

Widow 475

Chapter 475

Flora sneered and said, "You're actually aware that you made us worried!"

She looked down at her eldest son, who had always been obedient, and said coldly, "Do you know how people outside are talking about our family? I don't even dare to go out now!"

Alan said in a low voice, "I'm sorry. But even if I were to make a decision again, I won't choose to marry Ariel still."

Flora was so angry that she laughed. "You know you are wrong, but you are not planning to fix it?" She slammed the teacup to the ground, and the rich aroma of Pu'er tea filled the air. "Alan, did I raise you for so long to make you piss me off?"

"Mom!" Alan said, "If I marry Ariel, will you be satisfied?"

anger. Erik coughed and said, "Alan, how can you talk to your to say this, but I still have to make it clear. If I marry Ariel, my life will be a mess. Is this the outcome you want?

dare you!" Flora suddenly stood up, and she was so angry that she couldn't breathe smoothly. She pointed to Alan and said, "How can you say that?! Alan, you are the child frowned. "How could you say something like that to poke your mother's heart? You were brought up by your mother since you were a child. Look at your peers around you, they were all taken care of by their nannies. When you were young, you always cried at midnight, and your mother had to hold you in her arms and coax word "I'm sorry" in any case. "Mrs. Shamus, I'm sorry." Anaya's eyelashes trembled and she said, "Alan did not mean it. When we were together, he always told me how good

angry

him."

fingers and said, "There's no need for you to be Erik persuaded, "The girl is being kind. She doesn't want to see you and Flora snorted coldly.