

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1761

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1761-Even though Nachelle was unhappy with Nicole the day before, she still could not resist and felt admiration for Nicole.

The way Nicole was strong and independent, it suited her very much.

At this, Nachelle walked forward and continued speaking to Miley.

“Nicole’s right.

After the police make their judgment, we’ll sue Chloe soon and ask for triple compensation.

Please pass on the message to her.” “N-NO!” Miley was immediately stunned.

“W-where’s Chloe going to get so much money?” The earnings Chloe was getting from this project was large.

Previously, when Miley had found out about the amount, she was elated.

Naturally, she knew how much triple compensation would amount to! Even if Miley were to take out all her personal savings, it would not be enough to save Chloe.

If Damien found out that Miley had met the production team and brought back such a huge problem, he would definitely scold her! Perhaps, he might lay his hands on her too.

“That’s your problem.

Guards, please get her out of here!” Nachelle had no patience left to deal with Miley.

“No! You can’t! You can’t do this to me!” Seeing that Nachelle called more guards to chase them out, Miley knew that the two bodyguards she brought along would not overpower them.

She was extremely upset.

Nachelle glanced at Miley.

“I can’t? Who are you to tell me what to and not to do?” Miley immediately lost all hope.

She always thought that even if she had lost her status from the Rogers family, she was still Damien Riddle’s wife.

Now that the Riddle family was gaining some fame and attention, outsiders would give way to her.

Unexpectedly, she was good for nothing in other people's eyes.

Nicole coldly watched as Miley was dragged out.

The expression on Nicole's face was extremely cold.

Miley really dug her own grave to have ended up like this.

At that moment, Nachele stood beside Nicole.

"You're really smart to have reminded me about the triple compensation.

That would've compensated for the loss we suffered these few days." Although Nicole was cold to her son, Nachele still admired her decisive character.

She liked it even more that Nicole could be this decisive when facing her own family members.

Nicole laughed lightly.

"You flatter me, Nachele.

After all, it was my family that caused you trouble.

It's only right for us to compensate you." Nachele smiled playfully.

"Alright.

Let's not waste any more time.

We'll begin shooting now." "Alright." Nicole knew that Nachele was not as annoyed with her anymore.

So, she tried her best to cooperate.

With Miley causing a scene just now, the production team seem to have come alive.

Nachele's attitude toward Nicole returned to being warm again.

Although Lloyd was still silent, he seemed to be in a better state than the day before.

In fact, the shoot which would initially take five hours to complete was settled in just three hours.

Most of it was completed in just one shot by the both of them.

After the shoot had finished, Lloyd did not say anything and left immediately.

Nicole let out a sigh of relief.

Just as she was about to leave, Nachele called out to her.

“Nicole, please wait for a while.”

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1762

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1762-Nicole looked back and looked at Nachele indifferently.

” Anything else, Nachele?” Nachele paused and called Nicole aside.

“You’re aware of Lloyd’s behavior today, right?” She had already tried her best to change his mind, but he just would not listen to her.

Now, the only person who could do that was Nicole.

Nicole arched her eyebrow.

“I think he’s acting the same.

He’s always been like that.” Back when they were on missions, Lloyd would return home and ignore her for a few days if she came off too strong and made Lloyd upset.

Nachele did not expect Nicole to find this normal when she thought it was something serious.

She could not help but look a little awkward.

“That was when he was younger.

Now that he’s back home, we’ve always treated him like our precious baby, so he’s rarely this upset.

Nicole smiled.

“That proves that you’re not close with him.” Nachele was stunned...

‘who on earth would tell a mother that she’s not close with her own son?! But she was at a loss for words when she looked into Nicole’s affirmative gaze.

And that was because...

Though she found Lloyd, she was not with him during the most crucial point of his life—his character developmental stage.

For that reason, Nicole might be right.

She was the one who was always by his side during those times.

Nicole lowered her voice nicely after noticing that Nachele was deep in her thoughts.

“Don’t worry, Nachele.

Though your son likes to split hairs, he’s capable of sorting it out himself.

Give it three days.

He’ll return to the usual Lloyd by then.

He just hasn’t got his thoughts sorted out yet.” Funnily, Nachele was slightly relieved after Nicole comforted her.

“For real?” she asked.

“Yeah.

If he still hasn’t returned to normal after three days, you can come to me.” Then, Nicole turned and left with confidence.

In a daze, Nachele wanted to call out to her, but she did not.

‘Nicole might be right.’ Nachele wanted to warn Nicole not to make her son sad anymore.

‘But why did she get the upper hand in the end?’ Nachele sighed and left.

She was skeptical.

Though she did not like the way Nicole treated her son, she admired Nicole’s character.

‘How frustrating.’ “Start the car.” Nachele ordered the driver to leave that place after she got into the car.

Meanwhile, Nicole had also left the crew.

Jared had already received her message and was waiting for her at the entrance.

She rarely finished early, so she immediately got into the car.

"Where are we going?" Jared looked at her happy expression.

"You're done early today.

Is that why you're so happy?" "Obviously.

I don't like feeling busy." She really did not like going for her shoot right after class.

It was really busy.

"Get it done as soon as possible if you don't like it." "Sure.

I did some planning.

The remaining scenes will probably be done in a month." Jared was shocked when he heard that.

It was impossible for a TV show to finish filming in 3 months unless the actors involved can finish every scene in one take.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1763

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1763-'How powerful is Nicole?' "But we still have to see who we're dealing with. Fortunately, the Holder family's crew is rich. Everyone's experienced, so their acting skills are okay." Nicole smiled. "But I might be stopping somebody from earning money by ending the filming soon, so I don't know if they'd cooperate with me."

Jared smiled coldly. "I'm one of the investors, so if there's a chance to speed up the process, I'll definitely try my best to do it." "Yes. You're my biggest investor." Nicole arched her eyebrow, looking extremely pleased.

At that moment, Max had already started driving to a seafood restaurant.

Nicole pouted when she saw the restaurant. "Actually, I'd prefer going to the new house." 'There's probably a lot of functions that I haven't discovered there.'

Jared could tell that she was curious, but he just smiled and said, "We still have to keep the new house mysterious."

Resigned, Nicole could only comply.

So, Jared walked into the fancy restaurant with her.

There was an elevator right at the entrance, and the pair got into the elevator to go to the lower-ground restaurant.

The next thing that they saw stunned them in awe. The whole restaurant was shaped like a globe as it had curved glass for walls. On the other side of the glass, there were actual sea animals! There were various kinds of fish, and it looked incredibly stunning. There was even a glowing jellyfish swimming in the middle! It was nothing but beautiful.

Nicole raised her eyebrows. "How did you find such a nice restaurant?"

Jared looked at her. "Do you like it?" "Of course."

He then smiled in delight. "It's yours if you like it."

Nicole was shocked when she finally realized what he meant.

"You own this restaurant?!" "No wonder I've never seen such a nice restaurant.' 'Come to think of it, if a nice place like this existed before, Jared would've taken me here a long time ago.' "Yeah, my mom created this design before she passed away, and I've started working on it ever since I got back here. Today is its first day of business."

Nicole was both excited and shocked.

This restaurant had such sentimental value to Jared, and he came with her on the opening day.

Around them were a few pairs of couples, and the whole place felt extremely cozy.

"It's too beautiful..." Nicole had been to many high-end places, but this was her first time being in such a heavenly place. "Was your mom a designer?" "Yeah." Jared nodded and pulled out the chair for Nicole like a gentleman.

Nicole sat down excitedly. The food that was served to them was different types of seafood, including abalone, sea cucumber, shark fin and more...

Nicole arched an eyebrow. "This feels... a little cruel."

Jared smiled. "Is it? It's all related to the sea. Dont you think it's nice?" "Well, you're not wrong..." Nicole thought that most people would agree with Jared.

But she was different.

Jared was already used to her uniqueness, so he did not mind. He then poured her a warm special beverage.

Nicole took a sip of it. 'It tastes woody.'

Jared swirled his drink as well. "This is a tea that is specially brewed to warm you up. It has a unique aromatic scent to it, but it's actually brewed with herbs."

Nicole arched her brows as she was familiar with herbs. 'Turning herbs into drinks... What an interesting idea.' "Not bad. I like it very much." She really enjoyed artistic places like this.

Nicole spoke as she ate. "This is a huge restaurant. It must've cost a lot, right? It's not easy to get this location too." "Yeah." Jared smiled. "200 million dollars."

Nicole was in awe. 'The rich sure are powerful. No one else would spend 200 million dollars just to open a restaurant.' "The seats are fully booked until half a year later. The customers today are normal people who won a lucky draw, so you don't have to worry about them recognizing us."

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1764

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1764-That was why he was not afraid to let Nicole dine in today.

A place like this needed more people to feel cozy. He was worried that she might feel a sense of emptiness if there were not many people present in the location.

"What a relief." Nicole smiled and continued eating.

Jared then began a conversation about matters which were more serious in nature while he was drinking. "The police have taken care of Chloe, and her manager's identification has been taken. Chloe will be sued for intentional assault on two occasions tomorrow."

Nicole arched her brows. "Including this time?" "Yeah. Nachele has the footage, and she has sent it to me already." Jared nodded with a serious look on his face.

Nicole did not think that Nachele would send it to Jared, but then again, since Jared was one of the investors, he had every right to know.

Due to that, Nicole did not have to think about it any further. 'Chloe should take responsibility for her actions. She should accept the legal repercussions of her actions, no matter how heavy they are.' "I'm guessing she's hopeless now." Nicole lifted her brows, her eyes void of all emotions.

Indeed, Chloe deserved it.

"She will have to pay an expensive fine and go to prison on top of suffering a grievous injury. The entertainment industry wouldn't want someone with that sort of dirt attached to their name, like ever."

As such, Chloe was completely done for.

“I think Damien’s family detests me now.” Nicole looked at Jared as she said, though there was no fear in her tone at all.

In response, Jared smiled and scoffed. “He got himself into this situation, so he definitely deserved it.”

The dumbest thing Chloe had ever done was pick a fight with Nicole.

Otherwise, a top-tier star like her would not have been caught in a situation like that.

“Yeah, they’re shmucks.” Nicole’s gaze darkened as her expression grew smug.

She had been tolerating for long enough, and this was her breaking point. In fact, she was probably too kind to them, which in turn made them think that she was soft and vulnerable.

“Speaking of Damien, Everett is his eldest son, right?” Jared’s gaze darkened.

Nicole frowned. “Why did you bring him up out of nowhere?”

Everett was a creepy figure and had always kept to himself, but when he said what he had said weeks ago in defense of Damien, Nicole knew that he was neither a simpleton nor a pushover.

Jared’s grew even darker. “The fingerprint that you’ve gotten from the race car belonged to his men.”

Nicole did not expect Max to give Jared the investigation results first. She looked at Max, who was standing in a corner, and that was when he shrank in awkwardness. After all, Jared was his boss, so it was natural for him to give Jared his updates once he had discovered something.

Nicole took a deep breath. She had planned to take care of this when Max told her the culprit.

‘But whatever. I have to tell Jared sooner or later anyway, so it’s fine.’

Still she was curious. “I don’t know Everett very well, and he... actually did this to my race car?”

They did not really have cause to get into scuffles with each other. Nicole could understand if Chloe had done it, but why would Everett do it?

“He’s fine when he doesn’t do anything, but when he does, he’s lethal. You should be careful of people like him.”

Nicole frowned. “Did you call the cops?”

Jared’s gaze darkened. “Yeah, but his lackey cooperated and turned himself in within an hour before I could even report to the police. Even if he gets sued, his sentence will most probably be lightened as well. Besides, he has a lawyer, and is dead set on not meeting anyone.”

Even if Jared wanted to force him to expose the main culprit, he could not do so.

After all, the law existed, and even if Jared wanted the police to enforce it, he needed sufficient evidence.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1765

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1765-“He has already admitted to the crime and has taken the blame.” Jared’s gaze became murderous. “The person who had hired him sure had everything thought out.”

It was then that Nicole thought about Everett’s nonchalant gaze.

She had never paid much attention to Everett as his parents did not seem like they cared much about their son as well.

“Maybe he’s doing it for his family.” Nicole scoffed.

After all, she had really done a number on Damien, and Chloe was suffering from severe paraplegia.

Jared shook his head sternly. “No. Damien being separated from the family and Chloe being paralyzed happened recently. But Everett had already begun targeting you before Chloe was even admitted into the hospital...”

A sudden realization then dawned upon Nicole as her pupils contracted.” So, what you’re saying is that... he has other motives?” “Of course. If that is not the case, why would he immediately want you dead?” he asked.

Nicole quickly recalled what Damien had said. “I think Damien wants to find the other crests.”

Jared immediately understood the entire situation after Nicole reminded him of it. “Only five Reby Family crests exist, but only one was found hundreds of years later. Where would he find them? Unless...”

Nicole's eyes widened as she said through gritted teeth, "They kill me."

The Raven had this in mind, and Nicole's family wanted to kill her because of the crest as well. To add to that, Damien's son was actually willing to kill someone just so that his father could get the crest.

"Your relatives... are all snakes." Jared sneered.

The people in the Riddle family were all much more wicked than anyone else around them.

Mr. Riddle Sr.'s generation was great, but things began to go south in Damien's generation. This was not because they were incompetent, but it was because they all had ill intentions, so much so that they would even set their family up.

"Yeah. I didn't expect the person who rarely spoke to me to be the most dangerous one of the lot." Nicole squinted and her eyes turned ice cold the instant she thought of Everett. "Well, I want to see what he's going to do to me!"

Even The Raven failed to kill her, so what chance did Everett have? He was nothing.

"What's your plan?" Jared became curious when he saw Nicole's fighting spirit.

"I hold grudges. Let's just say that I'll give him a taste of his own medicine," Nicole said casually as if she was just talking about the weather.

"Same here. I've already sent my men over." Jared looked at Nicole and smiled. "That's my woman. We're so similar and compatible with one another."

Nicole did not expect Jared to think that way as well, and so, the plan of action had been decided upon.

She swirled her drink and looked at Jared flirtatiously. "I'm glad that you're my man too. We're always on the same wavelength."

Jared instantly chuckled when he saw her enchanting gaze. "Haha! We're a match made in heaven, indeed!"

Hearing that, Nicole broke out laughing too. "The perfect couple." "Cheers to us!" Jared raised his glass with a smile, and Nicole struck her glass against his.

Then, they both downed their glasses of wine happily.

On the other hand, Everett was sitting in the backseat of the car after work, listening to his assistant's updates.

“Everett, Cam is most likely going to stay in prison. Mr. Fox can only help lighten his sentence, but Cam said that he won’t drag you into it. I took care of his family today, so there’s nothing for you to worry about.”

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1766

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1766-Everett opened his eyes in exhaustion. In the dark, they were cold and emotionless. “Okay.”

Dick looked at Everett’s eyes from the rear-view mirror, searching for any emotions Everett had for Cam, who was Everett’s close friend for 7 years. However, there was nothing in Everett’s eyes. The way it looked, he did not miss Cam at all. It was as if the man who had shouldered all the blame for him was nothing but an acquaintance to him.

Dick issued a mental sigh at that thought. He initially thought that Everett would still be kind to his friends, even though he was a cold, calculating person. But now, Dick felt like he had never known Everett as a person.

Everett rolled the window down, feeling more energetic now. “I didn’t expect that Jared would be able to trace me. Interesting.”

Everett did not feel like he had failed. Instead, he began smirking in intrigue.

“Jared sure is something,” he said.

It seemed like he could not hide anymore.

Dick said, “Everett, you’ve been holding back for so long. I’m worried that you won’t be able to hide after going against Jared.”

Everett smiled. “There’s no need for that anymore. No one in my family can hold me back anymore.”

Back then, Damien was still useful to him, and that was why he still respected and committed to favors for him. However, Damien had no place in the family anymore, and thus, the only person Everett was left to fight for was himself.

“That’s good. I don’t want to see you suffering anymore, either.” Dick tightened his grip on the steering wheel.

He had waited for this day for too long.

It was then that Everett smiled. “I don’t have to suffer, but our enemies are Jared and Nicole. It’s not easy to go up against those two.” “I know. But we’re not Jared’s only enemy...” Dick said mockingly as he handed Everett a file.

"I heard Harvey tweaked the contract between them, and Jared is not on good terms with him... Maybe this is our chance." "Oh? Seems like we have an accomplice." Everett chuckled and opened the file.

His smile turned brighter after looking at Harvey's picture.

"I'm very impressed with this guy," he said, as Harvey was similar to him in some respects.

Though many were not able to see through Harvey's facade, like-minded people like Everett could see through everything...

"Perhaps we can work together," Dick suggested.

Everett then wore a domineering look. "We can consider that. Look into Harvey's history for me. Find something nasty that's useful for me."

Dick immediately knew what he meant, after which he said, "Got it."

Everett always knew how to work with someone, and that was to have a stranglehold on their dirty laundry. That way, the other party would not object. Then, Everett browsed through Harvey's information which was obviously tweaked by himself, so it had no issues in it.

Soon after, their car arrived at Damien's house.

"We're here, Everett." Dick halted the car.

"Okay." Everett nodded and waited for Dick to open the door for him before getting down.

Dick then slammed the door shut once Everett had gotten down.

But from that slam, Dick noticed that his car had a weird ringing sound emanating from within.

"Watch out!!!" He immediately lunged forward and held Everett down.

Boom!!!

A surge of flames burst forth, and with it, a loud bang whereupon the temperatures rose abruptly.

Dick's back was hurting badly, but he did not let Everett go. The side of Everett's face could feel the burning heat as well, but before he could react, he was already flying across the street with Dick holding onto him. And with a bang, his back slammed onto the ground with great impact. Due to the loud explosion, he could not hear anything either. He felt dizzy, and all he could see were flames dancing about.

Damien's family immediately rushed out after hearing such a loud commotion, but all they could see was Everett being held down by his assistant.

"Everett! What happened?!" Damien rushed over with the butler.

The butler quickly moved Dick away after seeing that he was laying atop Everett.

"Mr. Cruz?" Dick had already passed out, and the back of his shirt was scorched, so much so that his flesh could be seen.

Damien helped Everett up and allowed him to lean on him. "Everett! Are you okay?!"

Damien had never cared about Everett this much before, and therefore, Everett felt warm in his embrace.

He attempted to get a hold of himself while battling to stifle the swirling images in his head. "Dad... I'm fine..."

He was still alive, but his ears were ringing, his vision was unstable, and he was nauseous.

"Mr. Damien, Mr. Everett's face has been wounded. Send him to the hospital!" The butler quickly told Damien upon noticing Damien's face.

"Call an ambulance!" Damien yelled at the staff, who quickly phoned the hospital.

Miley was taking care of Chloe in the hospital, and Damien was the only one at home, so he got into the ambulance with Everett.

After ten minutes or so, Everett was finally sent to the hospital for immediate medical attention. Damien could finally feel relieved.

The doctor then inspected him and said, "He has a minor concussion.

Mostly minor injuries, but his face has been severely burned."

Then, the doctor quickly treated him, which left him grinding his teeth in pain.

In the midst of it all, his heart was filled with hatred. 'F*ck... My face!'

He would definitely not let the person who injured him off the hook.

When the doctor was done treating Everett's wounds, Damien asked, "Everett, what happened? Why would your car explode?"

Everett looked at Damien and feigned innocence. "I think... It's Jared Johnston."
"Jared?" Damien frowned. "What do you mean? Are you saying that he did something to your car? Why?" "Everett and Jared did not have beef with one other, so why would Jared do this to him?"

Seeing this, Everett continued his act. "I wanted to get the fire crest for you... So, I did something to Nicole's car... This is probably Jared's way of exacting revenge." "What?!" Damien was shocked. "You did something to Nicole? When was this? Why don't I know about this?"

Everett maintained his look of innocence. "I didn't want to drag you down, so I did it myself. Getting caught was not something I had seen coming."

Damien's gaze immediately turned cold. "Still, he can't do this to you!"

Nicole just paralyzed my daughter, and Jared wants to kill my son now?!"

Even if he wanted to maintain his tolerance and come up with a better plan, his daughter was paralyzed and his son had almost died. With that in mind, Damien was not able to hold his anger back anymore.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1767

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1767-"I've taken care of the police. I thought I could wash my hands after my friend had taken the blame for me, but I didn't think stop to think that Jared was this brave..."

Damien's gaze turned dark. "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth! He definitely left traces!"

Everett felt warm when he saw his father defending him, but he knew that Jared was way more ruthless than he was.

"My car is a wreck, so how can we find traces? Dad, don't waste your time," he said.

He did not want his father to waste his time, but Damien was through the roof when he heard that.

"Son of a b*tch!n He kicked a trash can to blow some steam off.

Everett then picked himself up a little. "Don't worry, dad. I will get the fire crest for you... Since we're openly against each other now, I'm no longer afraid of anyone!"

Seeing how persistent his son was in getting the fire crest, Damien was touched to know that his son had taken his words seriously. However, he could not help but sigh when he thought of the person they were dealing with.

“Stay out of this. Look at Chloe now. I don’t want the same to happen to you. I’ll take care of this!” Damien clenched his fists and walked out.

Everett knew that Damien was just strong and tough on the outside.

However, he remained silent anyways. He had his own plans, and he did not need to tell his father.

Under his father’s arrangement, Everett felt his father’s concern and stayed in the hospital to recover from his injuries.

Even as Damien left the hospital, he was filled with rage. ‘This is all because of Daniel’s daughter!’

His son had almost died, and his daughter was paralyzed. Because of this, he could not just sit and wait.

As Mr. Riddle Sr. would not help him, he was not dead set on destroying the entire Riddle family!

He then got into the car without turning back.

Everett watched as his father got into the car from his hospital room’s window.

He then called Dick’s number.

“Hello, Everett? Are you okay?” Dick sounded weak, but from the tone of his voice, he was still concerned about Everett.

“I’m fine, and it’s because you’ve protected me.”

Indeed, if Dick had not reacted quickly enough, Everett would have suffered even graver injuries.

“How are you?” Everett asked.

And though he sounded like he was very worried, there was absolutely no warmth in his eyes.

Dick was surprised, for Everett was more concerned about him in comparison to Cam.

"I'm fine... My back is badly burned though..." he said, as he could only sleep on his stomach now.

"Take your time to recover. The medical bill and your wages will be taken care of. Just get some rest for now."

He needed time for his face to recover as well, and it did not look like he would be able to go out in the open for the time being.

'Jared... He's fine when he doesn't do anything, but when he does, he's brutal,' Everett surmised.

Still, they were cut from the same cloth. Everett had been cruel to Nicole too. It was just that he had underestimated Jared's love for his fiancée...

"Got it. Thank you, Everett." Dick thanked him.

Everett then nodded and hung up.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1768

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1768-He was facing the window, but his eyes were fixated on his own reflection...

His charming face now had a bandage over it, and he looked utterly disheveled.

"Just wait and see. I will return these wounds to you." 'Just you wait, Jared Johnston.'

And thus, it was now a battle between Jared, the bold lion, and Everett, the cunning fox.

Everything had come to light, and so, Nicole had been living happily for the past few days.

She did not have any problems with her schoolwork and would show up to film after classes. The recent scenes Nicole had shot rarely involved Lloyd, and so, she was mainly working with the other actors. All of it ran smoothly and the production pace increased tremendously.

It was said that Chloe still refused to back down, and wanted to file a lawsuit against the Holder family's crew. However, with the surveillance footage firmly in their hands, winning was an impossibility for her. Chloe had not been discharged from the hospital yet, but she was already going around asking for money to fund her company.

While all of that was in motion, Nicole was just waiting for Jared and Lloyd's investigation to be completed, so that she could sit back and reap the benefits.

She fell deep into her thoughts after talking to Zane on the phone.

On the other end, things were running smoothly for Jared as well. He had already found the key person and could already gain a rough estimation of where the Brave was located. When all of the locations were finalized, he would contact Zane and commence his operation.

If they succeeded, they might even be able to retrieve all of the Braves.

When Nicole had figured it out, she went downstairs for breakfast. It was the weekend, and so, her family was at home. Nicole had gotten the weekends off because she had sped through the shooting of all of her scenes for the past few days.

Samuel and Spencer were stunned when they saw Nicole walking down the stairs in carefree fashion. "Don't you need to film today?"

Nicole shook her head. "Nah, I'm done with the scenes that were scheduled on the weekends, so I can rest." "Damn... You're such a pro! I heard it's hard to be an actress, and many of them tend to drag the production on. You're awesome!" "Yeah, they shot my scenes first because they did not want to take more of my time. So, my scenes are back-to-back, and it's more convenient for me since I'm the one who's in control," she explained, as it was obvious that the production process would be quicker if there were no mistakes on her part.

"I'll be working with other actors later, so I probably won't be able to keep this pace anymore," she added.

She would not even know whether she would have free time to spare on the weekends.

"That's great. We've missed you." Samuel looked at Nicole with deep longing in his eyes. "Ever since Mr. Johnston started taking you to and back from school, we've rarely seen you."

Nicole always got home after 10 pm, when they were already fast asleep.

"Me too," Nicole lied. She did not miss the noisy twins at all.

Spencer chuckled and pulled out a seat next to him for Nicole. "Take a seat. Let's have breakfast together."

The trio continued conversing as Stanley came downstairs, scratching his head. His hair was in a mess, and it seemed that he had been working until late at night. He had probably even gone to bed without taking a shower.

"Stanley, your dark eye circles are becoming even more prominent," Spencer commented as he thought that Stanley looked ghoulish.

Samuel too saw how disheveled he looked and with a sigh, he teased, "Yeah. You're still at a healthy age, so don't push yourself too hard. I fear that you might damage your kidneys." "Shut up! Even if they're damaged, they still won't be as bad as yours." Stanley barked back after Samuel had ribbed him.

"Pfft! Want to duke it out? I'm the basketball team captain. What makes you think I'll lose to a nerd such as yourself?" Samuel said, looking unconvinced.

Seeing this, Spencer added fuel to the fire. "Good idea, but how are you going to compare your kidneys? Only your girlfriends can do that for you."

Suddenly, Samuel and Stanley threw stare daggers at him as they bellowed, in unison, "Keep your mouth shut!"

He was rubbing salt into the wound, as none of them had girlfriends, and Spencer was laughing so hard that he began tearing up.

Samuel and Stanley's faces turned red when they realized that Nicole was there too.

Unable to stand it any longer, Samuel got up and smacked Spencer on the back of the head. "Shut up! I'll beat you up!"

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1769

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1769-Though Stanley did not hit Spencer, he was cheering Samuel on. "Nice! He deserved it!"

The dining area was noisy, with Gloria and Daniel being able to hear them before they had even gotten downstairs.

"What are you talking about? You're all so cheery in the morning." Gloria walked over with a smile.

The twins got their act together the instant they saw their mother.

Samuel then rolled his eyes at Spencer. "This jerk was saying nasty things in front of Nicole."

Gloria's expression changed immediately. "Spencer, how could you do that?"

11

Hearing that, Spencer became dispirited and turned to glare at Samuel." Snitch."

Once Gloria and Daniel had sat down, the three brothers started to behave.

Sean and Steve were the last to join them, but they had been working in their study room long before they made their way downstairs. They were very well-dressed too, looking as if they had plans for later.

“Sean and Steve, why are you dressed in such fancy clothing?” “Are you going out?” Samuel and Spencer asked.

Sean nodded. “Yeah, Steve and I won the tender. The partnering company is holding a banquet today, and everyone who participated in the bid has to join the banquet, so that they may have a chance to work together in the future.” “You won?” Spencer laughed. “Is it because Nicole has found their reserve price?”

Steve chuckled and looked at Nicole with admiration. “Not only that, but Nicole also discovered that they will cheat. They even threatened us when we won the bid, and... that was when we put the document that Nicole had given us to good use.”

When Daniel saw that Steve was smirking, he asked, “What document? I’ve been curious these days too. When Howdy Corporation came to you the other day, they probably did not come in peace. So, how and why did they leave in such a state of disgrace?”

Steve went on to reveal the truth when he saw how curious his father was. “Nicole found their core account when she hacked into their computer. In other words, we have evidence of them committing to tax evasion. If we expose them, they’re going to jail!”

And when Daniel finally understood what was going on, he was shocked.

“Nicole... You actually got your hands on their accounts?”

That was a classified document of a company, and thus, every company would do their utmost to protect theirs. They would even use the best system to secure it, and yet, Nicole was still able to access it.

“Yeah, it’s nothing,” Nicole said coolly, which served to shock them even more.

Something that easy for her would be an arduous task for every hacker and Network Security Officer in their company. Still, it was just a walk in the park for her.

“Nicole... Will you be caught?” Gloria asked, worried as she looked at Nicole.

The other party got a hold of their reserve price through despicable means and had done their bidding with malice not once, but twice. All Nicole had done was give them a taste of their own medicine, and everyone in her family agreed that it was a reasonable thing to do. Still, they did not want her to get into hot soup for it.

“Don’t worry, mom.” Nicole comforted Gloria. “I didn’t leave any traces behind, so they’re still probably oblivious to who had leaked their accounts.”

Everyone was relieved when she said that, but they were still in awe of her.

“Nicole. Where did you acquire your hacking skills? From your organization? Are they that good?”

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1770

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1770-Nicole nodded. “Yeah. When I’m not out on missions, I’ll be in charge of protecting the system and software. The enemies are all professionals from different countries, so I had to be the best.”

To her, perfecting everything was nothing but normal.

But Spencer and Samuel were even more excited. “Nicole... No wonder you don’t even care about Ryder!” “You’re on the same level as the top professional hackers!”

Sean and Steve exchanged looks. ‘These fools still don’t know that their sister is the greatest hacker in the world.’

But Daniel had too many shocking things happen these days, so Sean and Steve decided not to announce this secret.

They then talked about serious matters. “But after that, our company’s system received a lot of attacks. I think the Howdy Corporation is desperately trying to counterattack.”

Nicole looked at Sean and responded, “Don’t worry. I’ll create a firewall after I’m done eating.”

Whoever wanted to mess with her family had to go through her first!

Saen smiled at Nicole’s response.

A firewall that was set up by a professional like Nicole was impossible for the local hackers to break, which was why he was relieved.

The family ate their breakfast happily while Spencer and Samuel started talking about school.

“Without Raine and Snow, the school has been nothing but heaven.”

When Raine got expelled, Karen could not even get Mr. Riddle Sr. to help her. So, when Snow got expelled this time, none of them went to Mr. Riddle Sr. for help.

Daniel and Gloria knew that Nicole would never bully someone, so Snow and Raine got what they deserved.

But Gloria suddenly remembered someone.

“Nicole, I went online and saw that Chloe got into trouble... Do you know what happened? She was in the ‘Lukewarm’ drama too.”

She did not follow the entertainment industry, and Nicole had been very low -key. Nicole and Lloyd went viral once, which was why Gloria remembered the name ‘Lukewarm’.

But the court case of Chloe versus ‘Lukewarm’ was already spreading internationally.

“I’ve seen the news. Chloe is paralyzed, but the production crew doesn’t want to compensate her. They even demanded she pay the production crew three times more... What’s going on?”

Nicole knew that her family was bound to find out about this. But since they were all busy, none of them paid attention to it.

But she did not want Gloria to worry too much, so she said briefly, “Don’t worry. The production crew isn’t rejecting a debt. Chloe violated the safety measures and injured herself. That’s why they wanted her to pay them.”

Gloria felt better. “I see. I’m glad to hear that.”

She was relieved when she knew that her daughter was fine in the production crew.

“Chloe went to your production crew? When was this?” Steve arched his eyebrow. ‘Chloe probably had some bad intentions when she joined Nicole’s production crew. She was always eyeing Nicole.’ “I have no idea. I saw her when the drama started filming. But it’s not important now. She doesn’t have the chance to go there anymore,” Nicole replied flatly as she did not want to talk about this further.

Sean frowned when he saw Nicole’s reaction.

He knew in his gut that something likely happened between Chloe and Nicole.