

Widow 193

Chapter 193

Aletta said, "Don't worry, Miss Bolton. I know."

Christy got into the car and asked, "When will the both of you meet?"

"My mother is still making arrangements," Aletta said, "I don't know the exact time. You have no idea that the Madam of the Duffy family is a powerful person. She has a very strict eye for choosing her daughter-in-law."

Christy said with a smile, "No matter how picky she is, she can't find anything wrong with you. When you become the Young Madam of the Duffy family, I will definitely attend your wedding ceremony." Aletta blushed and said, "Miss Bolton, it's not decided yet."

Although she said so, in fact, she was very confident.

After all, men from the military academy rarely saw women. It was very easy to get their attention.

In the food stall, a group of people were already drinking. Crystal was surrounded by them. She looked particularly petite while she held a cup of milk.

and he was crying bitterly. "Damn it, I just came out of the training camp, and my mother patted him on the shoulder and said, "Freud, think about it. Your mother is afraid that you'll die, so she wants you to have said, "You'd better with my sister and bumped into Freud's blind date scene!" Someone me about it," Antony said with food, and when the girl opened the door, he got in the car... My sister was stunned on the spot. The key point was that the girl said she was willing to be with Freud, but Freud said that he liked men.

laughed without giving said, "What do you know? The three younger brothers in the girl's family all expect a powerful brother-in-law to

for being born into the

"I've really suffered enough as a

Crystal was speechless.

at Freud with sparkling

"I also want to be a rich second rich for so many generations. Can you not