

Widow 207

Chapter 207

If the admission score for the design department was 10 points, then the biology department's score was 50 points. Every year, the number of quotas was only a little bit, and it was always the top rankers of the various cities who competed for it.

Kayla said, "I can understand if you didn't bring the admission notice, but you can always find out your college entrance examination results, right? You can check it on your mobile phone. Do you dare to show your results to everyone?"

Crystal didn't understand why these people were so persistent. "What does it have to do with you what kind of school I get admitted to? Thank you for your concern, but I don't need it."

"I think you're feeling guilty." Lorna said, "Everyone has a mouth. Who doesn't know how to speak? I can even say that I was admitted to the Evergreen Vine."

Kayla echoed, "That's right. You're making me laugh my ass off. You're not ashamed when you talk big. You even brought out the biology department of Princeton University. It's so ridiculous."

The crowd burst into laughter.

Dora didn't believe that Crystal could get into Princeton University. She frowned and said, "Crystal, are you really not lying?"

After the little cake was finished, Crystal was a little bored. "I've already said it. I don't need to lie."

Her attitude was not good, but Dora didn't care. Instead, she said, "Since that's the case, why don't you show the results of the college entrance examination to everyone? In that case, everyone will believe you."

"Crystal was speechless.
