

Widow 446

Chapter 446

Sitting in the interrogation room, Ariel tugged hard at the corner of her clothes.

She had never thought that she, a precious young lady, would be locked up in the interrogation room one day as if she were a criminal.

Ariel did not feel that she had done anything wrong.

There was a huge gap between Alan and Anaya's family backgrounds. They were not a good match in the first place. It was Alan who refused to come to his senses. She was just doing them a favor so that they could separate faster. What was wrong with that?

As for the Shamus Family, it was one thing not to be grateful to her, but they even wanted to break off the engagement with her!

The more Ariel thought about it, the angrier she became. She wanted to smash something, but there was nothing in the interrogation room that she could smash, which made her even more depressed. Suddenly, the door opened and a policewoman came in. She said expressionlessly, "Your parents want to see you. Come out with me."

have come to pick me up. What kind of attitude is you talking so much nonsense?" "You!" Ariel managed to suppress Both her parents were inside. As soon as Madam Marcy saw Ariel, she cried and are you crying?

to fool

her eyes.

to stay in prison for a few years... But don't worry, Ariel. We will definitely get you the best lawyer. When you come out, I will

in disbelief. "You

"Ariel, there's nothing we can do. We've dealt with everything, but no one dares to say and Harold. Why does he have up! If anyone hears this, you won't be able