

Widow 489

Chapter 489

Naomi started preparing early in the morning because she had received an appointment from Harold.

She had a good relationship with the White family. Because of that, she was highly regarded in the industry. When she learned that it was a little girl who would come for styling today, Naomi started to murmur in her heart.

Over the years, Harold had been very clean and there were no girls around him. Naomi could only think of Harold's fiancée, who was forced to marry him. However, when she heard that Harold's attitude toward her was cold, she thought that it was unlikely that it would be this fiancée.

Could it be that Master White has a secret lover?

What kind of beautiful woman could make such a man fall in love with her?

This was what Naomi was thinking in her heart, but she didn't show it on her face. When she heard that someone was coming, she calmly said, "Be alert later and don't offend her."

Everyone nodded hurriedly.

How could they dare to offend someone from the White family?

little girl. The little girl was wearing an ordinary T-shirt and long pants, and her hairstyle covered most of her face. No one could tell what was observant and had sharp eyes. At first glance, one could tell that the little girl had a good figure. Her skin was white and tender. At first glance, one could tell that she was a

Luke came straight to the point, which like this fiancée who was forced her to you. You know, Master White to boast and said, "I'll

"I'm leaving now. I'll pick you up when it's to Crystal and said, "Hello, my name is Naomi, the

to milk tofu, smooth and tender, and her eyes instantly lit up. "Is this the little strange. She frowned

Help.

She was so cute.

a man, even a woman would fall in love was instantly filled with enthusiasm. She pinched Crystal's fingers before letting go of her. "I'm sorry, I was just thinking about something.