

Widow 454

Chapter 454

“Were you a soldier before?” Crystal asked again.

Harold paused and said, “Yes.”

“Why did you come back to do business then?”

Harold hugged Crystal, his fingers sliding down her hair. He chuckled and said, “There’s no future as a soldier.”

Crystal didn’t quite understand. “Is it because you earn more money by starting a company?”

“You can also think about it that way.” Harold said, “If I don’t have that much money, how can I afford to support you?”

Crystal puffed out her cheeks. “I’m not that hard to raise. I’ll eat even if you roast scorpions for me.”

“Forget it.” Harold said, “It’s really awful.”

Crystal laughed out loud. She leaned against Harold’s chest and seemed to have thought of something. She said, “I saw someone roast that kind of bee chrysalis and grasshopper before. Have you ever seen them?”

hadn’t

fried scorpions, but it’s hard to tell if they’re scorpions because of they were fried... I haven’t

Harold was speechless.

girl so attracted more!” Crystal said, “There are also

Harold was speechless.

had a

to hatch but not completely formed. There is the shape of a head, wings, and feet momentarily silent. “Do you

Crystal said, “I just wanted to share it with you. I saw it when I went to the fair before, but what I wanted to eat the most was the walnut Sunshine Village, I’ll buy it for you.” Harold patted her head.

with laughter. “There’s still something that

Harold thought about it.

to take these things seriously when he was young. As long as there was something he could eat, he would not hesitate to eat was probably getting old now. When he thought of those and said, "Actually, I'm