

Widow 681

Chapter 681

Larry squatted on the ground for a long time before he got up and went out to make a phone call. "Mm... check the surveillance video. Find out when Miss Ethen went out, what she went out for, and who she met. By the way, inform Harold."

After hanging up the phone, he stood in the corridor for a long time. He wiped his face and pushed the door of the ward open, only to find that Larina had already woken up.

Her face was pale and her eyes were clear. Her gaze fell on Larry.

Larry stepped forward to feel her body temperature, but Larina grabbed his wrist and said in a hoarse voice, "Don't ask anyone to check. If you want to know anything, just ask me and I will tell you."

"..." Larry looked up and asked, "Did you hear that?"

"I happened to wake up when you were on the call." Larina released her hand and took a deep breath. She struggled to sit up but was forced back by Larry as he said, "You are very weak now. Don't move."

temperature had dropped, he let out a want me to live, or do you not asked, "What's the Larina muttered. "If it's the latter, then it doesn't matter who it is. What you care about isn't "Don't be paranoid. You're Valeri's younger sister, Larina. That's her brother's friends. Seeing that Larry was angry, she skipped this topic and asked, "Has the rain outside stop?"

said, "but see such rainy weather in City W. Larina looked out of the dark window.

for a while, then looked at Larina with a gloomy look. "...Did those people come to you again?" The corners of Larina's lips instantly pursed into a straight line.

Larry's face was very ugly. "I told you that if those people come to you again, you

you know

Chapter 682

Larry almost immediately realized, "Elton?"

"Yes." Larina lowered her eyelashes and said, "I'm sorry, Larry. I leaked the news out. I asked Luke where Elton was in advance, so he was taken away."

Larry didn't know what to say for a while. After a long time, he said, "What do they want with Elton? Is the matter of Crystal's injury related to them?"

Larina shook her head. She looked at the snow-white ceiling and said softly, "I think... they're angry."

"What?"

Larina said, "He is very angry. Although he didn't show it, I felt it," Larina said. Turning her head towards Larry, she continued, "He knows Crystal and he's angry because she got hurt."

see you, you must tell me. You have no idea how dangerous those people

Larina said calmly, "I knew it when they killed Valeri."

at Larina in anger. He was still upset about the fact that a few years ago, he could only hadn't died, many things would be different then, think too much. Valeri, you know very well that your illness is a Larina didn't comment.

check on Larina. She stood at the corner of the stairs the morning. When many people were in deep sleep, Harold's voice was very clear. "What's happened. Harold paused for a moment and then said, "It in his glass. On the windowsill, the bottle of wine that Crystal had given him still had the wildflowers she had picked. He looked away from the dark night outside and paused briefly when he saw the delicate flowers. Then he continued, "The conclusion from the forensic autopsy is that he was killed by having his throat cut. He had conflicts with someone before he died, but the injuries he sustained weren't severe. Also, the alley

"What?"

Chapter 683

Harold didn't speak, but Larry already knew what he was going to say. He sighed again and said, "It's not a good sign that those people are constantly harassing Valeri...what do they really want? I remember when we sorted through Valeri's belongings, there wasn't anything particularly valuable, so it's hard to say."

He paused here and chuckled self-deprecatingly, "I mean, surely they wouldn't go as far as burning her few remaining clothes, now that she's already dead." A

"You didn't find it, but that doesn't mean there isn't any," Harold said calmly.

"How is that possible?" Larry was very confident. "It's not like you don't know that Valeri's parents have died early Valeri is a single lady and has been in the army all year round. What can't be found?"

Harold bent his index finger and pressed his glabella, saying, "It's not that you haven't can't find it, it's because it has been hidden."

Valeri? But why? She clearly knew that they are a group of lunatics and could do didn't continue and only said, "She knows a lot of things that longer. He opened the window and lit a cigarette, cursing, "D*mn in Sunshine Village pierced through the dewdrops hanging on the leaves, making them lunch, Crystal did not go to the cafeteria. Instead, she picked up a thermos from the housekeeper. There was a dish of pork ribs soup, tomato eggs, and a and Annette came back from the canteen and saw her gnawing on pork ribs. Annette's eyes turned red instantly, "Pork ribs! away and said, "She's injured now. Do you really need to eat her but when he saw that Crystal's face was still a little pale, she finally endured the pain and said, "Forget it, I suddenly don't want to eat dragged her chair to Crystal's side and said, "I heard a find so much gossip over the past few to Phyllis' dormitory under the pretext of collecting Matilda's belongings and causing a scene They even got physical, and

Chapter 684

Upon hearing this news, Crystal paused for a moment. "Commit suicide? She's being locked up. How can she commit suicide?"

Moreover, she always felt that Elvira was not someone who would commit suicide. Even if she died, she would definitely make someone else take the blame for her.

"I don't know." Annette shrugged. "After all, it's just hearsay from others."

Natalie said lightly, "It's good that she died. It's peaceful now."

Annette did not mention it again.

In the afternoon, Crystal found an opportunity to ask Antony about it. Antony's face darkened. "That's right... Elvira is still being rescued in the hospital. It's hard to say if she can be saved. Besides, she didn't commit. suicide."

Crystal's heart skipped a beat. Sure enough, Elvira would not commit suicide.

sleep in the middle of the lips. "What do you know what her fatal injury

course, Crystal did in a deep voice, "Her throat was slit-if Mason were to go a few seconds something to do with him. After all, after Crystal's incident, he was furious. It was not surprising that he was so angry that he wanted to kill Elvira. For this reason, they woke him up from his bed in the middle of the night yesterday to question him, but it was dropped due to sufficient alibi evidence.

could only preliminarily conclude that it was a suicide." Antony leaned back. In the shade of the tree branch, there was a mocking expression on her face. "If they cannot find the culprit, then they can only assume it was a ridiculous, but there very soft and tender. So he looked up at him and suddenly muttered to herself, "It makes sense for

"?"

"Do you still remember the first time you are you bringing up old that there is a reason why Dora hates me. It's because when I came back, I did

Chapter 685

Danny pushed the door open and entered the apartment. He stopped when he smelled the aroma of food floating out of the kitchen.

He was already used to coming back for dinner lately.

Sadie would ask Nigel about his schedule in order to decide whether to wait for him to have dinner or not. If he would come back, she would cook more dishes.

Sadie's cooking skills were very good. Although she only cooked simple home-cooked dishes, they were more attractive than the exquisite dishes in the hotel

Danny loosened his tie with one hand, unbuttoned a button, and hung his coat on the rack. He looked down and saw a bottle of roses on the shoe cabinet at the entrance.

There were too many kinds of fresh roses. Danny didn't know the name of these light purple roses, but they were very beautiful, which made people feel better.

He didn't see them when he went out in the morning. He guessed that Sadie must have put them here in the afternoon.

back." Sadie came out of the kitchen with a bowl of cucumber egg soup. She said in a gentle voice, "Go

After washing his hands, he sat opposite Sadie and began to Seeing Danny looking at her, she smiled and said, "Maybe it's because I've eaten as he picked up a piece of potato, he suddenly heard Sadie cough uncontrollably. Before Danny could ask anything, Sadie had already taken a sip of water and suppressed her cough. She stood up and said, "I may have caught a cold. I'll go back to my room first, lest you get infected." She quickly returned to her room and locked the door. Danny looked at the closed door and stopped eating. After a long while, he got not

Danny frowned. "Sadie?"

was still no response.

or three seconds and turned to get the key. When he opened the door, he saw Sadie lying on the ground. Her snow-white home clothes were soaked with dark red blood, like a flower pupils shrank. He immediately stepped forward and picked Sadie up.

arms did not respond at all. Danny walked out with Sadie in his arms. He took the car key and went to the underground garage. After putting Sadie in the passenger hospital. On the way, Sadie seemed to have woken up in a daze. Looking at his side face, she seemed to have recognized him as someone else. Her voice was soft and weak. "... does it

"What?"

accident... it should hurt a lot,

Chapter 686

In the hospital.

The cold light made the corridor a little scary in the middle of summer. Danny leaned against the window and answered a phone call. The doctor came out in a hurry. Danny looked up at him and showed his palm down to let him wait for a moment. The doctor stopped three meters away. Danny said something else on the phone before putting away his mobile phone. He asked, "How is she?"

The gray-haired doctor looked embarrassed. "President Evans, can I ask you a question? What's the relationship between you and that young lady?"

Danny frowned and asked, "She's my fiancée. What's wrong with her?"

The doctor sighed. "Then you should be mentally prepared"

Danny's frown deepened. "Isn't she having a cold and a fever?"

The doctor shook his head. "It's much more serious than that."

report yet, but I can conclude that Miss Sadie is suffering from leukemia... Has she recently suffered from bone pain or been said in a low voice, "There are these symptoms, but I always thought that they happened because she's not used said, "It's very likely to stunned for Chronic leukemia.

death not long ago. How could the report, only hope that it's still in the early stage. Once chronic called, and the doctor said in a hurry, "President Evans,

Danny nodded.

of

could smoke, but he rarely life. She had been lying in bed for several years and finally woke up, but she was diagnosed with such a of all his

Chapter 687

"You can't see anymore. Why don't you tell me?" Danny asked.

Sadie was silent for a moment and then smiled. "It's not a big deal... I'll recover in the future. Mr. Evans, you're so busy. You don't have to worry about me. I just caught a cold. I'll be fine soon."

Danny had some doubts before, but now it was almost confirmed-Sadie had known her illness for a long time. At this moment, he remembered one of the nights when he and Sadie were drinking on the balcony. Sadie's hands were full of torn reports. He did ask her back then, but she didn't tell him the truth.

- "It's my previous medical record. I tore them up to say goodbye to the past."

He actually did not pay attention to Sadie's expression when she said that. But when he thought of her tone. back then, he remembered it sounded calm and indifferent, as if she was just talking about an insignificant thing.

Danny didn't understand why Sadie could always be so indifferent. No matter what happened, she could be indifferent. Even in the face of her medical record, she was still calm and relaxed.

Danny pulled out a chair and sat down beside Sadie. He asked, "Do you want some water?"

"No need, thank you..."

silence. The warm water in the glass had straw in it, which was

Warm water diluted the smell of blood

with a smile,

like to trouble me," Danny very busy. I shouldn't have troubled you with these time, the sky was completely dark. Through the window, they could see the city's lights in the distance. The VIP ward was quiet. After a moment of silence, Sadie was stunned. "But..."

got someone to bring you some porridge. You should like shrimp clenched her fingers and said softly, "You should go back to rest first. Aren't you going to work tomorrow? Don't be too tired." Danny did not answer, but just blankly, but she still with it with ease, but now that she couldn't see Danny, she felt very flustered. She pinched a corner of the white still

Chapter 688

Sadie's first reaction was to apologize. "I'm sorry..."

"You didn't do anything wrong. You don't need to apologize." Danny said coldly, "Lie down and don't move. Be careful not to make your hand bleed."

Sadie lay stiffly on the bed. She panicked as she couldn't see Danny's expression. "...Are you angry?"

Danny did not answer. At this time, someone knocked on the door. It was the porridge that he ordered that had arrived.

Danny opened the porridge. Because of the thermal container, the porridge was still hot, and the porridge was well-cooked. With yellow corn and red and white shrimp, it looked very thick and delicious.

him to see her miserable state of her food.

a spoonful of porridge

Sadie was stunned.

Danny... fed her?

had always been a very responsible person. They were engaged, so it was not surprising that Danny would it, Sadie knew that Danny was a person.

The taste was indeed very good. It was delicious and refreshing, suppressing the

Chapter 689

In the end, Elvira was not saved and died in the hospital.

Although the leaders from the base tried to keep it under wraps, news of the incident quickly spread on a large scale. Ultimately, Elvira brought it upon herself, so nobody felt sorry for her, but Crystal couldn't help feeling uneasy about it.

It was not because of Elvira, but because her throat was slit.

Slitting someone's throat was an extreme method of killing, even among other violent methods such as stabbing with a knife or striking with a heavy object. It carried a strong intention to kill from the very beginning.

The neck was one of the most vulnerable parts of the human body. Slitting a person's carotid artery with a knife was like slaughtering an animal in a slaughterhouse. It carried a very clear purpose and involved directly cutting the neck to let the blood flow out. This meant that, in the eyes of humans, animals in a slaughterhouse were doomed to die and completely under their control. Even if the animal struggled, humans would see it as futile and insignificant, and they would pay no attention to the animal's efforts to survive.

In that case, was Elvira like an animal in a slaughterhouse? In the eyes of the killer, Elvira was doomed to die, and he chose the method of slitting her throat to take her life, quickly and cleanly, with a strong desire for control and domination.

If it were not for Mason, the other party would have been even more efficient. Elvira would not have had the chance to lie in the hospital for emergency medical treatment. She should have died last night.

waved her hand in front of Crystal, took a bottle frowned and said, "I think was made to look like a suicide? Well, someone wanted to sweep it under the rug." She pointed to the sky and said, "The leaders of the base

you also think it's a vicious someone's throat is a exclaimed, "Explain to ago, slitting someone's throat was a form of punishment that had a

almost the same

that human bones are very hard, and it's basically impossible to cut off Punishment.

word in very uncomfortable about slitting someone's throat was probably that it was a

Chapter 690

The time for military training passed slowly, and before they knew it, it was already the 14th day. Tomorrow would be the last day of military training. Although everyone had complained and grumbled at the beginning, now that it was coming to an end, everyone felt a little reluctant to leave. Someone suggested having a party in the evening, and the proposal was almost unanimously approved.

In the afternoon, there was no training. Crystal took a shower in the dormitory and saw Annette looking for clothes in her suitcase. She asked her, "What are you doing?"

"I don't need to wear camouflage tonight for the party, so of course I want to find a nice outfit to wear," Annette said as she disdainfully threw the camouflage clothes aside. "This thing is just too ugly."

Crystal couldn't help laughing and said, "It's still a little cold tonight. Don't wear too much."

"What's the big deal about being cold," Annette clenched her fists. "I've already observed that there are quite a few handsome guys in our cohort. I need to get one tonight, and I don't have the confidence to do it without wearing a dress."

Crystal said sincerely, "All the best then."

beautiful dress last time. You can wear

be less obvious if the two of us looked at Natalie and said, "She'll be wearing it too.

"Isn't the purpose of three people wearing

With your appearance and figure, even if you put on a sack, there will be handsome men lining up narcissistic? If you count yourself as said, "I'm not your want

said casually. "I'll wear it. I'll wear it with Annette snorted in satisfaction.