

Widow 194

Chapter 194

Crystal said, "It's not your first day to know that I have no conscience."

She was quite self-righteous.

Antony narrowed his eyes. "Crystal, why do I feel that you've become arrogant?"

Crystal blinked her eyes. "Really?"

Antony thought about it carefully and felt that it was true. When Crystal first came to Fairby, she was not so arrogant.

But for a moment, he couldn't tell what had changed.

Before Antony could come up with a reason, his phone rang. He looked down and saw that it was a call from Dora.

He felt inexplicably guilty. He stood up and went to a quieter place to answer the phone. "Hello, Dora, what's wrong?"

"I just saw the social media post sent by Master Duffy. Are you having a

Why did this fool only at the social media. Sure in the corner, with the word "sister mentioned in this stupid post, people with ulterior motives could

of the army camp? They all wanted

"Crystal is also there, right? I to me." Dora smiled and said, "After all, you are siblings.

"Dora..."

want to take Crystal with me. Can you help me invite her? She has been back for so long and has not seen my friends yet. She should also meet them. After all, she will have to about Crystal's interpersonal relationship. "Don't worry," Antony said. "I'll case, I won't disturb your gathering. However, Antony, you should drink less. Oh, don't

"I know," Antony replied.

phone, and the smile on

held her outstanding talents. The future of not easy to make friends with them. Hence, even if they were to get to know each other, Dora would only be able to chat with them at the