

Widow 522

Chapter 522

To go to Sunshine Village, one needed to fly to Hardworth first, then change to the high-speed train, the bus, and the tractor. However, since Harold was rich, he did not take this common route but directly asked someone to drive to Sunshine Village.

Crystal leaned comfortably in Harold's arms and sobbed, "It's so good to have money. If I have money, I can do whatever I want."

Harold touched her head and said, "It's impossible for you to be as rich as me in this life, but think about it in another way. Your husband is very rich."

Crystal thought for a moment and felt that she had really been comforted.

The further they got to Sunshine Village, the more difficult the journey became. At the end of the road was a completely muddy road. In the past few days, it had rained in Hardworth, so the road conditions were even worse. Fortunately, their cars were all off-road vehicles, so they were not stuck in the mud.
