

Widow 370

Chapter 370

The next day, Crystal got up early and ran back and forth in the cloakroom just to find a piece of clothing that was suitable for her to wear to the amusement park.

She wanted to wear a dress, but she couldn't play many rides if she wore a dress. So she reluctantly chose a pair of shorts. Harold looked at her two long white legs that were revealed.

He took a pair of jeans from the wardrobe and said, "It's going to be hot in the amusement park, and you will turn dark."

Crystal said, "I didn't even turn dark when I harvested under the sun before."

All the women in the village were envious of her white and tender skin.

"You will get a sunburn," Harold said. "When the time comes, I won't help you apply medicine."

Crystal was frightened by him and compromised. "... All right."

The little girl wanted to look beautiful, and Harold didn't want to ruin her mood. He found another set of clothes from the closet and said, "Wear this one."

white trousers. Crystal went to change her clothes. Her skin was white, so wearing this kind of

in the mirror and quietly appreciated his strong muscles. Then she looked at his shoulder wrapped in bandages and asked, "Does your wound still it last night?" Harold said, "It's already scabbed. How can it care about your body at all... Hey, why are you still wearing a shirt when you go to the amusement park? It's not went to the closet and finally found a casual T-shirt. She sighed and said, "Your clothes are all formal... I'll go and looked at her. "Because no one felt that he was so pitiful. She

"What's wrong?"

"Keep your head down."

bent down a little and heard Crystal say, "... lower your head

his head and finally touched his hair, saying, "I'll buy them for you in the future... Of all because I don't have money. If I buy cheap clothes for you,

I