

Widow 524

Chapter 524

For no reason, Bella thought of one of the sentences from a poem.

His voice was as nice as the sound of a yellow jade shattering and the cries of a phoenix. It also made the lotus flowers bloom.

Before she came to her senses, the curtain was suddenly lifted, and the man came out. When he saw her, he asked, "Did you bring hot water?"

Bella shivered subconsciously and did not dare to look at his face at all. She stammered, "Yes... yes."

A hand with clear joints reached over and said, "Give it to me."

Bella hurriedly handed out the kettle. The man took it and went into the inner room. Bella was stunned and her heart beat fast.

She grew up in a small village. The furthest place she had been to was the high school in the town. She had never seen such a person.
