new monarchy?”

I look to Theo. “I think that should be left up to this Prince. Theo, what do you think? Rightfully it would be your kingdom.”

Samanthas POV

“I’d like some time to think about it. If that would be alright?” Theo asked. Kasen nodded his head.

“Alright if there are no other questions, I would like to go over some schedules. We usually run training in the mornings before breakfast, and in the evenings before dinner. If that doesn’t work with anyone let me know. The training grounds, gym, and all equipment are available for everyone to use. Also, I would like to schedule times with half of every fighter here to work together. Half work in the am and half in the PM and switch it up every few days so everyone can get used to all possible fighting styles. I am inviting other kingdoms to train with us as well. Witches, Vamps, and as much as I know some will protest this, we will be having the allied bear shifters here as well.”

There were murmurs and people getting worked up. I decided to say something.

“Hush, everyone. This will be a good thing. The bear shifters will give us insight on how to fight them, their weaknesses, and their strengths, it will be like an inside edition on fighting them. The allied bear shifters will be screened before coming into the territory. Everyone we allow in, the goddess has sent to us personally.”

One of the Gammas spoke up. “I beg your pardon your grace, but how do you know the Goddess sent them to us?” he asked.

“Because I met with the goddess.” Some were whispering how, why, doubts. “I have come to realize that I am a direct descendant of the goddess. My blood line comes from the Silver Star pack. I am also not of Beta blood like we thought. I am of alpha blood. My uncle is sitting next to you. He is the Alpha of the Rogues and was the previous alpha of the Silver Star pack before it was wiped out. My being of Royal blood is probably why I was Mated to the King. Selene works in mysterious ways. The goddess told me that everyone who makes their way to our pack was sent by her, that I would have a way to tell who our ally is truthfully and who isn’t.” I said.

Carson and Alpha Aaron spoke next. “If you are of alpha blood why were your father and your brother our betas previously?”

My dad spoke for me. “I decided to omit the fact that I am of Alpha Blood. My mate hailed from your pack. I wanted to stay with my mate. Both Jake, and Samantha were unaware of our family's lineage. They didn't find out until yesterday themselves." They all nodded.

"Also, I am starting a camp for the Lunas and those who do not wish to fight to start training for either medical or hospitality. I will be fighting, any lunas who wish to fight are welcome as well. But those who are unable and do not want to fight will have ways to contribute." There were nods.

"Alright, I think that is enough for now. If you have any questions later, you know where to find me. We will be breaking for now to have lunch. Throughout the day the witches and vampires will arrive. Training this evening will be at 5PM."

Kasen and I decided to take a break from all of the war preparations and spend some one on one time together. "So, my King. What would you like to do? No Paperwork, no preparations, no duties, just me and you?" I say while rubbing his shoulders.

"I could think of a few ways we could spend that time." he said with a smirk. I ran my fingers through his black hair and leaned down to kiss his cheeks. He turned his head, and I was staring into his icy blue eyes.

"What do you say we run a bath, and take the afternoon to relax?" He mentions.

"That actually sounds perfect." Before I know it, he has scooped me up and is carrying me bridal style through the castle to our apartment. As soon as we walked in, I was met with Rose petals everywhere and candles lit.

"How did you do this?" he just shrugged and smiled.

"I may have had some help from a certain sister. She knew I wanted to do this and helped while we were in the meeting." I didn't say anything. I just smiled and leaned in for a kiss. It started slow, and passionate. That was until I decided to take his bottom lip in between my teeth. We are werewolves, we crave intimacy, and s*x. It's who we are.

He groaned as soon as I bit into his lip. He carried me to the bedroom and tossed me onto the bed. He grabbed me by my ankles and pulled me towards him.

"I think, you are wearing too much, my queen." He whispers as he kisses my ankle. I unbutton my pants and slide them down and he pulls them off. Once he sees I am wearing a mint green lacy thong his eyes darken. He is a sucker for lace.

He slowly and torturously kisses up my leg. Nipping at my skin as he goes. A trail of heat, sparks, and goosebumps follow his path.

"Stop teasing me mate." I say breathlessly. He smirks and bites his lip.

"I plan to tease you and so much more." He climbs on top of me and I wrap my legs around his waist. His lips connect with mine and his hand reaches under my blouse and gropes my breast. I sit up and pull it off.

"Now my king, I think it is you who is wearing too much" he gets off of me and slowly pulls his shirt off. I prop myself up on my elbows and watch his little show. I shouldn't say little there is nothing little about this man.

'You got that right little one.' Akira says. He gives me a personal strip tease.

"You're making me want to jump your bones." he chuckles but doesn't move to get closer. I'm tired of waiting. I walk up to him and jump into his arms. Wrapping my legs around his waist as he walks over and presses me to the wall. He cups the side of my face.

"You are beautiful." When he looks at me like that, I believe everything he says. He truly does make me feel beautiful. His touch, his words, his voice, everything about this man drives me crazy.

He knocks me out of my thoughts as he starts grinding on me. "There you are, little one. You got lost on me there."
