

Widow 499

Chapter 499

Not only Antony, but Marcus also noticed that there was something wrong with Danny's mood. However, he didn't care about it. He leaned against the side like a spectator with a fake smile on his face, but Dora didn't have time to care about it.

Under normal circumstances, she would definitely be a considerate little girl to comfort Danny in order to please him. After all, in the eyes of outsiders, she was the glorious Fourth Miss of the Evans family, but only Dora knew how she was like treading on thin ice in the family.

She looked at Crystal, who stood beside Harold and was praised by countless people. She was already burning with jealousy, not to mention that someone glanced at her from time to time and gossiped about her with a strange expression.

Even if she couldn't hear them, Dora knew what they were talking about.

"Is she the fake daughter who took over Crystal's place?"

"Didn't you say that she's very doted on? Why isn't it her chance to marry into the White family?"

"Compared to Fifth Miss... she doesn't look like a child from the Evans family either."

between the two families before. It should be that Master White has not taken a fancy to her, right?"

"Did he invite her to this banquet teeth and her people for having no taste. Who was Crystal?

But she couldn't.

She couldn't rush out without any manners, which would make people laugh at her in Especially that b*tch Crystal.

trying to irritate her by keeping such a high to time. Those who were introduced by Harold were all real influential people in Fairby, and most of them were old people. Crystal was the kind of child that the old was now very popular to have a card or cheque, the old people cared about the sense of ceremony, so they gave a lot of cash. Each red packet was very heavy, and Crystal also liked cash. She took a red packet and bowed to the old man. The little crown on her head was crooked. Harold raised his hand to adjust the crown on his wife's head. Thinking of something, he lit up. "Is it bigger than the