

Chapter 183

Perhaps she did not sleep well last night, so Sharon was a little cranky. She poked his head and said grumpily, "I got up early to make you breakfast. What bad things can I possibly do?"

Sebastian touched his head innocently and curled his lips. "You wouldn't become a panda if you just woke up early to make me breakfast, right?" 1

"Yeah, yeah, I didn't sleep well last night. Happy?" She admitted directly.

"How can you not sleep well if I was sleeping with you? Could it be that... you miss Dad?" He did not see his father when he woke up so he was sure that his father did not come last night.

Sharon's eyes twinkled. Then, she immediately retorted, "Who misses that guy? It's best that he doesn't show up!" After she said that, she even snorted.

The little guy noticed something wrong with her. So, he reached out his tiny arms and held her, "Mommy, don't be scared. I will help you keep an eye out on Dad when I'm at Grandpa's place. I won't let him marry another woman."

Sharon was dazzled. He had already slept with another woman so it was only a matter of time for him to marry someone else. How could they even hope to interfere with this?

"Alright, alright, get up and wash up. I'll take you to see your godmother after breakfast."

"Hooray! It's been ages since I saw her. I miss her so much."

After the two of them ate breakfast, they went straight to Riley's house.

Sharon always had a key to Riley's place so she directly opened the door and entered.

"Godmother, we're here to see you! We even brought your favorite pastries!" After the door was opened, Sebastian yelled and ran inside.

"Sebastian, slow down." Sharon closed the door and followed behind her son.

After the mother and son walked into the house, they noticed that not only Riley was there, but Eugene was there as well.

Sharon was still a little surprised. Why did Eugene come so early?

When Riley saw the mother and son duo arriving suddenly, there was a flash of nervousness on her face. She went back to normal after hesitating for a few seconds. "Why are you guys here? Why didn't you call me beforehand?"

Sharon still noticed her restlessness. On the other hand, Eugene was elegant and composed. Nothing seemed to be amiss with him and Sharon could not help but wonder what the two of them were doing. 1

"Why? Do I need a reservation before I come to your place now?" Sharon said half-jokingly.

"I didn't mean that..." Riley always had the gift of the gab but now, she seemed to be at a loss for how to explain.

Sharon felt that she was acting more and more suspicious.

"Mr. Newton, it seems that you must care a lot about Riley's injuries, huh? You're here so early." Riley looked at Eugene.

"I don't have anything going on today so I came here earlier to take a look," Eugene said with a smile. The look that he gave her seemed to be deeper than usual.

"Have you considered my offer for you to work in my company?" He added.

Sharon fell silent for a while before shaking her head. "I'm sorry, I can't accept your offer."

To be honest, she was pretty moved, but his company was too far away and she could not be separated from her son for such a distance.

"Don't be like that, Shar. After all, you're not working in Central anymore and you're not looking for a new job right now. It's so hard to get one that's readily available for you. Why are you declining?" Riley was very supportive of Sharon working in Eugene's company.

"There are so many companies out there. I can just look for another one." She did not want to explain too much.

Eugene did not try to change her mind so he did not continue on this topic. He always maintained his etiquette.

After some time, the little guy said he wanted to go out to have fun. Riley could not move about easily yet so she asked Eugene to go with the mother and son to the amusement park nearby. She would not go with them.

Sharon did not want to trouble Eugene, but he was too chivalrous and he said he would be their escort. He even drove them to the biggest amusement park in the city.

This time, Sharon would let Sebastian have all the fun he wanted because she remembered how long her son stayed in the Zachary household and how long it had been since the last time she brought him out.
