

Chapter 180

Xavier quickly rushed to Zachary household. As soon as he arrived, he went into the room to check on Simon's situation. The others stood at the end of the bed and watched.

Howard was supporting Douglas. The two of them were very worried about Simon.

After Xavier saw this and was told what Simon ate that caused the allergies, he diagnosed the situation instantly.

"Dr. Fuller, how is he?" Penelope asked.

"It is an acute allergic reaction. He is temporarily in a coma. Fortunately, you gave him medicine just now, so he will wake up after sleeping for a while. I will prescribe some medicine for him. Let him take it after he wakes up. Also, you have to apply the ointment to the places with rashes. Don't let him wear clothes or cover his body with a quilt for the time being. Only cover him up after the rashes on his body have subsided."

"Okay, we understand." Penelope asked the butler to take Xavier outside to prescribe the medicine.

"Dad, you should go back to rest in your room. We'll take care of Simon. You heard what the doctor said. He'll be fine soon." Penelope looked at her aging father. She did not want to make him too exhausted.

Douglas had been rather shocked just now. Simon had gotten allergic reactions before but he had never fallen unconscious immediately like he did today.

He looked at Rebecca who's eyes had gone red from crying. He could not lecture her because she had no way of knowing that Simon was allergic to this. It would be pointless to blame her as well.

Then, Fiona said, "Howard, help your grandpa back to his room." She hoped that the old master would leave soon.

"Okay, you guys should take care of him. Holler if there's anything," Douglas said.

"Uncle Douglas... I'm sorry. I didn't know..." Rebecca apologized to him with tears streaming down her face. 1

Douglas looked at her for the last time and sighed. He did not say anything to her before asking Howard to help him leave.

"Why are you still here?" Penelope frowned and looked askance at Rebecca. She was not being courteous at all.

Rebecca was heaving from her tears. She looked extremely pitiful. "Penelope, I'm so sorry. I didn't do that on purpose..."

"What's the use of you apologizing? You should go."
Penelope did not have any prejudice against her. She neither liked nor disliked Rebecca, but she caused Simon to pass out from an allergic reaction so Penelope was pretty opinionated about her now.

"Penelope, Rebecca did not mean that. She just wanted to celebrate your birthday with you. She doesn't know Simon can't eat peanuts. I should be the one to blame for not telling her. What's happened has happened, so why don't you let her stay here tonight and take care of Simon to atone for her mistake?" Fiona pleaded for leniency for Rebecca.

Penelope despised anyone who hurt Simon. She raised him all by herself and he was like her child to her. How could she stand to see him getting hurt? 1

"There's no need. Ask her to leave immediately!" Penelope said.

However, at this moment, a maid ran up hurriedly and reported, "Miss Penelope, Franky called for President Zachary just now. He said there's something urgent that he needs to settle in the corporation."

"There's something urgent in the corporation?" Penelope looked at Simon who was unconscious on the bed. How could he take care of anything in such a state?

Fiona seized this opportunity to say, "Penelope, you should go and take care of the matter with the corporation for Simon. There are plenty of us here and we can take good care of Simon."

Penelope could not ignore what was happening in the corporation. It seemed that she had no choice but to help him take care of this for the time being.

"Please take care of Simon then." Penelope let Fiona stay to take care of Simon. However, she still refused to let Rebecca stay. "Leave this place now. Don't get close to him."

Rebecca was terrified by the cold aura the woman was emitting. She cowered. "I... I got it. I'll leave immediately."

After that, Penelope left. She wanted to take care of the corporation's business as soon as possible so that she could come back to see Simon.

Rebecca was about to leave too, but Fiona stopped her. "Why are you leaving? Didn't I tell you to stay to take care of Simon?" 1

"But... Penelope..."

"Ignore her. She's not home now anyway. No one will kick you out." Fiona patted her shoulder and said profoundly, "This is the best chance to get close to him. Don't you want it?" 1
