

Widow 327

Chapter 327

When the servant outside heard the noise, she hurried in and said nervously, "Madam..."

"Get lost!!" Alda grabbed the handwash and threw it out.

The bottle of handwash was made of solid stainless steel. It was quite good-looking and classy. However, it would be totally deadly when landing on someone's head.

The bottle smashed directly on the servant's head, and in an instant, her head was injured and bleeding.

Alda grabbed her collar and said sinisterly, "Are you here to see me make a fool of myself?"

The servant was covered with blood, and she was so scared that she was breathing heavily. "No, no... I'm worried about Madam..."

"You're worried about me?" Alda sneered, "You're obviously here to see me make a fool of myself! Just now, when I was outside, I knelt down to someone and was slapped by someone... Was it fun to watch?! Huh?!"

"Madam..." The servant was terrified and trembled all over. "I didn't... I really didn't..."

and blood was flowing out, her delicate features could still be seen.

to be the Young Madam of the her face turned red. She said with difficulty, "No... I really didn't..." "Don't think that servant tried her best to hold

The servant fell to the ground and coughed painfully when she could finally the sink. Looking at her face in the mirror, she slowly adjusted her expression and found that her makeup was a little worn out. She ordered, "Go and dare to delay and quickly

a minute,"

with fear and asked,

"I didn't hurt you

servant answered in a trembling voice,

other orders?"

have said that nothing

said, "Yes... yes, nothing happened

said, "Go ahead. Remember

