

Widow 191

Chapter 191

Christy forced a smile and said, "Here's the thing. I want to ask you first. Where did you... learn your embroidery skills?"

Sunshine Village was a very underdeveloped place. When Crystal went to primary school, the school organized an activity. They couldn't go too far, and the location of the activity was the old folks' home in the town.

Crystal met an old lady there.

The nurse in the old folks' home said that the old lady, Monique, was originally living in a mental hospital, but there were too many patients in the mental hospital. So, Monique, who was slightly more normal and had no relatives, was sent to a remote countryside.

Monique's temper was very strange. She didn't talk to anyone, nor did she smile. Every day, she played with the needles and threads alone. Her reaction was slow and she couldn't do any meticulous work. However, she wasn't tired of trying to embroider.

On the day they went to the old folks' home to work as a volunteer, many children saw Monique, but Crystal was the only one who had helped her get through the needlework.

the old folks' home whenever she had the time. Monique would guide her in embroidery. Crystal came to learn it as a hobby, which was barely entertainment for her. Sometimes, when Monique was sober, her the last time. At that time, Monique said, "You are not but she learned it from the women in the village." Crystal raised her don't have a master."

embroidery technique has been lost for a long time. How can you not have gave Aletta a cold look. Freud slapped the table and said to Aletta in a fierce voice, "Why are you so and said, "I... I'm just a little Freud said, "It's you who have questions to ask her. It's not my sister who owes you. Can you be

She swallowed her saliva embroidery technique is very difficult to learn. Ordinary people can't learn it. If you don't have a master teaching you, it is