

Widow 70

Chapter 70

Crystal thought that Danny had recognized her. She was shocked and asked cautiously, "Then... what else do I have to do?"

Danny's eyes were calm. He felt that talking to a little girl in the club was quite a joke. He said, "Come out with me."

Crystal was desperate and almost scared of death. She followed Danny out of the club. The secretary went to get the car. Danny was silent for a while. Then he turned to look at Crystal and said with a poker face, "Is it difficult at home?"

Crystal hesitated. "Yes, it's a bit difficult."

Danny asked again, "Is someone ill?"

Crystal shook her head. "No, I am going to university soon and I need to pay the tuition fee. That's why I came here to work."

"How much is the tuition fee?" Danny asked.

Crystal felt that he was a little strange, but she did not dare to skip her elder brother's question. She said in a low voice, "Seven hundred dollars."

just seven hundred dollars?" Crystal was unhappy when she heard that.

wrong with the coffee shop? But..." Crystal looked back. She had never been to a coffee shop before, so she didn't know if all the high-class coffee shops were decorated in the same her stubborn look, Danny's face turned had thought that the kid had been tricked into coming here. Now it also arrived with. the car. He got in the car without saying a word and closed the door with down the window and looked at Crystal. "Come warily. "What do you

handed it to Crystal. "This is one thousand

Crystal: "!"

in shock. "Why are you giving me money?" Danny said coldly, "Didn't you say that you came here to work nodded. "But not to mention giving. her money. Crystal was a coward, talk nonsense. Today, all his patience was spent on the little girl in this club. His voice inevitably became a little cold. "Don't hands. Seeing that she took it, Danny did not Crystal was confused.

the check in her hand, she couldn't help wondering