

Widow 114

Chapter 114

After washing up, Crystal went downstairs. On the dining table lay a bowl of fresh fried shrimp, sweet bean roll, and a plate of fruit. After eating the delicious breakfast, Crystal yawned. Just as she was about to go out to take a walk with Devil that kept biting the corner of her clothes, her cell phone rang.

It was a call from Antony. He said in an impatient voice, "Come back to the Evans family's house now."

"For what?" Crystal said, "I'm going to take a walk with my new pet."

Antony said with a dark face, "Your adoptive grandma and mother are here."

a chair, dangling her feet. When she and reported that two women came to look for you. One claimed to be your mother and the other claimed to be your grandmother. Today, I'm the only one at home. I'm so annoyed. They wanted to see you, and they refuse to leave until they see you.

"oh" and suddenly asked,

before replying, "No, she

not say anything more and hung up the that these women were the ones who had raised Crystal. Compared to them, Crystal was just a bit ignorant, but she didn't make others feel this uncomfortable. "Hey, Mr. Evans!" Debbie said with a smile, "I've long heard that the young masters of the Evans family are all good-looking men. When I saw you today, I knew that the rumors were true. Look at you, you are even more handsome than

"Oh... this fabric is expensive, isn't it? You and pulled back his

a hard life in the countryside with us since she was a child. Alas..." Debbie sighed. When Antony heard her mention Crystal, he asked, "Did she suffer a lot when she was young?" "We couldn't help it. Our family is poor, and she has been very picky since she was little. She sincere. If Antony hadn't had any contact with Crystal, he would have believed it. However, after getting along with Crystal, he felt that the spoiled girl in Debbie's mouth was too strange and totally different door all bowed and said in unison, "Good