

Widow 28

Chapter 28

Crystal's mood was complicated. "But, but I was just an infant at that time. How could I know these things?"

"I understand what you mean, but I can't deny the fact that we lost our mother because of you." A trace of sadness flashed across Antony's eyes.

Crystal lowered her line of sight, standing quietly.

Antony heaved a long sigh of relief. "Crystal, I'm saying all these because I want to tell you that there's no place for you in the Evans family anymore. Do you understand what I mean?"

Crystal's eyelashes trembled slightly, making Antony think that she was crying. The next second, she raised her eyes, looking calm. "I understand."

After Antony left, she lay on the bed, but she couldn't fall asleep no matter what.

She remembered when she was in Sunshine Village, her grandmother often hit her. Her mother was just watching from the side, didn't even want to help her. Even when she cried and shouted, her mother was still indifferent. There were also times that her mother would hit her even harder than what her grandmother had done to her.
