

Widow 144

Chapter 144

Crystal was startled by her action. "Why are you kneeling before me?"

At this time, Mrs. Bowles was no longer as arrogant as before. She sobbed and said, "I know it's Leland's fault. I apologize to you on his behalf..."

Crystal said softly, "Leland has done something wrong, so he should apologize. And... the person you offended is not me."

Leland immediately said, "I'm not wrong! Why should I apologize?!"

Mrs. Bowles pulled him over and slapped him on the face. She said sternly, "Apologize to Bernard!" Leland was stunned. This was the first time in his life that he had been slapped, let alone by Mrs. Bowles, who had always spoiled him. He burst into tears. "You hit me... You actually hit me!" Mrs. Bowles ignored her son's cries and said harshly, "I told you to apologize to Bernard! Did you hear me? Apologize immediately!"

Leland was frightened by his ferocious mother. After all, he was still a four-year-old child. He didn't dare to resist and said to Bernard, "I, I'm sorry... I know I was wrong."

at the palm print on Leland's face, frowned, and asked Bernard, "Bernard, are you willing to forgive a soft "hmm" and Bernard's head, and said, "Yes, what he said is to heart..." She wiped away her tears and said, "I will immediately go and arrange for Leland to leave said before. Leland's behavior was too bad. If he continued to stay in this kindergarten, it would be a potential

Bowles, I have a

degrees. She lowered her head and said obediently,

"If you

on a man, you won't have a good ending." Crystal looked down and said, "You think you are very important, but in fact, the other party can abandon you at will, even if you birth to a son for entire body

of the White family, but now she remembered that Mr.