Chapter 108

"How could you have so many big cats?" When Crystal walked out of the warehouse, she saw Harold smoking on the roadside.

When he went out, he was wearing a long trench coat. In the distance, there was a mountain forest. The moonlight was as cold as a silver frost. He was bathed in cold light and looked particularly beautiful when smoking.

Seeing that Crystal had come out, he put out his cigarette and said, "They're not mine."

Crystal was puzzled. "Could it be that they are from the local zoo?"

Harold said, "Have you seen such spirited tigers in the zoo?"

Crystal said, "I've never been to the zoo."

Harold didn't know what to say.

The only thing that could overcome contempt was poverty.

Harold clicked his tongue and said, "They belong to a friend of mine."

Crystal was even more surprised. "You actually have a pair of eyes."
