

Widow 360

Chapter 360

Crystal immediately felt lucky that she wore a long dress today.

No, she shouldn't be thinking about this at this time!

Crystal's limbs were shaking. "What are you doing? Put me down!"

A lot of people were looking at them. Danny's assistant was frantically explaining behind them. "...Not human traffickers... nor are we gangsters... She's my boss's... er, not girlfriend... We're really not human traffickers!! Don't call the police!!"

Danny did not care about the thoughts of the passers-by. He stuffed her into the passenger seat with a dark face and then slammed the door. Crystal hurriedly wanted to open the door, but Danny was already sitting in the driver's seat. He put one hand on the steering wheel and said coldly, "Explain."

Crystal shrank into a small ball. "What do you want me to explain..."

Danny said, "CoCo is not your real name. Why did you lie to me?"

"..." Crystal breathed a sigh of relief.
