

Widow 484

Chapter 484

Crystal timidly walked in and stood in front of Harold. He said awkwardly, "You... you came back so early today."

Harold said, "If I hadn't come back early, how would I have known that you went out with someone to have a big meal?"

Crystal was speechless.

How was she supposed to respond to him when he said that as soon as she showed up?"

"It's all Corey's fault!" Crystal said seriously, "He not only invited me to dinner but also brought a cat. Is there anyone in the world who can refuse a cat? No!"

Harold raised his thin eyelids and said, "Didn't you go to watch a good show after dinner?"

"How... did you know about this?" Crystal rubbed her nose and slowly rubbed it against Harold's side. She whispered, "I just haven't seen anyone fighting in a group fight. I'm very curious... But Corey also let me down. They didn't fight at all."

Harold frowned. "What's there to see in a fight?"
