

Widow 511

Chapter 511

"I've studied his killing methods before. Although he was also in love with bombs, there were no cases of him releasing human fireworks." Larry touched his chin. "But I do have a sense of familiarity."

"In fact, I saw Bud once when he first made a debut." Larry smiled. "But I didn't see him clearly because he was far away. However, what impressed me most was that he..." He pointed at his neck. "From here to his ear, there is a big tattoo, which looks like some kind of flower. I checked it later but I'm unsure if it's a common poppy or an opium poppy."

Crystal held her cup in shock. "Mr. Reynes, aren't you a businessman? Why have you seen such a pervert before?"

Larry laughed and said, "It's all business. Not only do we have some connections in the underworld, but we also have some understanding of the people there."

"There's a tattoo on his face. No wonder he's called Bud." Crystal put her chin on the table. "But I'm sure I don't know him."

Harold didn't express his opinion on this matter. He just said, "There should be a lot of people inviting you to some tea party these days. If you don't want to go, then don't go. If you are interested, call Luke and ask him to accompany you."

need Assistant at Harold, and said, 'Master White is afraid that you won't be able to control the situation when you show up in front of those people, so he let a bodyguard accompany you, and no one would

Then, she threw herself into Harold's arms and Harold was speechless.

Larry was speechless.

was blinded by her

girl's way

and it's not convenient for me to take you with me. I'll Harold off to work. When she could no longer see the car, she went back to learn how and said with a rare serious expression, "It seems that you