

Widow 136

Chapter 136

Some of the onlookers had a look of pity on their faces, but they didn't dare to step forward to stop her.

They all knew about Mrs. Bowles more or less. Her husband was very rich. She married into a rich and powerful family with her face. Originally, she had a low-profile life, but she was lucky to give birth to a son. Her husband had been fooling around outside for many years, but he had never had a son. Of course, her only son was the apple of everyone's eyes, and Mrs. Bowles's identity was also rising.

Many people looked down on people like Mrs. Bowles and felt that she had no dignity in her life. She was just a man's plaything and a tool for giving birth to children. But because of her husband, they had to greet her with a smile on their face.

When the hand was about to fall on the little boy's face, someone suddenly hugged the child. Mrs. Bowles was stunned and widened her eyes. "Who are you?"

Crystal frowned and ignored Mrs. Bowles. Instead, she looked at the little boy in her arms and asked, "Bernard, are you scared?"

aback.

contacted the teacher of the kindergarten. The teacher naturally informed up, and said to Mrs.

Bowles was furious. "Who are you calling forties. I'm only 19 years

"I'm only

Then why do you

year!"

just now. But now, Mrs. Bowles hated Crystal to death. She was a person who relied on her face to make eyes were vicious. "What's the relationship between you and this little