Chapter 302: Nameless Forum

In the Nameless Forum, all the accounts were divided into levels. There were nine levels – Black, Yellow, Earth, Sky, Great, Grand, World, Universe and God. Black grade accounts were the lowest level hackers, and there was only one God grade account. And it belongs to the King of Hackers, Tian Sha!

It was not because they did not want to give God grade accounts, but because no one had reached that level yet. Most of the so-called genius hackers could only remain at the Universe grade in the end. God grade became the peak they could never reach.

Other than the levels, the Nameless Forum also set up a 'Half-God Temple'. Hackers who were qualified to enter the Half-God Temple must be of Universe grade, and it also depended on their contributions to society. The reason why it was called Half-God was because these people were only one step away from becoming gods.

When the account's grade reached World grade or higher, every time these accounts logged in, there would be corresponding textual effects to carry out a full system notification. As long as one is in the forum, they would see these notifications to welcome these high-level hackers back. It was considered a kind of praise and encouragement from the entire hacker world. And every time a hacker of this level logged in, it would cause the Nameless Forum to tremble. For a time, it was incomparably lively.

Now, these hackers who are often in the Nameless Forum had never seen the system notification of Tian Sha. To them, the name Tian Sha was a legendary existence.

However, today, the King of Hackers, Tian Sha, suddenly descended. The entire Nameless Forum was in an uproar!

Looking at the dazzling special effects words on the screen, Xie Jiuhan's lips curled up. When he left the hacker alliance, the Nameless Forum did not have this function. It should have been added later.

At the same time, hackers from all over the country rushed to spread the news. Those who were not on the forum initially took out their phones and hurriedly logged into the forum. Even many experts who had already announced that they would withdraw from the hacker alliance indefinitely also logged into their accounts that had not been used for a long time. It could be considered as them slapping themselves in the face.

However, they did not regret it, because they only wanted to personally witness the words 'Tian Sha' and the scene of the exclusive title 'King of Hackers' flashing on the screen.

"Tian Sha, it's actually Tian Sha! Our hacker king is back!"

"I thought I was hallucinating. It looks like today is a good day. Our king is here."

"God! An absolute god! It's too exciting to be able to personally witness the return of Tian Sha, it's worth dying now."

"Let's welcome the descent of the King of Hackers, Tian Sha!"

The Nameless Forum was in an uproar. For a time, countless people were cheering and expressing their respect to the hacker king.

One could always believe in the speed of the Internet. In less than three minutes, the news of Tian Sha's return to the hacker world spread abroad. Immediately, it also ignited the hackers' network of the various countries. Everyone was discussing fervently.

A minute later, a post posted by Tian Sha on the Nameless Forum appeared in front of every hacker.

Tian Sha: "Is Night God here?"

The next second, the reply below the post exploded.

"F*ck, Night God, come out quickly. There's a God looking for you!"

"Heavens, what is God doing? Is he trying to pass the God position to the Night God?"

"Although the Night God is very strong, I don't think he's qualified to be a true god!"

After a few breaths, the Night God replied at the bottom of the post, "Dear King of Hackers, I'm the Night God."

Night God's account was Universe-grade, so the words he wrote were all thick and dyed to ensure that it could attract everyone's attention. However, compared to Tian Sha, his specialness was not enough.

Tian Sha: "From now on, you'd better not interfere in matters that happen in the Capital. This is my territory. With your lousy skills, you can go elsewhere to play, but it's best not to show off in front of me again."

All the hackers : "..."

Night God : "..."

The hackers of Xia country were dumbfounded. They never expected that after so many years, their god would return just to give the Night God a warning!

Under the gaze of everyone, Tian Sha warned the Night God bluntly, not caring about his reputation, or it could be said that he did not take him seriously at all.
