

Widow 306

Chapter 306

"I told you two years ago that I don't have a nephew like you." Willis said coldly. "Recently. I didn't hear any news about you. I thought you had learned well, but it turned out that you have been doing evil things in my name! Even if your mother begs me again. I can't tolerate you!"

Hearing this. Herman quickly hugged Willis's leg and said. "Uncle, I know I'm wrong. I really know I'm wrong. Please forgive me this time... I beg you..."

"You b*stard, how many immoral things have you done?! I and your mother have solved the problems that could be solved with money, but what are you doing now?! Gang fighting, extortion, fraud... I don't know how many good things you have done!" Willis's face was livid. "If I had known that you could have done such evil things, I wouldn't have advised your mother to give birth to you!"

When Herman was still in his mother's womb, his father died. He and his mother relied on Willis to support them. His mother doted too much on her only son. Although Willis was upright, he could not stand his sister's crying. As soon as he educated Herman, his sister would stop him with all her might. As a result. Herman became what he was now.

Two years ago. Willis really couldn't stand it anymore. He was so angry that he broke off his relationship with him. But he didn't expect that the beast was still doing all the bad things in his name!

b*stard to death, but he controlled it. He said with a gloomy face. "I won't inform your mother about this, but you scared out

as his uncle. Although Willis did not like him, this title was very useful. He also thought about what he would do if this matter was exposed. He thought he could just ask his mother to plead for him.

wrong. I will change it... I will really change it... I don't want to go to jail... If sigh of relief and said, "You shouldn't have done it at the beginning!

the police

her and

said, "Sir, do you know

Willis, "?"

300 dollars from this old