

Widow 504

Chapter 504

The banquet was very lively, but the host had disappeared for nearly half an hour before he reappeared.

Dora's eyes were sharp. At a glance, she could tell that Crystal had definitely changed her lipstick color. Why would her lipstick fall off? It could only be...

Thinking of this, Dora became even more depressed. Even Antony, who was beside her, noticed it. "What's wrong? Are you uncomfortable?"

"No." Dora forced a smile and said, "I was quite worried when Big Brother left just now. Could it be that there was some conflict between Crystal and him?"

"If there's a conflict, Crystal will be the one to suffer." Antony said, "I think she's still fine. What kind of grievance can Big Brother suffer?"

Marcus, who had been silent for a long time, looked at Dora with a smile. "You care about her very much."

After all, she is my sister, and I'm sorry for her..." "Why are you saying this all of a sudden?" Antony frowned. "No one feels that you've let her down." "I..." Dora

but Antony was already starting to get tired clenched her fists and looked at Crystal, who was being praised by the public. She was come to this banquet because of their low status, she something had happened to Crystal. Someone screamed, and then the crowd so he could tell at a glance that the Second Madam

"I'll go over and take hurriedly said, "I'm nose and scolding, "Who do you think you are?! Let me tell you, you don't even deserve were so harsh that the onlookers couldn't