

Widow 421

Chapter 421

"Mrs. Mcadams, what do you mean by that?" Christy quickly said, "We've been friends for so many years. When have I, Christy, ever done such a thing?"

Edna thought she was right. It was not the first time that she had ordered clothes from Christy. Christy always had a lot of orders, so it was impossible for her to be short of money, not to mention that she clearly knew that there was a grudge between her and Flora. How could she specially make the same clothes for them?

Flora said coldly, "Then tell me, how did things turn out like this?"

Christy gave Aletta a look, and Aletta quickly said, "In fact, in my opinion, these two clothes are not exactly the same."

Flora was wearing seemed to be even better. She was even angrier and said, "Christy, this dress.

covered her mouth and said, "By the way, wasn't the order of Mrs. Mcadams transferred to Miss Evans? I saw that you were very satisfied when you tried the cheongsam, Mrs. Mcadams. My teacher even praised Miss Evans before... Mrs.

and said in a strange tone, "At that time, I saw that the embroidery master was young, but after a few words, she gave me an arrogant look. I didn't say anything because I saw the quality of the clothes she made. I have a deep impression of this cheongsam. How could I remember didn't you make Mrs. Mcadams's so she planned to refuse Mrs. Mcadams's order. But we happened and an order at that time, but Christy probably wanted to help the younger generation. She always told me that this embroidery master is very talented. I agreed because I wanted to show her some respect. Edna said, "Later, I went to try the Cook. The drawings are still there. How could there be