MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1673—Suddenly, noises were heard from behind. “Mr. Lloyd is here!

After hearing that, the security guard immediately lifted his head and gazed off at the direction from which Lloyd was coming. “Did you see that? Mr. Lloyd is here. Move out of the way now!”

However, by the time he had spoken, Lloyd had already made his way there, surrounded by the team.

He removed his sunglasses upon spotting Nicole, who was standing beside the security guard. “Nicole, I was not expecting you to be here before me.”

The security suddenly felt like something bad was going to happen when he saw how Lloyd stopped just to talk with Nicole.

As expected, after noticing where Nicole was standing, Lloyd curiously asked, “Why didn’t you go inside? What are you doing at the entrance?”

Nicole swept her gaze across the security guard. “This security guard here takes his job very seriously. He stopped me from entering because I don’t look like an actress to him.

Lloyd’s face immediately darkened as he eyed the security guard with a murderous glare.

It was then that the security guard realized that he had messed up!

With that in mind, he immediately apologized to Nicole and Lloyd. “I’m so sorry! Please forgive my ignorance! This way, please!”

Nicole shook her head and strutted into the set.

The security was drenched in sweat as he watched Nicole walk inside. He thought that Lloyd would follow behind her and that everything would be over.

However, as soon as Lloyd walked past, he declared, “You’re fired.”

“What? No, please! I-I didn’t mean to do that,” the guard pleaded in an attempt to explain himself.

However, the people who were in close proximity were already dragging him away.

Lloyd quickly caught up to Nicole. "I'm sorry."

Lloyd smirked. "The Holder family owns this production crew, so I had to apologize on the behalf of my family."

Nicole sighed in defeat. "Whatever. Where's my dressing room?"

"Gwendolyn, bring Nicole there," Lloyd ordered one of his assistants.

"Sure." Gwendolyn stepped forward and politely led Nicole to her dressing room.

"This way. It's right around this corner," Gwendolyn said and led the way when she saw the dressing room in front of her.

Unfortunately, she bumped into someone upon rounding the corner.

"Ouch! Are you blind?! Watch where you're going!" Nicole heard a very familiar voice.

Her gaze darkened as she walked forward and saw someone that she hated.

Realizing that the person was Chloe, Gwendolyn immediately bowed her head and apologized, "I'm so sorry! I didn't see you there because I was moving too fast!"

Chloe was about to give the poor assistant a verbal lashing, but when she lifted her head, she saw Nicole.

'What a small world. I just came over and here she is,' Chloe thought.

She shifted her gaze back to Gwendolyn, and thinking that she was Nicole's manager, she lashed out at her, "Is apologizing going to solve anything? You're so unprofessional and you don't even deserve to be here!"

An inexperienced actress with an inexperienced manager! I'm going to teach them a lesson!' Chloe fumed.

Gwendolyn was stunned. 'What did she mean by that? Does she want to fire me?'

Even though Chloe was once the best actress, she was not as famous as she used to be anymore. A lot of directors had ditched her. She had only returned to Hustuaburg after having worked abroad for more than a month. Rumor had it that she only got a supporting role in this show because she paid a lot of money.

It was just shocking for one to see how she was behaving like a diva wanting to fire somebody who was working there.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1674—Gwendolyn suddenly gave her an awkward look.

Nicole, who had noticed that, said, “Gwendolyn, did you hear that? That superstar is about to fire you. Are you going to tell your boss, Mr. Lloyd about it?”

Upon hearing that, Chloe became embarrassed. “Do you work for Lloyd Holder?”

The Holder family was the biggest investor in this show, and its director was none other than Nachele Holder.

Chloe had spent so much effort and money just to get herself a supporting role in this show. The last thing she expected was to meet Lloyd’s assistant right after coming into the set. As everyone in the production crew worked for Lloyd, she was in no position to make things difficult for Lloyd’s assistant.

The grimace on Chloe’s face had turned really ugly, as if she had just made the biggest mistake in her life.

Nicole stood at the side, waiting to see that which would soon unfold.

However, Gwendolyn just nodded humbly. “Yes. I was leading the way for Miss Riddle. I’m so sorry for getting in your way.”

With an exit in sight, Chloe immediately seized the opportunity to escape the situation. “It’s fine. I thought you were just a reckless manager who had shown up with some amateurs. It’s just a misunderstanding, as you really do work for Mr. Holder...”

Gwendolyn flashed Chloe an awkward smile, but she did not know what else to say other than, “Miss Riddle, let’s go.”

Chloe thought that Gwendolyn was talking to her, so she quickly nodded.

However, she only started to realize that Gwendolyn was looking at Nicole when she was about to start walking...

Previously, there was only one Miss Riddle in the set, and it was Chloe Riddle. But now, there were two of them. To add salt to the wound, Nicole was getting better treatment from the crew than her. This made her furious.

She would not have lost her fame if the news of the Riddle family disowning her had not gotten out, which caused the directors to lose interest in her.

I'm still one of the best actresses even if I'm not famous anymore! Nicole has achieved nothing!' she seethed.

Chloe took a step forward and stood in Nicole's way as she thought about that.

Then, as if nothing had happened, she said, "Oops, I'm sorry. I thought she was talking to me. I almost forgot that we share the same last name."

It was only then that Gwendolyn realized that both Chloe and Nicole were Riddles, prompting her to apologize. 'I'm so sorry. Miss Nicole, please forgive me..."

Before Nicole could utter a word, Chloe looked at Gwendolyn and said, "It's fine. Nicole and I are cousins. You can just address her as Miss Riddle and me as the best actress from now on."

"I..." Gwendolyn stared at Chloe awkwardly. "Okay then..."

However, she was very surprised that Nicole and Chloe were cousins. Then, she managed to figure out why they shared the same last name and had become a part of the show together.

Nicole knew that Chloe was trying to buddy up to her, so she swept her cold gaze across the latter. "Are you done?"

Chloe's heart skipped a beat after Nicole had uttered those words.

Then, she frowned and said, "Yeah."

"Step aside then. A good dog would never get in somebody else's way. Have you heard about that?" Nicole insulted her without holding back at all.

Gwendolyn was shocked. She initially thought that they had a good relationship with each other, but she was proven completely wrong.

Chloe's face turned sour as she became furious at an instant. "Who are you calling a dog?"

"Nicole Riddle!" Chloe exploded with anger.

She raised her arm and was about to slap Nicole when the latter grabbed her arm and violently flung it away from her.

"Ah!" Chloe staggered out of Nicole's way.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1675—Nicole ignored her and retorted, “The next time you get in my way, I won’t let you get away this easily.”

Then, she strode off into her green room.

“Stop!” Chloe yelled, still wanting to pester Nicole.

Gwendolyn quickly followed after Nicole to escape the place, whereupon she closed the door to the green room behind her.

Chloe’s manager immediately advised her, “It’s fine, Miss Chloe. Mr. Lloyd had personally invited this female lead himself. It’s best not to provoke her.”

Nicole could not help herself from rolling her eyes. Ever since the day Chloe flew abroad, a new manager had been assigned to her. This manager, in particular, did not know anything about her family. She knew nothing about Nicole and Chloe’s feud either. Her only concern at that instant was to prevent Chloe from causing a scene.

“Am I the one who provoked her? Didn’t you hear what she had just said?!” Chloe shouted.

Chloe was so angered that she did not even want to continue the conversation. She stormed into her own green room, and after she had entered, she threw her handbag away in a fit of rage. “Nicole Riddle! You better watch out. I’ll see to it that you leave the production on your own volition and give up on the role of female lead!”

The manager was so scared that she swallowed. “Miss Chloe? Did you put in much of your effort to join the production just so that you could land the role of female lead?”

After putting a great deal of effort into it, being able to get the second supporting female role was already an achievement on its own.

“Of course. That role was supposed to be mine…” Chloe answered.

Although Nachele had rejected her for that role earlier on, Chloe still believed that Nachele would never have been able to find anyone suitable enough for the role if Lloyd had not brought Nicole in. If that were the case, Nachele would then ask Chloe to take on that particular role in Lukewarm again.

After all, when they were abroad, the team had already begun filming. If it were not Luke who had caused a mess with Nicole, and the diamond incident that had prompted Nachele to find her disappointing, Chloe would not have been chased out of the production.

However, Nachele never made do with whatever was available. That was why the female lead position had been empty up until this point. It was only after Nicole had won Lloyd's heart that the female lead role was given to her, and even if Chloe had tried her absolute best, Nachele only assign her a supporting role.

Once Chloe remembered that Nicole was the one who had catalyzed two of her past failures, she gritted her teeth out of rage.

The manager silently gulped when she saw Chloe's expression.

Deep down, she thought, 'Isn't it good enough for us to just hit our current role out of the park? No, please do not act up...'

Nicole was getting her makeup done in the green room.

Once the launching ceremony was done, they would begin shooting.

She was replying to a few questions enthusiastically when all of a sudden, Jared sent her a text.

[How are you holding up? Is everything going smoothly?]

When Nicole saw Jared's profile picture, the corner of her lips rose. [Don't worry. Everything's fine.]

[That's great. I'll visit you if I'm free later in the afternoon.]

Although Nicole was not sure if visitors were allowed, she was sure that Jared would be able to find out about it before turning up.

Therefore, she immediately agreed. "Sure."

Gwendolyn flashed her a smirk. "In that case, you better not reveal it. If your fans find out, it'll affect your popularity in the future."

Nicole pondered before saying, "I don't really care."

"Huh? Why is that so?" Gwendolyn and the makeup artist were stunned. "Aren't you planning to make a debut in this series?"

Hearing this, Gwendolyn and the makeup artist were appalled. They never expected Nicole to only be doing a Lloyd a favor with this role which everyone had been fighting to get.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1676—When Nicole saw that reaction from the two women, she asked, “Is there anything wrong?” “N-no...” Gwendolyn immediately shook her head. “I just thought that it’s such a waste. You look so pretty. You’ll definitely have a lot of fans once you have made your debut. You’ll definitely be successful if you remain in the entertainment industry.”

Nicole had offended many people in the past. The more famous she became, the more danger she would be putting her family in.

Although she was not worried, she did not wish to invite more trouble for Jared and the Riddles.

Gwendolyn and the makeup artist were in even greater shock when they heard that there were people who did not wish to be famous.

Just like that, the entire room was filled with silence.

Soon after, Nicole was done with her makeup, and so, she followed Gwendolyn back to the launching ceremony.

At that point, almost all members of the cast had arrived, with Nicole being one of the last to arrive. Hearing that the female lead had arrived, everyone raised their heads, wanting to get a good look of the woman who had gone viral with Lloyd on the internet.

However, they were all attracted to Nicole as soon as they took a glance.

The set, costume and makeup were remarkably simple, but the makeup and the charisma truly matched her, the very regal charisma that complimented her beauty.

“She really is the perfect pick for this role.” Nachele stepped forward and looked at Nicole with her eyes widened.

Previously, she had already thought that Nicole looked pretty, and that she exhibited traits which she wanted in the character.

However, she did not expect her to be so flexible. After putting some makeup on, Nicole looked as if she was born out of a script.

Once those words were spoken, everyone echoed it. "Yes, Nachele really has a good eye."

Nachele seemed proud of himself, thinking that her son had inherited the ability to pick well from her.

Whether she was going to be an actress or her daughter-in-law, Nachele felt that Nicole was very pleasing to the eye.

Noticing that Nicole was grabbing so much attention, Chloe was on the verge of exploding. 'These people are such sycophants. They also said the same thing about me!'

Now, all of those words were now uttered to Nicole, and it was just because Lloyd had recommended Nicole.

Chloe was intent on not listening to the hogwash they were spewing

At that moment, Nachele pulled Nicole to her side to prepare for the launching ceremony, and though Chloe had already taken the center position, Nachele pushed her to the side, sandwiching Nicole between Nachele and Lloyd in the process. Chloe was so angry at that sight that her face close to being ossified.

Ka-chick.

Nachele received the scissors and cut the ribbon asunder while facing the audience. This entire scene was captured by the cameras all over.

Since the cameras were focusing on Nachele, they would have to place their shots in Nicole's direction. Meanwhile, Chloe was annoyed that she could not squeeze into the frame. She was extremely furious.

After the ribbon cutting ceremony had ended, the launching ceremony was officiated. Nachele engaged the crew in some pep talk, whereupon the team began their production.

Chloe only had one scene. But, once she had heard that Nicole had three to four scenes, she immediately understood what it meant.

"Was this shooting schedule arranged to accommodate Nicole?”

The assistant immediately felt embarrassed. She could only reply with, “I heard that...she is only available during the weekends. So, the weekends are reserved for the shooting of her scenes.”

Once Chloe heard that, she became purple with rage. “What right does she have? Even if she is the female lead, I’m still the best actress! It’s one thing for me to play a supporting role! Now, the shooting schedule has to be arranged according to her schedule? This is too much!”

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1677—They were both daughters of the Riddle family. Because of that, she could not understand why the Holder family would treat Chloe as such.

“Calm down, Miss Chloe. It wasn’t easy for you to join the production this time around. You better not get your panties in a twist over such a petty matter...” The assistant reminded her out of concern.

After all, they had been kicked out before. Being able to get the second supporting role was not easy, so they better not be making any demands.

‘Right, I’ve already faced the consequences once before. It happened because I could not keep my cool and lost it,’ she thought.

After that incident, Chloe definitely had to remain calm.

After placing the timetable down, Chloe calmed down significantly. “Forget it, let’s just make do with this for now. You can go and make the arrangements.”

The waiting time might have been long, but it was fine. Even if Chloe had only one scene that day, she must outperform Nicole.

And at that moment, Nicole was already ready for the shoot outside of the green room, and her very first scene was with Lloyd.

Lloyd had been waiting for this moment for a long time. Being able to act alongside Nicole was something which he had never dared to dream of.

“Are you ready, Nicole?” Lloyd looked at Nicole gently, worried that she was not prepared.

On the other hand, Lloyd was very awkward. He did not know how to convey to Nicole that acting was not just about memorizing her lines.

Nachelle received Lloyd’s response and immediately ordered the cameras to begin rolling.

Although Nachelle was excited to see Nicole’s performance, she was still level headed about it. It was Nicole’s first time acting, so she should not be expected to act perfectly.

Surprisingly, once Nicole spoke, her speech was articulated with perfect clarity and tone. Furthermore, her gaze quickly matched her character.

“Anson, I did not expect you to be such a person,” Nicole delivered, her eyes filled with despair from betrayal.

Although her face was cold, it was heart-breaking to watch.

Her acting was not as great as those of experienced professionals, but it was still believable. Those expressions were her most genuine performance.

“Nachelle...this acting technique...” The assistant director was so stunned that he was at a loss for words.

At that moment, Nicole was already very much into the character.

As the best cast members could motivate the others, Lloyd got into the character too and replied, “What’s wrong with that? You should have known it from the start. There’s no one in my heart, not even you.”

Lloyd’s face was icy and he performed well as the prodigal son he was.

Nicole stared at Lloyd and bit her lips. Then, she uttered her lines again. Every word, and every sentence were all uttered clearly with the appropriate intonations that everyone present could not help but admire her skills.

Initially, the scene was one that required the development of emotions. But to Nicole, it was so easy that she could immediately complete all of it in a single take. On top of that, that particular take was approved by the directors.

When Nicole resolutely turned around and walked off, Nachele shouted with satisfaction, "Cut!"

However, in an instant, the look of despair that belonged to the character had disappeared from Nicole's eyes. It had turned blank.

It seemed to everyone that she did not even have to shake herself out of the character, and proceeded to walk out of the frame calmly.

Lloyd walked over with a look of surprise on his face." Nicole! Your performance was superb!"

He thought that after the test shot, he would have to explain the movie to her. However, he did not expect Nicole to pass during the very first shot itself.

Nicole glanced over coldly. "What's so hard about that? Have we not gotten enough practice back in the day?"

Indeed, back in the day, their lives would be in danger if they failed in putting up an act. Thus, Nicole was well-trained in such a craft. It was nothing to be surprised of.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1678—Lloyd was stunned. When Lloyd attempted to advise Nicole all those years ago, those were the exact same words which he had uttered.

"That's true. After all, we're long-time partners," he said as he thought about how the movies they had acted in previously were a lot more complex than this.

"Don't worry, I've watched quite a number of soap operas as of recent, but I've taken care to remove those exaggerations. It should look a lot more natural." Nicole replied seriously.

Lloyd did not expect Nicole to put in the effort to study the techniques. That was the reason as to why she could handle it well.

"It was definitely natural."

Nicole's acting was extremely natural. Who knows, perhaps once the series had been aired, her techniques would become a trend.

“We’re done with this scene, right? I’ll go and catch a break now.” She waved Lloyd goodbye and walked to her green room.

Her room was remarkably close to Nachele’s, and when they met, Nachele could not help but laugh. “Nicole, is this Nicole gave Nachele a polite smile in response. “Thank you for your compliment. That is part of my job.”

Since Nicole had agreed to help, she would put in the effort. Her acting was not the issue. The hardest part were the lines. However, Nicole had learned quite a few things in that period of time. She was just testing the waters with some of her skills. To her surprise, the outcome turned out really well. If she was given a bit more time, it would have been even better.

What Nicole did not know was that everyone else was shocked by her acting skills. At that point, they understood why Lloyd had brought someone new in for the role. As expected, skills were important.

Nachele looked at the time and said, “You can film really fast. Later on, I’ll ask them to add a few more scenes for you so that we can get more done today.”

“Alright.” Nicole nodded.

After all, getting more done would mean that they would be able to end the production earlier, something which she did not mind at all.

Chloe had been waiting until the sun had set, and yet, no one had come to call her.

The fact that an award-winning actress had been sidelined and abandoned by others did not bode well.

Unable to stand the wait any longer, she asked, “What happened? Isn’t Nicole supposed to have two scenes only?

Is she not done yet?”

‘Her acting skills must have been so bad that it dragged on up until this point,’ she thought.

Unexpectedly, the assistant replied, “I’ve just checked. I heard that Nicole’s acting was so good that most of the scenes were completed in just one take. So, the director at the last minute added a few more scenes for her.”

“What? They actually added scenes for Nicole. If that’s the case, I’ll have to continue sitting here and waiting?” she asked.

"Okay." The assistant made way and followed Chloe out of the room from behind.

As expected, when Chloe went out, Nicole was already filming a scene with Lloyd. Watching as Nicole touch Lloyd's face as the both of them leaned in close to each other, Chloe could not help but raise her brows.

Good things really did come knocking her door when she least expected it. Chloe was thinking of ways to mess around with Nicole, and a window of opportunity had just opened itself up for her.

At that thought, Chloe immediately took a picture of the moment when the both of them were faking a kiss. Then, she sent it anonymously to Jared...

"You're screwed. The show is just about to begin." Chloe smiled smugly and pocketed her phone.

At that moment, it just so happened that Nachele saw Chloe. Then, she was reminded that Chloe had been waiting and that her scene was yet to be shot. Coincidentally, the scene of Nicole was over within one take, prompting Nachele to call out for Chloe.

"Chloe, you came at the right time. The next scene will be between you and Nicole."

Upon hearing that, Chloe became excited, and Nachele went on to mind her.

At that moment, Nicole had just walked past her, and when they locked eyes, Chloe seized the opportunity to coldly say, "When we're filming our scenes later, you better learn something from me."

Nicole's eyes narrowed and she asked, "You're an awardwinning actress who is obsolete. Where did you find the confidence to teach me?"

Once those words exited Nicole's mouth, Chloe became so enraged that she did not know how to respond.

"Who says that I'm obsolete?"

Previously, she had only gone out to have fun. Her fans would not forget her that easily.

"I said it. Are you deaf?" Nicole mocked in a low voice.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1679—Chloe’s face turned pale in an instant. She really wanted to scream and strangle Nicole.

However, she could not do so. One thing to consider was that they would be filming a scene later.

With that in mind, Chloe said, “Just you wait. I’ll make you suffer later.”

The upcoming scene involved the supporting character slapping and scolding the female lead, and because of that, Chloe was given the means to teach Nicole a lesson.

Yet, Nicole did not seem to care.

Watching as Nicole left to get her makeup done, Chloe snorted. She believed that as long as she and Nicole were put together, Nachele would know who the better fit for the role of female lead was.

Finally, everything was ready, and Chloe and Nicole stood next to each other. After Nachele had ordered the cameras to roll, the both of them quickly got into character.

Initially, everyone thought that Nicole would seem less talented when put together with Chloe, no matter how good Nicole was. But this time around, Nicole got into character a few seconds quicker than Chloe did, causing a hint of approval to appear in Nachele’s eyes at once.

In a few seconds, Chloe switched and took on the hostile demeanor that was expected of her character. ‘Do you know how much Anson has sacrificed for you? He loves you so much, and what have you done for him?’

Nicole followed the script. Her eyes were filled with remorse as she stepped back slowly, showing an expression of denial.

Chloe delivered a huge chunk of her line, and just as she was about to perform the next action, Nachele suddenly shouted, “Cut!”

Then, she turned to Chloe and yelled, “Chloe, your emotions came in too slow in this scene. You better gather yourself for a while and enter that state of mind quickly in the next take. And here’s another issue. Your pronunciation for the second line was not accurate. Pay attention.”

Chloe was stunned.

She thought that if she acted with Nicole, the one who would cause an issue would be the latter. In spite of this, Chloe was still planning to gloat from the side.

To her surprise, however, Nachele did not say anything bad about Nicole. Instead, she criticized Chloe's performance.

By right, it was impossible for Chloe to do worse than a newbie, but judging by the reactions of those present, they were extremely dissatisfied with Chloe too.

Earlier on, Nicole had shot six to seven scenes in a row, and they were all completed in one single take. Yet, there were forced to cut once Chloe began her scene.

"Let's restart again." Nachele ordered without comment further and immediately restarted the entire shoot.

Chloe glared at Nicole. If Nachele had not stopped her, Chloe would have given Nicole a slap as written in the script.

This time around, she was determined not to make any mistakes.

However, the more nervous Chloe was, the more twisted her tongue became, culminating in her getting cut off again at the very last line.

"Chloe, what is wrong with you? What are you thinking about? Can you focus a little bit more?" Nachele yelled.

Nachele was far from happy with her performance, for the momentum had now been destroyed because of Chloe's choppy lines.

"I'm sorry, Nachele...I was too nervous just now." Chloe felt so guilty that she quickly admitted her mistakes.

Yet, she did not feel good losing to Nicole.

It was due to the fact that she wanted to slap Nicole so badly that she got distracted.

"Let's start from the top!" Nachele said grumpily.

Chloe immediately got into character. This time around, she did not rush into it. She read her lines accordingly and entered the character's state of mind.

But Nicole's eyes seemed so innocent that Chloe could not find fault in Nicole's acting.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1680

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1680—However, Nicole was just a high school student, and she had never acted before. How could she possess such excellent acting skills?

The jealousy in Chloe's heart caused her to raise her hands to slap Nicole after she was done saying her lines. And so, the hands headed straight toward Nicole's cheeks.

Nicole noticed the height of Chloe's hands and her eyes froze.

'This little b*tch wants to take this opportunity to give me a real slap?' she wondered.

With a loud smack, the air became still.

This left Chloe stunned, as well as everyone who was present, for it was not written in the script.

Unexpectedly, Nicole changed the lines and looked at Chloe with downcast eyes. "That is between me and him. What right do you have to interfere? Nina, please know your place! You have no right to tell me off!"

The powerful aura and the restrained sadness were perfectly depicted through her acting, so much so that everyone present was convinced about that story.

Nachelle was also stunned. Initially, she wanted the female lead to receive a slap as some sort of wake-up call. To her surprise, with Nicole's sudden flipping of the script, it somehow managed to add a layer of strength and arrogance to the female lead. Moreover, it also added one more conflict to the story.

The editor at the side also praised her in a daze." Wonderful...I think Lynette's character was lacking such uniqueness. Such arrogance is really attractive to the audience!"

At that moment, Chloe, who had just received a slap, came back to her senses.

She looked at Nicole in shock, "H-how dare you hit me?"

Chloe was supposed to be the one to hit Nicole in that scene and Nicole was only supposed to receive the beating. Yet, Nicole had changed the script and made a move on Chloe.

At that thought, Chloe laughed; Nachelle hated it the most when someone changed her script. As such, Nicole would most definitely receive a reprimand for having done so.

However, Nicole did not stop. Instead, she continued acting and responded to Chloe's question.

"So what if I hit you? Do you think I'm blind? I know all about the ways you've used to seduce Anson in the office. Don't forget, you're just his assistant. Even if I did not exist, a b* tch like you would never have the chance!"

In an instant, Nicole's charisma skyrocketed to the point that even Nachele could not help but feel fascinated. With Nicole's aura and personality, her acting chops became all the more enchanting. At that point, Nachele was sure that a female lead like this would definitely become popular.

Chloe did not expect Nicole to continue acting, and as she did not wish to cooperate, she spun around to look at the camera. "Nachele! Nicole changed the script without permission! What is this!?"

Nachele was perplexed. She wanted to watch the two of them proceed, but with Chloe suddenly asking her to stop the scene, she had no choice but to do so.

With her patience wearing thin, Nachele immediately shouted. "Cut! Chloe, what's the matter with you? Did I ask you to stop? Why did you turn back?"

Chloe's eyes widened at once. 'What the hell is this!? Nicole was clearly the one who flipped the script and slapped me in the face. And yet, I'm the one getting reprimanded?'

"Nachele, it wasn't me..." Chloe attempted to explain but Nachele was not having any of it.

"Do you know who the director is? I'm the only one who can shout cut or for the film to stop! You've disrupted all of Nicole's mojo!"

Chloe was completely dumbfounded.

Nicole had changed the script without permission, but Nachele did not only let Nicole off the hook. She had also blamed Chloe for stopping the shoot and for throwing Nicole completely off.

"I'm sorry Nachele. Miss Chloe was just shocked that the script has been changed suddenly...Sorry. Sorry." The manager immediately came over and apologized as she was worried that Chloe would spew venom out of anger.

Nachele stared at Chloe's manager angrily and yelled, "Let's start again!"

Then, Nachele walked toward Nicole and in a gentle tone, she said, “Nicole, what do you think? I think the improvised scene was excellent. Furthermore, it gave the female lead a distinctive character.”

Nicole laughed. “Did it? The idea came all of a sudden. It’s good that you liked it.”
