

Widow 458

Chapter 458

Anaya looked forward in confusion and saw a man in a suit despite the summer walking up the stairs. He was very good-looking, but there was no expression on his face, which inevitably made people feel that it was not easy to get close to him.

However, the pink Tulip in his hand neutralized the coldness on his body.

Crystal heaved a sigh of relief after she saw him entering the entrance. Anaya asked in confusion, "You hid from him the last time too. Who is he?"

Crystal touched her chest and thought for a moment about what kind of person Danny was. After a long while, she said cautiously, "A debtor."

Danny came to the hospital today because he received news from his assistant that his fiancée, who had been bedridden for a long time and was basically a vegetable, had woken up.

He had no feelings for his fiancée, and he couldn't even remember her appearance clearly. The reason why he occasionally came to the hospital to see her was to pretend to be affectionate in front of outsiders.

This shield was very useful. Since it was widely spread in the circle that he would never abandon his fiancée, less than half of the people approached him and tried to introduce him to other women. Therefore, when he learned that she had woken up, in order to make his reputation as a lover better, he canceled a few appointments and asked someone to order a bouquet of flowers before he came to the hospital to pick her up in the broad sun.

door. When he saw him coming,

Danny asked,

assistant, "... You should go and out of the bathroom. It seemed that she had just taken a shower and her hair was still a little wet. She was holding a towel in her hand. When she saw him, she was stunned and asked, "Who are Danny was speechless.

couldn't remember his fiancée's face, and his fiancée also fled from the wedding with another wild man during their engagement party, it was not a moment and asked in a low voice, "Are you... my put the bouquet on the table, and then he saw clearly what his fiancée, whose face he didn't

but her facial features were very good, especially her eyes, which was said that her mother was a famous beauty in Fairby. Now, it

I don't know you. But Nigel has told me the

she even bowed