

Widow 116

Chapter 116

Mia couldn't help but say, "Crystal! How can you talk to your grandma like this?!"

Crystal tugged at Antony's sleeve and said softly, "Did you hear that? You can't talk to an elderly like that."

Antony was speechless.

"Who the f*ck am I doing this for?"

"Crystal Evans," Debbie said in a low voice, "Your father is still in the hospital and can't move much. The doctor said that his leg can't be cured. He can only reduce his pain, but it will cost a lot of money. What's your opinion?"

Antony raised his eyebrows. Just as he was about to speak, Crystal said, "You've already called me Crystal Evans. Does the matter of the Hays family have anything to do with me?"

mocking, as if she really didn't understand. Debbie was stunned, and then she shouted, sprayed by her saliva. Debbie didn't brush her teeth often. Crystal felt disgusted and to what she said! How long has it words were too much. According to Debbie, although the Hays family was poor, they had never treated Crystal shabbily. Antony also knew that Sunshine Village was quite undeveloped. There were quite a few children who did not read books. In the countryside where men were more important than women, even the men did not read books, but the Hays family raised a college student like Crystal. It could be belong to the Hays family and didn't care about her father is ill, you should go back

Crystal pursed her lips.

back to see Dan, but she was afraid that once she went there, the Hays family had planned to squeeze out the last drop of blood from her bones. If she was softhearted, she might not be and smoked. This cowardly man was very thin.

and stood up. He touched her soft hair with his

you stay here.