

Chapter 170

Riley was shocked. "What do you mean? Weren't you working just fine in Central Corporation? Did Si—" When she was about to ask if Simon had bullied her, she saw Eugene who was standing at the side and stopped.

"I resigned. It's because of some personal reasons." Sharon did not say much. She did not want to tell Riley about the photos that appeared on the corporation's forum. If she did, it would only worry Riley.

Riley understood. She patted Sharon's hand, saying, "It's awesome that you resigned! You're a pretty talented designer, so you'll do well in any company."

Sharon smiled forcefully. Resigned? She was chased out by all of the women in the corporation!

"You're a designer?" Eugene asked suddenly.

Sharon looked at him and nodded. "I guess you can say that." Her confidence was almost obliterated after joining Central Corporation.

Eugene looked straight at her with a sincere gaze. "My company coincidentally needs an excellent designer. If you're willing, why don't you come work with me?" He handed his name card to her.

After Sharon took the card, she took a look at it and saw the words 'Prosper Group' printed on it. Below that, the words 'CEO Eugene' were stated...

Sharon left Riley's home and went back to the apartment she was staying in right now. She kept thinking about the name card Eugene gave her. Why did the name Prosper Group sound so familiar? 1

She went into her study, turned on her computer, and searched for Prosper Group.

From what she could find on the internet, Prosper Group was S City's largest commercial group. The commercial domains it dabbled in were very wide and included finance, electronics, hotels, real estate, and so on. Meanwhile, the person in charge was S City's largest family, the Newtons. At present, the CEO was Eugene.

She also found information about the Newtons. The family's history went back more than a century. It had not been easy for them to maintain their footing in the industry for so long, which was why no one could compare to the Newtons' position in S City. 1

They were almost equivalent to the status the Zacharys had in River City. From the looks of it, the Newtons and the Zacharys were on the same level. Fortunately, they were from different cities, or they would be as incompatible as fire and water.

After reading about the Newtons and knowing how powerful Eugene's background was, Sharon could not help but sigh secretly. No wonder he was able to take full responsibility for Riley's injury. Aside from the fact that he had such an ability, as a person in charge of a large group, he would also have a strong sense of responsibility.

Of course, she would be tempted since such a huge group had offered her to join them. However, if she accepted Eugene's offer, she would have to leave this place, right? 1

She was already living separately from her son. She could not go to another city where the distance between them would be even further apart.

As such, she decided to not accept his offer.

Sharon turned off her computer. After she put away the name card, she received a call from Simon.

She looked at the phone on her desk but did not pick it up immediately. She did not forget how he had hung up on her aggressively today. As such, she would make him wait.

She stared at her phone. When she thought that it was about to stop ringing, she quickly answered the call. "Hello?"

The man sounded dissatisfied the moment he parted his mouth to speak. "What are you doing? Why did you only pick up after so long?"

When she listened to his deep voice, she felt a little guilty. It was as if he had seen through her thoughts.

She coughed and said, "Oh, I was in the toilet so I couldn't pick up the phone. What's going on? Did you find out who posted the photos?"

"Yeah, I did." The man's voice sounded overcautious and steady.

Sharon felt her heart tighten. She even raised her voice without realizing it, asking, "You did? Who did it?" Howard's face flashed across her brain. Was it him?

"I'll tell you when we're back in the Zachary household tonight."

Sharon was slightly stunned. "Back in the Zachary household? I can go back now?" Had Douglas gotten rid of the opinions he held against her and did he want to see her immediately?

Chapter 171

"The little guy is kicking up a fuss saying that he wants to see you. The old man can't control him, so he's asking you to pick him up from the Zachary household tonight. You two can stay in the apartment tonight." 1

Sharon understood. It seemed that her son had started throwing a tantrum again. Douglas might get a headache from getting annoyed by Sebastian, so he allowed her to bring the little guy to stay with her. However, it was only for one night.

Actually, she was extremely reluctant to be separated from her son. However, she was faced with too many troubles right now. Specifically, she had not settled her father's case so she was worried that she might not be able to take good care of her son if she had him with her. She would feel more at ease letting him stay in the Zachary household.

After contemplating for a while, Sharon said, "Okay, I'll see you in the Zachary household later."

Sharon's photos had caused a commotion in the company. Howard was also involved in this and now he was the person everyone was talking about.

He was extremely annoyed and agitated because of this. He did not want anyone to talk about what had happened five years ago.

Now that Sharon had resigned, it was meaningless for him to continue working here anymore. After all, the main reason he came here was to kick her out.

His goal was reached now, however... he did not feel any joy. 1

He went back home feeling extremely frustrated. He kept wondering who was the one who posted the photos?

Fiona was in the living room watching television. When she saw him come back, she approached him proactively. "Howard, why are you back so early? Are you feeling unwell?" When Fiona saw that he did not look too well, she asked in concern.

Howard felt exhausted. He collapsed limply on the sofa and did not answer her.

Something flashed across Fiona's eyes as she sat next to him. "Did something happen in the corporation?"

Howard turned his head to look at her. "How do you know?"

Fiona avoided his eyes and chuckled dryly. "I heard. They told me that Sharon's scandal was exposed, right?"

Howard's gaze turned cold. "Mom, you're the one who posted those photos, right?"

"Photos? What photos?" Fiona refused to admit it, but the way she avoided the topic could not fool Howard.

"Mom! Why did you do that? Don't you know that it's the internal forum for the corporation and how bad it'll look for me if you post those photos? I'm the talk of the corporation now and everyone knows I've been betrayed by Sharon!"

Fiona started to get nervous as she finally admitted. "I-I just wanted to avenge you and my unborn grandson. Hasn't Sharon been kicked out of the corporation now? After this, I'll make her disappear from your uncle's side!" she said hatefully.

Howard was even more troubled now. "Mom, I'll take care of this. Can you not meddle in this anymore?"

"No way! I won't stop as long as Sharon doesn't disappear from my sight!" Plus, this was the best chance.

"Mom..."

"Enough, you don't have to talk me out of this. I don't want to listen to you." Fiona stopped before continuing again, "Don't forget that today is your aunt's birthday. We need to go to the Zachary household for dinner tonight. Go pick Sally up from the hospital."

"Why is she in the hospital again?" Howard frowned. Did Sally go to see Dr. Wayne John again?

Fiona scoffed angrily. "It's all Sharon's fault. She's the one who caused Sally's body to be in this poor state that she needs to periodically go to the hospital. I don't even know if she's able to get pregnant again in the future. If she can't, I think it's best if you make preparations to divorce her..." 2

"I'm going to pick her up from the hospital now." Howard did not seem to be listening to his mother. He got up and strode away.

"You little rascal, did you hear what I said?" Fiona yelled at his back but he was walking out of the house without turning back.
