

Widow 258

Chapter 258

Crystal looked at the target and then at Corey.

Corey said, "But I'm still better at it."

Crystal was so angry that her eyes turned red. "I won't play with you anymore!"

"All right, all right. You're not as good as others, and yet you're throwing a tantrum." Corey pulled her back. "Your hands are swollen. I'll apply a cold compress to them."

Crystal said, "I'm going to look for my brother. I don't need your help."

Corey pointed to the side. "Their match has become intense. Are you sure?"

Crystal took a look and saw that the group of boys' desire to win had been completely provoked. There was also a group of people around cheering for them. It was so lively that one would think that they were competing in Olympics.

"..." Crystal blew on her hands. "Okay."
