

Widow 200

Chapter 200

Christy said, "Mrs. Mcadams is an important customer, and Mrs. Cook isn't? Both sides can't be offended. What do you want me to do?"

Aletta quickly said, "I can..."

Christy interrupted her. "Aletta, do you know the relationship between Mrs. Mcadams and Mrs. Cook is not very good?"

"I know," Aletta replied.

These two women could be said to be mortal enemies. Although more than 20 years had passed, there were still many people in the circle who knew their grievances.

It was said that Mrs. Mcadams and Mr. Cook were engaged at that time. In the end, Mr. Cook fell in love with Mrs. Cook at first sight and insisted on marrying her. Mrs. Mcadams became a laughing stock because of this. The hatred between the two women was also formed from that time. Even though Mrs. Cook's son is going to get married, the two of them are still competing with each other and unwilling to give in.

Christy's eyes were full of sinister schemes. She said, "I don't want you to make clothes for Mrs. Mcadams because it's for your own good. You'll know later."

to her, but Mrs. Mcadams and Mrs. Cook were

she naturally had a way to make Crystal completely embroidery technique... could only belong

the room assigned to her. She said, "Mrs. Mcadams has made a lot of

and

second thought. "Is there...

Crystal blinked. "What's

"You came in suddenly. No one knows you. It's inevitable for them the other people in the studio looked at her, Crystal nodded and preferences and requirements. I'll give them to you later," Anaya at the things Christy had prepared for her. They were indeed good stuff. Whether it took out her phone, took two photos, and sent them to

'lll

"From today onwards, I am no longer

Harold replied very quickly.