

Widow 362

Chapter 362

When Crystal felt that she was going to be cut into pieces by Danny, Danny calmly took her to a nearby shopping square, which was full of luxury brands. Danny raised his wrist and looked at his watch, saying, "You have two hours."

Crystal held the railing and asked, "Do you really expect me to choose?"

"Didn't you want to buy two bags first?" Danny said, "I'll buy you as many as you can choose in two hours."

Crystal almost broke her fingers.

"Is Danny suffering from a serious illness? Does he have nowhere to spend his money? Doesn't he know that he should support his younger sister, who is so poor that she can't even afford a watermelon ice cream, instead of supporting a female college student?"

"Why aren't you moving?" Danny crossed his arms. "Or do you need me to book the whole place for you?"

"No, no, no, there's no need..." Crystal hurriedly said, "I'm just thinking about which shop to start from.

chose the nearest store and walked in. Danny followed behind her. Seeing that it was him, the sales girl was very eager his legs in black trousers, took Evans," said the sales girl in

Crystal and kept selling luxury goods and were familiar with most of the celebrities in Fairby. Danny rarely came, but he often appeared in financial magazines. Today, not only did Danny come, but he also brought a girl with him. How could people not have wild noted that Danny didn't even accompany his sister to go shopping before. Crystal braced herself to look at the items in the store, and the sales girl enthusiastically recommended, "Miss, do you want to see the bags or the clothes? I think this yellow bag will look good on you. It's limited in the season.

she was not worthy of was silent for a moment, and then they immediately pushed out another one. "This one is relatively mature, and it's also sold very well. One has to in quickly said, "Miss, I'll take you restroom which had a nice smell. She let out really my

she found that there was no one outside, she quickly slipped out and carefully walked door. Crystal was overjoyed. She opened the