

Widow 87

Chapter 87

Alissa was trembling all over.

Recently, she seemed to have been living in regret. She regretted not listening to her parents' words and listening to Caleb's coaxing to marry him.

She regretted turning against her parents because of Caleb.

She regretted that she had only divorced Caleb two months ago because of the child.

But in this world, there was no time machine.

been crazy five years ago to said

would never be able to satisfy him. Now, he was asking her to sell the house. After he finished spending the money she got from selling the house, he might thing. "F*ck you..." Caleb was completely enraged. He kicked over the table on the

was ear-piercing. The beautiful she covered her ears and shouted angrily, his eyes were red. "I will be killed by those people if I can't pay them. Before I die, I will definitely bring you, you b*tch! If you don't give me a way to the ground. Alissa was in a hurry to stop him, but she was pushed away by Caleb and fell to the ground. Crystal quickly helped Alissa up. "Sister tears. "I'm sorry... I'm sorry, Crystal, for scaring you... You, you afraid that if Crystal continued to stay police. Caleb said, "Little you kill me, that's intentional murder. If you can hire a good lawyer, you'll only be sentenced to didn't let him touch it. She slipped away from Caleb's arm with