

Widow 496

Chapter 496

The light became brighter with the reflection of the crystal, and the whole hall was covered with a layer of bright light. The champagne in the champagne tower was crystal clear, and soothing music was slowly playing. The grandest banquet in the history of the White family was extravagant everywhere. From the arrangement of the wine and cakes to the banquet of guests. All of them showed the prosperity of the capital of Hallbury.

In the hall, everyone was drinking and dancing. The moment the big door opened, there was only the slow sound of the violin and the sound of people's voices.

Everyone looked at the door.

Of course, the guests knew the purpose of this banquet. On the surface, it was to clear the news of Harold's "death", but the signature was Harold's and Crystal's names. They were all smart people, so how could they not know the purpose of this banquet? This was clearly the first time that Crystal had shown up in front of the rich and powerful as Harold's fiancée. Harold had specially helped his fiancée look good, which was why the current glamorous banquet that had shocked the entire Fairby was held.

were all kinds of well-known families here. Everyone had grown up in splendid families, and they had been used to seeing proud women since they were young. But when they saw the girl held by Harold, they were

Because of the bright light, the purple crystal and diamonds on the dress were shining, which made her skin look especially white and pink. She looked like a porcelain she was still beautiful. Her eyebrows were slender, and attractive. She looked both surprised and innocent, like an arrow made of beautiful colors, which instantly attracted people. She was such a fragile beauty. If she didn't have enough ability to protect herself, it would be her sin. However, the man who held her hand was silent and cold. Just by standing there, he showed his arrogance. His power was enough to make him show off spotlessly clean, like a princess in an ivory tower. She was ignorant of the world and naive. Crystal was shocked by the crowd. She quickly looked sideways at Harold and said casually, "Maybe realized something. She widened her eyes and said angrily, "Are you lying to me? We're not here to see the elders but he was afraid that it would