MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1671—Sean initially wanted to keep Dillion in the company for a while, but now that things had become sour, he figured that there was no need for that anymore.

Nicole saw that Sean had really gotten sick of it this time, so she figured that he had an idea.

She just wanted Raine to be expelled for what she had done, but in the end of the day, they could not just let Dillion's family get away easily. Otherwise, they might find trouble with Daniel and Sean.

However, she could not do much to help with the company, so she said, "Well, I'll leave this to you then, Sean. I'm worried that Uncle Dillion will do something to hurt you and dad. I think he should be..."

Nicole did not complete her sentence, but her family understood what she was trying to say.

"Don't worry, I'll keep an eye out for them." Sean smiled. "Just focus on your studies."

Nicole nodded and looked back at her mother. "Don't worry, mom. I'm a doctor myself. I've already treated my bruise. Don't worry too much."

Gloria nodded, but her eyes were teary. "It's my fault. You're hurt, but I didn't even know about it..."

"No. You've been nothing but kind to me. I'm very blessed to have parents who love me, and brothers who protect me."

Nicole looked back at her brothers with a feeling of bliss in her heart.

Sean and Steve looked at her lovingly. "The same goes to us..."

Having Nicole back was the best thing to happen to their family...

At night, their family ate their dinner happily and the house was filled with warmth.

And just like that, Nicole finally started to feel dependent on her family.

In the blink of an eye, it was already the weekend.

Today was the day of the film crew's opening ceremony. Gloria went upstairs with great excitement to pick out clothes for Nicole first thing in the morning. She had bought a number of new clothes for Nicole, as if she was worried that Nicole might be looked down upon by the production crew.

“Mom, it’s the opening ceremony today. I don’t think we’re going to shoot anything, so there’s no need for such formal attire,” she said.

“Says who? You should be formally dressed, especially for the opening ceremony! Hurry up, get dressed, and doll yourself up so that they won’t give you the stink eye,” Gloria argued.

Nicole was speechless. “Fine.”

Then, she put on an off-shoulder dress.

Her bruise was already gone, and there was no scarring at all. In fact, she was looking even more beautiful in this dress.

“Look at how pretty you are in that dress! You should be wearing skirts more often.” Gloria lauded as she dressed her daughter up.

Nicole sighed. ‘Man, it feels too cold down there when I wear skirts outside. If I ever meet someone who seeks to screw with me, I wouldn’t even dare to kick him.’

But there was nothing Nicole could do about it. Gloria was too persistent and immediately sat her down, doing her makeup before pushing her out of the house.

Anna had already parked her car outside of Nicole’s manor at that moment. When she saw Nicole walking out with light makeup, she was surprised. “Goodness me, you’re gorgeous when you dress up!”

She had always found Nicole beautiful, but now that she had makeup on, she was breath-taking.

“Thank you,” Nicole replied with a look of embarrassment.

She hardly ever wore makeup and would only put on some foundation when she attended banquets.

Back in the house, Gloria had put on some eyeliner and mascara when she was doing Nicole’s makeup. There was a lot of it, but Nicole did not even have the time to look at herself before going downstairs.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1672—“Come on, get in the car.” Anna opened the door for Nicole.

Gloria was over the moon when she saw her daughter getting into the car. "Hurry in, dear. Send a picture to me when you're there."

"Got it." Nicole took a deep breath.

She knew that Gloria wanted to see the production crew, and so, she did not decline the request.

Anna got into the car and their chauffeur began making his way toward their destination.

Anna asked Nicole, "We have an opening ceremony in the morning, but since you're only free on the weekends, you'll have to go for a trial shoot for some scenes today. I've sent you the script yesterday. Did you memorize your lines?"

Nicole looked at her coldly. "I've done it a long time ago."

Anna was surprised. "You've already memorized it before I've even told you which scene we're filming?"

'We have to shoot three scenes today, and I've just told Nicole about it yesterday...'
Anna thought.

Nicole responded flatly by saying, "Yeah, I memorized half of the script when I was bored, and these three scenes happen to be in the first half of the script."

"Huh?!" Anna began to ponder. 'What the heck? What kind of photographic memory is this? How did she even memorize half of the script in such a short amount of time?!

Anna was shocked, but Nicole would not entertain her anymore and continued reading the script.

Anna was confused when she watched Nicole turning the pages of the script. 'Isn't she going too fast? Even a professional actor wouldn't have memorizing skills that are as good as hers.'

Anna then gulped and calmed herself down. 'Perhaps she can only remember parts of it and not the exact lines...'

Soon, their car arrived at the filming location outside of the town.

This particular venue in San Joto was the biggest local filming set in the city. 80% of the local films were shot in this very venue, and there were many celebrities there.

There was also countless staff who were present in that area.

Anna received a call as soon as she got down from the car.” Nicole, head inside and look for the staff in Lot 3. They’re all from our team.”

Nicole nodded and walked toward Lot 3.

Soon, she entered Lot 3 and saw how spacious the filming set was.

She was shocked as she thought, ‘So this is what a filming set looks like. Feels kind of surreal looking at that many filming sets next to each other.’

A staff who had seen Nicole immediately ran toward her.” Hey! Who are you to barge in like that? Please leave if you’re an outsider. We’re going to start filming soon!”

Nicole looked at the nametag on the staff, which had ” Lukewarm” written on it.

She nodded lightly. “I’m one of the actresses in this film.”

The security was in disbelief as he looked at Nicole from head to her toe.

Today was the opening ceremony, and therefore, only those playing the main characters would show up.

The security detail looked at Nicole and thought, ‘Well, she doesn’t look like those smug celebrities. She looks like she’s from a rich family who just wants to see what’s going on.’

Then, in a low voice, he immediately said, “Who are you fooling? Don’t go around thinking you’re a star just because you look pretty! How old are you even? You look like you’re just in high school. Please leave. You’re just a rich kid trying to act like a celebrity to get autographs from our A-Lists celebrities. I won’t be fooled by you!”

Nicole did not think that the security would doubt her, so she scoffed. “I’m Nicole Riddle. If you don’t believe me, you can ask someone else.”

“Nicole Riddle?” The security was stunned. “Everyone in the country knows our female lead’s name. Do you think you can imitate her just like that?!”

Nicole sneered when she realized that the security was just an ignorant idiot. “Suit yourself. You won’t believe anything that I have to say anyway.”

After all, Anna was going to be here soon, so Nicole was not in a rush. ‘I’ll just wait for a minute or two.’
